FUTURE QUEEN SHOWN ITALY IN ALL ITS COLOR

Vast Pageant Marks Eve of Wedding.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

ROME, Jan. 7.—Crown Prince Humbert, handsome heir to the Italian throne, sat today in a reviewing stand on top of Quirinal hill, where once stood the baths of Constantine I., the Christian emperor, and pointed out to Princess Marie Jose, his Belgian princess, whom he will marry tomorrow, the people of the various regions of Italy, over which she will one day be queen.

His blonde princess sat beside him, watching with eyes wide with wonder, as selected elements of the peasantry and traditionalism of Italy, Premier Mussolini's pride, danced and marched before her in a pageantry of youth, beauty, and song, which the seven hills of Rome and the people on them have not seen since the triumph of Augustus, which today's colorful panorama distinctly recalled.

Procession Lasts Three Hours.

Over four miles of streets these people of Italy and its colonies marched, pausing from time to time to dance and sing, in a procession which lasted three hours.

The richness and color of rural life was depicted in them. It was also such a spectacular display of Mediterranean beauty and color which satisfied even the Italian eye. Bronze and buxom Junos from Sicily, fine featured Florentine Minervas, Parthenopic and Neapolitan Venuses, Venetian Helens, blonde Demeters from Lombardy, dark Sardinian Didos and lithesome Persephones from Piedmont, with flowers, spectral brocades, and sylvan tunes, were in the parade, and such was their charm that hundreds of thousands of people who fought to get in front line places along the route were literally fought back by several thousand soldiers, policemen, and black shirt militia.

Circus Climactic Spectacle.

This Roman circus of rural Italy, in which of course those who marched in peasant dress were nevertheless staying in the city's de luxe hotels, was planned as a climactic spectacle on the eve of Crown Prince Humbert's and Princess Marie Jose's nuptials. In Europe princes and princesses are always paradoxically associated with picturesque peasantry. The scheme also fitted admirably with Premier Mussolini's back to land movement and his announcement that next year will be the Virgilian year.

Accordingly, Mussolini, state officials, and royal families and visiting nuptial guests were gathered to see the ceremonies which were staged this afternoon following the state visit which King Albert, Queen Elizabeth, Princess Marie Jose, and the rest of the Belgian royal family paid to Pope Pius XI. and Vatican City with the same solemn protocol which marked the visit of the Italian sovereigns. To visit the pontiff Princess Marie Jose, the snow princess, wore a black dress.

Two reviewing stands were erected on each side of the Piazza Quirinal to see the pageant of peasantry. On one side were Premier Mussolini and members of the government and state officials, while in the reviewing stand on the other side were the prince and the princess, the Italian and Belgian sovereigns, and all the remainder of the twilight royalty of Europe, here for tomorrow's events.

5,000 March in Parade.

Early this morning 5,000 principals of the parade, with their floats and animals, mostly huge white and dun colored oxen, covered with rich brocaded and hand woven cloth, were assembled on the north side of Rome, near the modern barracks which was once the camp of the Pretorian guard.

At 2:30 o'clock a group of trumpeters preceding the Sardinian delegation, which was chosen to head the parade because the house of Savoy had its beginnings in Sardinia, sounded the fanfare before the royal grandstands.

Police and soldiers were bucking the front line of the crowds something after the manner of five yard line goal plunges in American football games. Quirinal square was richly colored with oriflammes and red rugs hung over the balconies of adjoining buildings.

Sardinians Lead Pageant.

The Sardinians, with their black, green and red costumes and fez hats of the men and gold earringed and baroque bejeweled women, began dancing with maenadic frenzy across the piazza. Princess Marie Jose leaned forward in her chair resting her chin

Delegates May Lop Off 200,000 Tons.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The American delegation will leave for the London naval reduction conference Thursday prepared to slash at least 200,000 tons from the United States navy, cut two 10,000 ton cruisers from its building program, and agree to a further battleship building holiday.

As learned today, the United States is prepared to postpone all battleship replacements which would begin in 1931 under the Washington treaty for a term of years, reduce the battleship tonnage permitted by the Washington treaty, cut two vessels from its fifteen cruiser building program, reduce submarine strength by from 20,000 to 30,000 tons, and cut down this country's 300,000 tons of destroyers by from 100,000 to 150,000 tons. Such reductions to be made only in case proportionate cuts were made by the other powers.

President Gives "Pep" Talk.

This phase of the American program at London became known following a White House breakfast conference at which President Hoover bade Godspeed to the delegates and impressed upon them his desire that real reduction be effected at the conference. The President urged the delegates, in what was later described as a "pep" talk, to be conciliatory to the representatives of the other powers and to work for an agreement which would leave each of the signatory powers with a sense of security and satisfaction.

In a later statement issued at a conference with the press President Hoover spoke optimistically of the future for the conference, and asserted that the "progress of peace for the world rests in a great measure upon the shoulders of the five delegations." He referred to the approaching parley as the most important of international conferences of a great many years, and probably "the most important for many years to come."

Face Great Obstacles.

The President showed considerable feeling in discussing his campaign for curtailment of the world's fleets. He asserted the belief that the five nations attending the conference were desirous of peace, but warned not to expect too quick an agreement. In the President's opinion it would be a great accomplishment if the conference were completed in three or four months. While admitting that the obstacles facing the conference are great, he said they were not insurmountable.

The President did not give his delegates any set instructions, as he felt they were all indoctrinated with the feeling that the United States wants parity and real reduction in any agreement arrived at. Mr. Hoover considers that the delegates have become naval technologists through their study, and are now better prepared on the naval question than he is. It was said that Mr. Hoover is prepared to give encouragement and complete support for such conclusions as are reached by his delegation. Decisions, however, will be referred to the White House for approval.

No Definite Figures.

No definite figures have been made public, but it is believed the American delegation is ready to consent to the elimination of two or three battleships. At present the United States has eighteen battleships, and would have fifteen in 1942 if the Washington treaty replacement program were carried out.

How much of a battleship tonnage reduction this country is willing to make still is in doubt, but it would not be surprising if the delegation is ready to cut between 50,000 and 100,000 tons from the 525,000 ton total in case Great Britain and Japan made proportionate reductions.

Stimson Farewell Talk.

That reduction of battleship tonnage and postponement of the approaching capital ship replacement program are considered of great importance to the Hoover administration was revealed in a farewell message to the American public issued by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson prior to his departure for New York. Mr. Stimson revealed that the administration is desirous of cutting down the expense of maintaining the pres-

Fraud Victim Shot to Death in His Factory

Jean B. Hassewer, 55 years old, a cabinet manufacturer, who was the complainant against a police sergeant and four other men now under indictment for extortion, was shot and killed yesterday afternoon in his factory at 5642 Lake Park avenue.

His body, with two bullets in the head, was found at the foot of the basement stairs. The bullets had entered the top of his head, and the fifth step from the bottom was blood stained, indicating he had been shot by some one on the landing above as he mounted the staircase. His secretary, Mrs. Marie Ballard, discovered the body at 6:30 p. m.

Sergeant Offers Alibi.

The sergeant, William Begley, a policeman for 20 years prior to his indictment and suspension, was arrested at his home, 1532 East 71st street. Cocking up his feet on the captain's desk in Hyde Park station, Begley offered an alibi in the shooting.

His statement that he had spent the afternoon with his brother, Joseph, also a policeman, who was ill, and had then gone home for supper by street car, was being investigated early this morning. He had been at liberty under bond in the extortion case, as were three of his co-defendants, who are being sought for questioning.

Hassewer was last seen alive by his secretary. When she left the cabinet factory at 4:30 p. m., he was reading a newspaper. He intended taking supper at her home, 5455 Blackstone avenue. When, at 6 o'clock he did not arrive and when telephone calls to the shop went unanswered, the secretary hastened back to the plant in alarm.

Roche Takes Charge.

Upon discovering the body Mrs. Ballard ran to the Hyde Park station three blocks south. Coroner Bundesen and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, took charge of the investigation, Roche having handled the complaint which resulted in the confidence game indictments.

Hassewer's divorced wife, Josephine, was found at 7818 South Sangamon street. She said she had not spoken to Hassewer for seven years. Mrs. Ballard, she declared, had broken up her home.

Hassewer took his complaint to Mr. Roche last Nov. 12. The previous July, he said, he had been persuaded by an acquaintance, J. E. Dewey, 4826 Winthrop avenue, to invest $1,000 in a "money making" machine which was supposed to turn out currency in any denomination desired. The promoters gave a demonstration in which Dewey and Hassewer each received a package they believed contained currency.

The packages contained wet pulp, as Hassewer discovered. Complaining to Dewey, he was told that more serious trouble impended, for federal agents were on the trail of the money makers and Dewey, as an investor, was facing arrest along with the others interested in the machine. A certain police sergeant, Dewey averred, could fix the federal agents. Hassewer paid $1,500 for the fix, he said, and the conspirators demanded more.

Trap Is Sprung.

Roche planted a squad in the cabinet shop. When, on Nov. 13, Dewey brought Sergt. Begley to the shop, both were arrested. Subsequently Howard Ward, Joseph Yerkes, and John Dobbins were arrested and indicted with Dewey and Sergt. Begley. All except Dewey provided bond.

There was a hearing on the extortion case a week ago before Circuit Judge E. I. Frankhauser. Hassewer appeared and told Roche he was ready to testify, but the defendants obtained a continuance to Feb. 24. With the complaining witness dead, Roche said a prosecution of the case was impossible and he predicted it would be stricken from the docket.

BUDGET CHAOS TO COME UP IN COUNCIL SESSION

Treasurer to Shut Off 1930 Loans.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

A breakdown in the city's corporate fiscal affairs now appears to be merely a matter of months. It may be started at the council meeting this afternoon when the mayor vetoes budget items, or it may be deferred until autumn, when the city will be unable to get cash on which to operate.

After borrowing every dollar possible from the banks and its own surplus funds, the city has dipped into its trust and other funds for $11,665,106 to pay salaries and other current expenses. Only the canceled pay checks are in the treasury as security.

Crisis in September.

City Treasurer Peterson and City Controller Schmidt have refused to pay January pay rolls until the $11,665,106 is returned to the treasury, either in cash or legal securities.

That is disturbing but not so alarming as the private statements of Peterson and Schmidt that they will not permit the council to take another $11,000,000 out of trust and surplus funds at the end of this year. If they make good that private threat, the corporate fund will be out of cash about Sept. 1, and with no means of borrowing any, according to present forecasting. It is understood that a taxpayers' suit to hold each of them and their bondsmen liable will be started, if there is any further effort to dig into trust funds for current operations.

In the face of that situation the city council has passed a budget authorizing the expenditure of $55,274,000 during 1930, while the corporate income for the year is estimated at $53,596,540. That assumes that the city would be free to put its hand into its trust funds for approximately $11,000,000 near the end of the year. If the practice of borrowing from the city's trust and surplus funds is stopped, then the city will have only $41,931,000 with which to meet a budget of $55,274,000.

Veto for Budget Today.

The budget is now in the hands of the mayor and last night he was drafting a message which will veto large parts of it at the council meeting this afternoon. This budget eliminated about 2,100 city employés, of whom 473 are policemen, 222 firemen, 197 health employés, and about 400 street cleaners. The mayor is said to want the man power of "essential departments" restored to the 1929 basis.

While Mayor Thompson, Corporation Counsel Ettelson and advisers were considering the budget veto yesterday, the Chicago board of underwriters asserted that the fire department needs 800 more men than were employed last year, instead of a cut of 222. The Chicago fire insurance men said they would be governed by the National Board of Underwriters on the question of an increase in insurance rates.

Other Protests Pile Up.

At the same time the Burglary Insurance association at a meeting in the Palmer house expressed their disapproval of the police reduction. Protest was made by Judge Mary Bartelme against withdrawal of police from the Juvenile court. More protests were made against discharge of playground directors. The firemen's association filed another suit to nullify the lay-off of 222 firemen. The tabulation of births, deaths and cases of diseases was discontinued, despite a state law requiring it.

Three American Legion posts, consisting respectively of policemen, firemen, and city civil service employés, adopted a resolution in joint meeting yesterday asking Mayor Thompson to veto the budget and restore all civil service employés. The three posts have in their membership 2,500 city employés.

Immediate interest of city officials centered in the character of the message which Mayor Thompson will submit to the council this afternoon. It was generally understood that the mayor will veto the appropriations for fire, police, and health.

Would Restore Police.

The plan is to recommend an increase of the police appropriations of $1,063,000. This is to restore the 473 patrolmen laid off last Saturday morning. For the fire department, it is reported that the mayor will ask $456,000 increase for firemen's salaries and $30,000 for supplies. The boost in the health department desired is reported to be $436,000. This is a total boost of $2,425,000.

Some of the mayor's advisers are

Henry J. Cox, Noted Weather Chief, Is Dead

Prof. Henry J. Cox, who had been engaged in weather forecasting longer than any other man in the United States, died last night at 11:15 o'clock in his home at 5222 Blackstone avenue. He had been ill for two years and was confined to his bed about two months ago with an illness which affected his heart. He was 66 years old.

Early yesterday morning Prof. Cox lapsed into unconsciousness and remained thus until his death. At the bedside were his wife, Mrs. Mary Cox; his son, Arthur C. Cox; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louise Bohn Cox, and the attending physician, Dr. Howard Wakefield.

Funeral Service Tomorrow.

Services will be held tomorrow morning at St. Thomas the Apostle church, and interment will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Prof. Cox was a "weather man" all his life. He had intended to become a physician, but upon graduating at Harvard in 1885 the need of an immediate job sent him into the signal corps of the United States army and he was immediately affiliated with the weather bureau, which at that time was a part of the signal corps.

The future principal meteorologist of the United States spent his first six months of weather service at a training school at Fort Myer, Va. He spent a similar period in Chicago, then served a year and a half at Boston, established a forecasting station at Northfield, Vt., and served six years at New Haven, Conn. He became an assistant at Chicago from 1894 to 1898. It was at this time that the title of professor was conferred upon him.

Expanded Service Here.

Prof. Cox, in Chicago, became known for his forecasts of probable weather conditions on the great lakes. His predictions were depended on by shippers and as he grew more familiar with geography of the district, he developed a special service for corn and wheat growers and shippers and for fruit growers in Wisconsin, Michigan and other states.

His unusual thoroughness in basing his forecasts became famous. For two seasons he lived in the cranberry bogs of Wisconsin to study the crops in relation to the weather. He wrote a monograph on the subject which is now used almost universally in the raising of cranberries in Wisconsin, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Prof. Cox was an active member of many scientific societies, chief among them the Geographical Society of Chicago. He was president of the society for many years. During an international conference in England he was awarded a gold medal for his work in connection with weather observations and forecasts.

He was a member of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, Association of American Geographers, and fellow of the American Meteorological society. He was a member of the University, Quadrangle, and Harvard clubs.

MONT PELEE IS IN ERUPTION; LAVA BELCHES FORTH

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

S. S. WESTERN OCEAN, Off the Coast of Martinique, Wednesday, Jan. 8.—Mont Pelee is in violent eruption. Lava is flowing down the mountain sides at 2 a. m. today.

The steamship Western Ocean, northbound from Barbadoes to New York, was due to reach Fort de France, Island of Martinque, at 5 p. m. yesterday, according to Robert J. Noble, general manager of the Western Steamship company, which owns the Western Ocean. The vessel is in charge of Capt. E. R. McCullam. It is possible that the vessel has been delayed in making port by the eruption.

"We heard from Capt. McCullam a week ago, when he informed us that Mont Pelee was erupting," Mr. Noble said, "but we have had no word from him since."

Rosenwald to Marry Today, His Kin Admits

Persistent reports in the last two or three weeks that Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was to be married received partial confirmation last night from a member of his family, although previously relatives and associates of the financier had denied the rumors. The confirmation came from Mrs. Max Adler, 4939 Greenwood avenue, a sister of Mr. Rosenwald.

Although Mrs. Adler declined to be specific about the place of the wedding, she named the bride-to-be, who is Mrs. Adele Goodkind, mother-in-law of Lessing Rosenwald, the son of Julius Rosenwald. Mrs. Goodkind's daughter, Edith, married the younger Rosenwald in 1913.

Question as to Place.

Reports as to where the ceremony would take place were at variance. The first was that it would be in New York, where Mr. Rosenwald has been of late in conference with former President Coolidge and former Gov. Alfred Smith concerning the disposition of the $6,000,000 Hubert estate.

Yesterday, however, Mr. Rosenwald was reported to have left New York to return to Chicago, and this circumstance was believed to support the rumor that he and Mrs. Goodkind would be married today at the home of Lessing Rosenwald in Philadelphia. Asked about this, Mrs. Adler replied with a smile: "Mr. Rosenwald will have an announcement to make in New York on Thursday."

Simplicity to Mark Service.

She added that the ceremony would be conducted with great simplicity, only a few members of the immediate families attending. Afterward, it was reported, the couple will sail on a cruise of the Mediterranean.

In the face of all this, other members of the Rosenwald family continued their denials. Mr. Rosenwald himself, in his last interview in New York, said there was absolutely no truth to the rumors, and one of his daughters, Mrs. David Levy of New York, repeated that the story has no basis.

Mrs. Goodkind's family has been a leader in the social and business life of St. Paul, where they established a department store in 1871. Her husband, Benjamin, died about ten years ago. Three of her children are living. Besides Mrs. Lessing Rosenwald they are Mrs. Herman Felsenthal, 1123 Chatfield road, Winnetka, and Harold Goodkind of New York City.

3 OUTBREAKS OF SMALLPOX KEEP DOCTORS ON JUMP

Three outbreaks of smallpox in different sections of the city kept a force of physicans yesterday and last night busy vaccinating hundreds of persons. Health Commissioner Kegel declared the situation was particularly serious because his field force had been cut by the action of the city council in cutting the appropriation for his department.

The most serious outbreak occurred in the Salvation Army hotel, known as the workingmen's palace, at 623 West Madison street, where two men, John Kelly and William Purdy, vagrants, were discovered to be victims of the disease. Eight doctors worked all night vaccinating 580 occupants of the place.

said to have urged that he also stand for a larger budget for street lighting and for street and alley cleaning. The department of electricity is $941,200 lower than last year and the street bureau was cut $1,526,500 below 1929, lower than last year and the street bureau was cut $1,526,500 below 1929.

The tentative draft of the mayor's veto message, as worded last night, makes an attack on the reassessment of real estate in Cook county and takes a fling at the reformers. It asserts that the mayor has always stood for a budget within the city's revenue, but that an unusual and extreme situation exists at present, and therefore he suggests that the council increase police, fire and health departments to provide the fundamental safeguards of a city. In the preliminary copy a space was left so that the mayor may also request more money for street cleaning and street lighting.

Back on 1929 Basis.

The veto will not only express disapproval of budget items but also nullify the "continuation ordinance of Jan. 2." That ordinance provides that the departments shall spend on the basis of the 1930 budget. At the same time it is planned that the mayor shall permit the continuation order of Dec. 30 to remain in effect. That would that expenditures should be made on the basis of the 1929 budget.

The effect of this procedure, it is claimed, is that department appropriations which the mayor vetoes will operate on the 1929 basis of expenditures, even if the mayor is unable to muster sufficient votes to adopt his recommendations. That scheme is expected to cause a stubborn fight in the council. In addition, the legality of tax anticipation warrants based upon an indefinite continuation ordinance might interfere with their sale.

Veto Will Add to Crisis.

Assuming that the mayor's program, which may be upset by advisers this morning, contemplates adding only $2,425,000 to the corporate budget, the source of the money with which to pay out the appropriations is an acute problem. The $2,425,000 added to the aldermanic budget of $55,274,000 gives a total of $57,699,000. This is $4,103,000 more than the official estimate of the city's corporate revenues, and it is $15,768,000 more than the probable corporate revenue, if the city treasurer and controller decline to permit the use of trust and surplus funds at the end of the year.

Action on the veto probably will be guided in the city council this afternoon by Ald. Nelson, Cronson, and Anderson. They attended the mayor's conference last night with Police Commissioner Russell, Fire Commissioner Goodrich, Health Commissioner Kegel, R. M. Perbohmer of the board of local improvements, Corporation Counsel Ettelson, and his chief assistant, James Breen.

Dilemma on Interest.

It was suggested in this conference that the mayor also veto the amount appropriated to pay interest on tax anticipation warrants. The council's allowance is about $3,000,000 larger than recommended by the city controller. But failure to appropriate for interest might jeopardize the sale of tax anticipation warrants. These must be sold on which to obtain money upon which to operate.

A battle over the mayor's veto is considered certain. Ald. Clark, Maypole, D. A. Horan and others have stated that they will not vote for an unbalanced budget.

A few aldermen advocated yesterday that the council defer action on the mayor's veto this afternoon. They suggested that the city council itself collect and present the facts to the public on the needs of the fire and police departments. They would show up the practices which some claim prevail in the city hall. But perhaps the mayor's forces will outjockey the opposition and get a vote during the afternoon or evening.

FINANCE FIGURES SHOW 2,153 CITY EMPLOYES OUSTED

Approximately 2,153 city employés have been ousted from city service by the 1930 budget, according to figures compiled yesterday by the staff of the council finance committee. Five employés of the city council committees were eliminated and 1,653 employés of various city departments, as follows:

Municipal court	100	Building	11
Corp. counsel	34	Boiler inspection	10
Controller	21	Weights and meas.	18
Treasurer	1	Smoke	11

Five hundred more employés, whose salaries are placed in the budget under lump sum appropriations, have also been let out, according to the staff. Some of these employés work only in the summer, so that the effect of reductions in the appropriations is not yet fully known.

The Underwriters' Statement.

The Chicago board of underwriters' statement was issued yesterday by Fred J. Sauter, president, and Ernest Palmer, manager and general counsel.

"The Chicago Board of Underwriters is definitely opposed to any reduction in the man power of the fire department," says the statement. "The surveys by the engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters in 1922 and again in 1925 disclosed that the department was then seriously undermanned.

"The present reduction places the department under a still greater handicap, and this is especially true in view of a growing population, increasing property values, and increasing areas requiring protection. To reduce further the number of men in a department already seriously undermanned is a dangerous expedient. Efficient fire fighters cannot be developed over night to meet the ever present danger of a conflagration or other serious emergency.

Other Cities Compared.

"Although Chicago is the second largest city in the nation, the number of firemen available for duty per 100,000 of population before the present reduction was materially below the average for the ten largest cities in the United States. Chicago needs 800 additional men in its fire force at this time in order to bring it up in man power to the average number available in the ten largest cities.

"Arrangements have already been made to have a complete resurvey by National Board of Fire Underwriters engineers within the next few months, and the Chicago Board of Underwriters will naturally be guided by the facts which that survey discloses.

"Pending this report of the department's inability to cope with the situation, no action with respect to increase in fire insurance rates will be taken, but it is evident that if a material increase in the loss ratio develops, an increase in insurance rates is inevitable.

Goodrich Is Commended.

"During his term of office Commissioner Goodrich has materially increased the efficiency of the fire department, considering the handicaps which he was required to meet as a result of the undermanned condition of the department. It is regrettable that the progress the department has made is now jeopardized and that the city is subjected to an increased danger to life and property.

"Previous to the action of the city council on the budget, the engineers of the national board of fire underwriters and the Chicago board of underwriters and its officers appeared before the city authorities, stated the facts above outlined, and counseled against any reduction in the man power of the department.

"The Chicago board of underwriters is hopeful that the city authorities may yet find ways and means to meet this emergency. Therefore, the Chicago board of underwriters and the national board of fire underwriters feel it their duty to urge and recommend that the city council reconsider its action with regard to the reduction in man power of the fire department."

EX-OFFICIAL OF SHOP OWNERS SENT TO PRISON

Robert J. Tufts, 41 years old, former secretary of the Open Shop Employing Printers' association, 53 West Jackson boulevard, was sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Harry Fisher in the Criminal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. He is alleged to have stolen $30,000 while employed by the association.

Tufts tried to justify his acts by explaining his duties in supervising the activities of printers opposed to the union. He said he thought the amount nearer $5,000 than the sum charged. Judge Fisher refused to listen to his plea for leniency.

REPORT 66% RISE IN ROBBERY SINCE OUSTER OF COPS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Willie Hollis, Thomas Conley, and Joe Harris, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in the penitentiary; Robert W. Allen, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary, by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Clarence Nelson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Jacob Hopkins.

Eugene Tabis and Harry Edwards, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary; Joseph Murphy, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Judge John P. McGoorty.

Robert J. Tufts, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry Fisher.

The number of robberies in Chicago has increased 66 per cent since the ouster of 473 policemen at the order of the city council, according to a report submitted yesterday to Police Commissioner Russell. Robberies are considered by the police as a barometer of crime conditions and the increase in this criminal activity was pointed to as an indication of what Chicago may expect unless the police department is restored to full strength.

The report covered two week-end periods, one immediately preceding the discharge of the policemen and the other immediately following. The two week-ends are those of Dec. 28, 29, and 30, and Jan. 4, 5, and 6. The comparative figures are as follows:

	Robberies.	Burglaries.	Larcenies.
Dec. 28-30	59	36	25
Jan. 4-6	98	27	30

Robbery, according to Col. Philip R. Crippen, secretary of the police department, is a more serious crime than burglary and the chance of the victim's being killed is greater.

Crime Tide Sweeps On.

Banditry, burglary, and theft continued unabated yesterday and last night as the police were investigating two major crimes of the preceding night—a $25,000 jewel robbery in a gold coast residence and a $20,000 safe robbery in Mandel Bros.' garage.

A $10,000 theft by trickery came to light yesterday when officials of the Cunningham Radio corporation, 589 East Illinois street, found an order from the Zenith Radio corporation, 3620 Iron street, to be faked. Two men, who presented the order at the Cunningham plant on Monday, loaded 128 cases of radio tubes into a truck and drove off.

Balks Two Safeblowers.

An attempt of two safeblowers to get at $2,500 in cash in two safes in the offices of the Public Health institute, 159 North Dearborn street, was frustrated by the arrival of the engineer, Gus Wagner, 918 Milwaukee avenue. The burglars, who were preparing to touch off a dynamite charge when Wagner entered the office, dropped their tools, bound the engineer and fled.

Eight crates of live poultry and 100 cases of eggs, valued collectively at $1,500, comprised the loot of five highwaymen who at 15th street and the drainage canal seized a truck of the A. C. Golk company, commission merchants of 1815 West Lake street.

Jerome Robinson, owner of a shirt shop at 749 East 63d street, lost $275 to a stickup pair. Both armed, the men locked him in a rear room.

Withdrawal of police guards for patrol duty brought two complaints yesterday. Steve Barcal, 19 years old, 5915 South Artesian avenue, escaped down a city hall fire escape while awaiting examination in the psychopathic laboratory on the eighth floor. Withdrawal of the police guard from the laboratory was the cause of his escape, according to the staff.

First Assistant State's Attorney Northup protested to Police Commissioner Russell against the withdrawal of a guard from the home of William Ranieri, father of Billy Ranieri, the kidnaping victim. Ranieri, who has frequently been threatened with death for prosecuting the kidnapers, is in extreme danger, Northup said, in urging retention of the guard at the Ranieri home.

Fail to Identify Robbers.

Five employés of Mandel Bros. garage at 3949 Schubert avenue, who were trussed up by seven shotgun bandits before dawn yesterday, viewed photographs of suspects at the bureau of identification, but recognized none of the robbers.

Charles M. Richter, wealthy magazine publisher, his wife, Jean, and their servants, who were subdued by five robbers in the Richter home at 1418 Lake Shore drive on Monday night, also failed to identify photographs at the bureau.

NEW ENSEMBLES
With the Verve of the South

The new tendency is for femininity in every way. Woolens woven lacier and more delicate, even with light color and texture, carry this feeling through the mode. And so we have the softer blouse, the longer skirt, sometimes flared or with confined fullness. And the jacket that does not stop at a medium line—it is long or short and sometimes one jacket is both.

Cravat silks are an interesting medium. With patterns woven and not printed. Many a formal ensemble is a lovely frock with jacket edged in wide fox—the fabric then is printed crepe.

The ensemble carries the detail of Vionnet even to the trimming on the silk blouse. Note the small caracul collar and the leather belt. $195.

The other is from Augustabernard. Pinched-in back to the coat—the blouse is satin. There's a slight flare to the almost straight skirt. Developed in soft woolen. $175.

O'BRIEN'S DYING STATEMENTS TO ACCUSE DORR

Two deathbed statements by William J. O'Brien, naming Samuel Howard Dorr as the man who shot him, will be related to a jury today in Judge Harry B. Miller's court where Dorr is on trial for the murder of O'Brien. The state is demanding the death penalty.

Judge Miller's ruling that the state may introduce a signed statement and an oral statement made by O'Brien, a former clerk in the county recorder's office, as he lay mortally wounded in Holy Cross hospital, came late in the first day of testimony yesterday. The jury was excluded during most of the day while the court heard testimony and arguments concerning the admissibility of three statements made by O'Brien. One of the three was ruled out.

The admissibility of testimony as to the reenacting of the shooting in the O'Brien flat, above that of the Dorrs, at 7328 South Maplewood avenue, and of the alleged confessions made to the police by Dorr and Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien, widow of the slain man, will be argued before the court today. Mrs. O'Brien is alleged to have been Dorr's

Defendant Seems Shaken.

Dorr wilted visibly when Judge Miller ruled that O'Brien's statements might be introduced as evidence.

In his freshly pressed tan suit, with tie, shirt and socks to match, his manner impressive, his eyes clear, Dorr throughout most of the day listened critically to all that went on. Two actresses among the women who had seats in the courtroom eyed him approvingly.

In the corridors leading to the courtroom crowds of curious were gathered and more than a dozen deputy sheriffs kept the lines in order.

Late in the afternoon Deputy Police Commissioner Stege took the witness stand and, with the jury still absent, described the taking of written confessions from Mrs. O'Brien and Dorr, and the re-enacting of the scene of the murder on the afternoon of Nov. 11, a few hours before the death of O'Brien, who was shot on the previous morning.

Mrs. Dorr Weeps Again.

During the cross-examination of Deputy Commissioner Stege by Arthur Carlsten, who is assisting Barratt O'Hara as defense counsel, Mrs. Rose Dorr, wife of the defendant, broke down for the first time during the day.

Carlsten asked Stege if Dorr had not made his statement to the police in the belief that his wife was in police custody. Stege denied that was the case and Mrs. Dorr clenched her hands and wept.

For the most part she sat tense and drawn, but controlled, by far the most dramatic figure in the courtroom.

O'Brien's father, Don O'Brien, superintendent of warehouses for the election commission, followed a coroner's physician, Dr. Chester C. Guy, and Nicholas Pavletic, interne in Holy Cross hospital, on the witness stand. The jury was excluded and the elder O'Brien told of hearing his son's dying statements.

"Howard Dorr shot me, dad," the younger O'Brien told his father, the latter testified. "Gen and Dorr framed me, dad," he said his son had told him.

Captain and Doctor Testify.

Acting Capt. Joseph Dubach of the Chicago Lawn police and Dr. Frank G. Schick, the O'Brien family physician, corroborated the elder O'Brien's testimony as to the oral statement O'Brien made on Nov. 20, the day of the shooting, in which he named Dorr as the man who shot him. An earlier statement, in which O'Brien identified Dorr, standing at his bedside, as his assailant, was ruled out by the court.

In the prosecution's opening statement, Assistant State's Attorney Walker Butler said the state expected to show that Dorr was behind in his accounts as insurance salesman and that his friendship with O'Brien's wife led him to believe that if O'Brien were dead he would share largely in the latter's insurance policies, worth $7,000. It was a case of "mercenary murder," and the state would demand the death penalty, Butler said.

Attorney O'Hara indicated that he would make his fight to save Dorr on a plea of self-defense. His opening statement led to a wrangle among opposing counsel.

O'Hara Makes Objection.

"Your honor, if the state is permitted to draw the picture that this was an illicit relationship and that Dorr was up there in Mrs. O'Brien's bedroom all night and for no good purpose, then this jury or any jury will say that Dorr ought to go to the chair," Attorney O'Hara said.

"If the state's statement is untrue, then what was he there for?" Judge Miller asked.

"To defend Mrs. O'Brien," O'Hara replied. "And Mrs. Dorr was with him."

"That's foolish," said Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne.

The court ruled that no details could be admitted.

2 HUNTERS DIE AS AUTO SKIDS AND HITS TRUCK

Two hunters were killed and a third was probably fatally injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on the ice covered pavement of Roosevelt road at Gray's Mills, two miles east of West Chicago in Du Page county. The machine crashed into a heavy truck. The dead are:

Carl Erzberger, 74 years old, 6946 South Bishop street. Struck by a taxi cab at 79th and Bishop streets. The driver, Stanley Banik, 4319 South Kedzie avenue, was held.

Stephen Wilhelm, 18 years old, 1442 Edgewater avenue, driver of the car which fatally injured Mrs. Laura M. Eaton, 79 years old, 1717 North Shore avenue, on Dec. 27, was held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter by a coroner's jury.

KILLED IN PAPER MACHINERY.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Frank Kosinski, 19, was instantly killed today in a fall into a rapidly whirling paper making machine at the plant of the Rockford Fibre Container company. Adam Kosinski, the youth's father and foreman of the factory, removed the body from the machine.

Three Day Test

Two hundred and twenty-five seniors at Rush, Northwestern university, Loyola university, and the University of Illinois medical schools took their first day civil service examinations yesterday for entry as internes at Cook county hospital. Two vacant wards of the hospital are being used for the three day examination.

PREDICTED COLD SNAP DODGES CENTRAL STATES

A low pressure area in the St. Lawrence river basin diverted from the central states yesterday the zero wave which had been predicted.

The temperature, which was expected to skid to 10 above zero yesterday morning in Chicago, was checked in descent at 22 degrees, the reading at 7 a. m.

Meanwhile the northwestern states and middle Ontario were in the grip of the cold snap, which passed north of the great lakes region.

Blimp Effects Rescue of Couple Adrift 30 Hours

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Adrift for 30 hours in their open launch, Mr. and Mrs. John Lovett of Tampa were rescued from Tampa bay late today by coast guardsmen who were notified of their predicament by operators of the Goodyear blimp Vigilant, which sighted the craft while circling the bay.

CHILDREN BACK WITH MOTHER AFTER 14 YEARS

Robert E. Richardson of 2347 Altgeld street isn't the kind of a stepfather you read about in fiction. With no children of his own, he opened his home and his heart yesterday to three sons of his wife by a former marriage, from whom necessity separated her fourteen years ago. Two of the boys, Charles Finnen, 16, and James, 14, arrived from Boston, where they had remained in the care of the state welfare department after the death of their father.

On the station platform as their train arrived were their mother, Mrs. Minnie Richardson; their stepfather and the 13 year old sister, Dorothy, who was born after the death of her father.

Another older son, Donald, 18, is in a technical school in Boston and will come to Chicago later.

BRITON'S FAITH IN HUMANKIND COSTS $33,000

Victim of "Con" Men in Stock Deals.

David W. Tinkham of 8 Prince of Wales road, Bournemouth, England, acquired a great faith in mankind as he accumulated $100,000 in the importing business, and then he and his wife came to America, retaining that abiding conviction. But after their visit to the detective bureau yesterday they decided to return to Merry England, where honesty still prevails.

The Tinkhams, sadder and wiser and poorer by $33,600, told Sergts. Roy Van Herik and William Murphy how they turned their money over to a financial wizard and a decent appearing young chap from Canada. They had implicit confidence that the aforesaid gentlemen were to meet them in Chicago on Monday and hand over winnings Mr. Tinkham thought he made on the stock exchanges of El Paso, Tex., and Reno, Nev.

Meet Lonely Canadian.

Mr. Tinkham is a distinguished gentleman in the 50's, with goatee and mustache, and Mrs. Tinkham is tall, stately and dignified. He was born in this country, but has lived in England for forty years, and when he sold his business last fall he brought his wife to Boston. Then they went to Florida and California and Dec. 22 they were in El Paso where Mr. Tinkham made the acquaintance of Walter Spencer of Calgary, who was homesick for Christmas in Canada.

The Tinkhams were sorry for his loneliness. Then Spencer thought he recognized in another stranger a friend of one of his acquaintances, Judge Baker of New York. The second stranger repulsed him at first, asking him if he were a reporter, and then welcomed him, explaining he was avoiding reporters.

Spencer induced the stranger, who said he was James W. Barker, an employé of the New York stock exchange, to talk about himself, which Barker reluctantly but modestly did. He produced a newspaper clipping that contained his photograph and told how he made money for the poor by giving stock market information.

Barker sent Spencer to the "stock exchange" with a check for $1,000 and Spencer came back with $3,000 in cash. Spencer was then sent back with a check for $75,000 and came back with a bundle of money supposed to be $235,000, but right behind him was the manager of the "stock exchange," who doubted the genuineness of the $75,000 check and took back the $235,000 until he could be shown that Barker could have paid his loss if there had been a loss. But Barker didn't want the New York stock exchange to know he was speculating, so it was arranged that Spencer should get $30,000, Barker $15,000, and if Tinkham furnished $30,000 he would share in the winnings.

Tinkham sent to England for £7,000, and the three moved over to Reno, where they collected the package of $235,000, but it was in escrow till they could convince the "stock exchange" they could have paid losses. That necessitated Barker's going to Canada to get real money and then they were to meet Tinkham here.

"That story is as old as Chicago," Lieut. William Crot told the trusting Tinkhams. "Look through the rogues' gallery and see if you can find pictures of Spencer and Barker."

MOTHER GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE GANGSTER'S LIFE

While physicians at the Chicago General hospital were last night preparing to perform a blood transfusion in an effort to save the life of James McManus, 32 year old gangster who was shot in a gun battle early yesterday, the parents of the victim appeared at the hospital. The mother gave a pint of her blood.

McManus, who gave his address as 154 West Harrison street, Oak Park, was found wounded at Lincoln and Diversey avenues, holding two revolvers and an automatic pistol. Policeman Thomas Green of the Sheffield station, who helped take him to the hospital, had heard several shots shortly before.

McManus has a twenty year police record and police suspect he may have been shot in an attempt to hijack a load of liquor.

OPEN RUM TRIAL OF EAST CHICAGO MAYOR, 26 OTHERS

11 Not Apprehended in Third Conspiracy Case.

The mayor, the chief of police and most of his force, and a select handful of leading citizens and bootleggers of East Chicago became defendants yesterday in the third trial of the large rum conspiracy cases started in northern Indiana last fall. Twenty-seven defendants were lined before the bar in Federal Judge Slick's court at Hammond.

Mayor Raleigh P. Hale, a practicing physician, took his seat behind the railing twenty-four hours after he had been acclaimed at the beginning of his second term as East Chicago's mayor. Beside him sat his police chief, James Regan, a former Chicago police sergeant, and next was Chief of Detectives Martin Zarkovich. Capt. Edward Knight sat on the mayor's left, and close at hand were Attorneys Lester Ottenheimer and Hyman Cohen, the latter a strong Watson supporter in Lake county.

The remaining defendants were minor policemen and bootleggers, accused with the others in performing 2,400 overt acts against the prohibition law which include counts charging them with importing whisky and fine liquors from a dozen European countries.

Eleven jurors were obtained yesterday before the panel was exhausted, and the jury box probably will be filled this morning. The government, in the persons of United States Attorney Oliver Loomis of South Bend and Earl J. Davis of Detroit, a former assistant United States attorney general, hopes to begin the presentation of evidence by noon.

Eighteen Attorneys Present.

Two-thirds as many lawyers as defendants filled the part of the courtroom allotted to those on trial. Eighteen attorneys were ringed about the defendants. There were to have been forty-one men placed on trial, but Mr. Loomis yesterday dismissed charges against three—Nicholas Makar, Mike Pribanich, and James Gayor—while the remainder have not been apprehended.

The prosecution is closely guarding the nature of its evidence, and hints were thrown yesterday that several witnesses have disappeared or refused to testify since the indictments were returned at South Bend early in October. One of the witnesses, however, is expected to be Nick Marovich, a Leavenworth convict, who testified before the grand jury. His brother, Urosh Marovich, was slain in a Hammond beer war on Easter morning, 1928, and Nick is reported to have used information of his brother's associates in his secret testimony.

JULIA UNCOVERS PAUL'S DECEIT; ROMANCE ENDS

"Darling Julia," he said, as she raised the window, "some cruel robbers waylaid me when you turned me out after our quarrel last night. See my head."

Greatly moved Julia bade him to come inside. She was tenderly bathing his gashed forehead when Police Chief Walter Henderson arrived at the summons of her parents. The chief urged Paul to tell him all about it.

"Well, there were three of them and they took me for $200," Paul began. Julia abruptly ceased her ministrations.

"You never had $200 in your life," she accused. Then Paul hung his head and admitted he had picked up a brick, smote his cranium, and returned to Julia's house, hoping to win her pity after failing to keep her love. Julia told him to begone and never again return.

Other indictments returned yesterday named Earl Stevens, 33 years old, 3978 Ellis avenue, for violation of the Dyer act, and David Rappaport and Mrs. Annabelle Catanzaro for drug violations. Mrs. Catanzaro was arrested last Saturday while attempting to smuggle narcotics to her husband, James, in the county jail.

DISCUSS MOVIE UNION DEMAND FOR 6 DAY WEEK

Chicago motion picture exhibitors divided forces yesterday afternoon in their annual wage negotiations with officers of the Motion Picture Operators' union.

Both groups of movie theater owners and representatives met with labor and discussed the demands of the union for a six day week. The exhibitors conducted negotiations as individual units, the large theater interests meeting in one room, while the smaller exhibitors met in an assembly room adjoining.

Willing to Renew Contract.

Jack Miller, business manager of the Exhibitors' association of Chicago [the large exhibitors], informed the union delegation that the association was willing to renew last year's pact with no alterations. Thomas Maloy headed the union committee, and he was assisted by Thomas Reynolds, Robert Burns, Ralph O'Hara and Hal Johnstone. Edward Donovan represented the film delivery truck drivers. Miller and the union officials will meet again today.

The small exhibitors didn't meet with much success in their conference. This group severed connections with the exhibitors' regular organization and is now called the Illinois Independent Exhibitors' association. Former Judge Emanuel Eller is the association's legal adviser, but shortly after discussion started Maloy requested Eller to leave the conference room, as he was not an exhibitor. Eller complied with the request.

Ask Wage Reduction.

The small exhibitors advocated a wage reduction of approximately 50 per cent for permit men and the union delegation left the conference room when the theater owners persisted in this demand. It was pointed out the operators now receive a minimum of $71 a week and a maximum in some instances of $160 a week. Terms of the union agreement expire on Jan. 11.

Illinois Commerce Board Grants Aldermen's Plea

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The Illinois commerce commission today continued until Jan. 14 the case of the Central Northwest Business Men's association against the Chicago carrier lines, in which the commission is asked to order the installation of feeder buses. The hearing is to be held in Chicago.

Prior to entering the order for a continuance, the commission heard a committee of Chicago aldermen, who urged the necessity of intervention by the state commission. No intimation was given as to the commission's attitude, but members of the council committee expressed satisfaction with its evidence of interest in the Chicago traction problem. They felt, they said, that progress had been made as a result of the discussion in Springfield.

Kuhn Presides at Hearing.

The aldermanic committee consisted of Thomas J. Bowler, William B. Meyerling, George Self, Thomas F. Byrne, and Arthur F. Albert. In the absence Chairman Charles W. Hadley, who is ill at his home in Wheaton, Commissioner J. Paul Kuhn presided at the hearing.

Ald. Bowler reviewed the efforts of the council to have provided adequate transportation for Chicago's outlying districts, which, he said, dated back to 1924.

Confer with Council.

The committee's inability to get results, he said, was due to failure of the transportation lines to put forth a basis on which binding agreements could be entered into. Representatives sent to confer with the council committee were not authorized to say the last word, and it was impossible to work out a definite solution while this situation existed, he said.

Girl of 15 Asks Divorce; Charges Force in Ceremony

Fifteen year old Mildred Tardi Perrachio, 905 South Miller street, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against Anthony Perrachio, 21 years old, 9720 Irving Park boulevard, Schiller Park. The girl charged that she was forced to go to a hotel by Perrachio and that she was held prisoner there for five days. She then was forced into marriage, she declared, but separated from him soon afterward.

CAB DRIVER SUES SINGER; CHARGES LOVE ROW WOUND

Traffic Jam Friendship Told in Bill.

Miss June Warwick, 28 years old, a concert singer, was sued for $50,000 damages in the Circuit court yesterday by W. H. Wachter, 29 years old, a taxi cab driver, living at 810 Main street, Evanston. The bill, drawn by Attorney Charles B. Goodman, alleges that Miss Warwick stabbed Wachter in the left wrist during a lovers' quarrel at a loop hotel.

Wachter met Miss Warwick in July, 1925, when she was a passenger in his cab, according to the bill. A conversation, started during a traffic jam, developed a sudden friendship, the driver said. The woman, the bill continues, urged Wachter to call on her and encouraged repeated visits. The bill avers that Miss Warwick introduced Wachter as a German count.

"Miss Warwick exercised an uncanny power over Wachter," the bill reads," and through practicing womanly wiles on him, persuaded him to carry on a love affair with her over a long period of time. Throughout the period she was very jealous of him."

Last April 2 while they were dining at the Congress hotel Wachter received a telephone call from another woman, the bill relates. When he declared that the call was not important and refused to discuss it, Miss Warwick, it is charged, seized a steak knife and lunged at him, striking him in the left wrist.

Warwick declares that he was in Henrotin hospital for several weeks. As a result of the wound he suffered impairment of the use of his left hand, which has hindered him in the performance of his duties, according to the bill.

Miss Warwick is said to be in Duluth. She entered the concert stage in England and came to America after scoring her first success.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Jan. 7.—News reached Cape Town from Luderitz tonight that the steamer Limboro, 700 tons, on its maiden voyage to Grangemouth, Scotland, ran on the rocks at Sylvia Hills, 80 miles north of Luderitz, New Year's night. Terrific seas are breaking the ship to pieces.

Seaman Mauger swam ashore after a lifeboat capsized and a life line landed the crew. Capt. E. Taylor refused to leave the ship. Third Engineer Holder, Seaman Mauger and Fireman Adams volunteered to cross the desert to Luderitz. They set out with a small supply of biscuits, two cans of milk and a half gallon of water.

On Jan. 5 their last two biscuits and water had been used up. Last night they reached Luderitz after being without food or water for 36 hours. The desert journey took over five days. Twelve men are still at the scene of the wreck. A harbor tug left today to take aid to the stranded men.

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Mayor James J. Walker disclosed today that he was working on a plan for taxicab franchises which might eventually bring the city an annual revenue of $10,000,000.

TRUSTEES TRIM $954,970 FROM SCHOOL BUDGET

68 Employes Eliminated in Day's Session.

The finance committee of the board of education yesterday trimmed $954,970 off the 1930 school budget of more than $87,500,000.

Only $134,970 of the total reductions were made in the educational fund appropriation, which at present totals more than $7,000,000 above the available revenues. The building fund was cut $794,000; playground fund, $12,500, and text book fund, $13,500.

$342,626 Net Decrease.

Previous work of the committee on the tentative budget had brought increases of $612,344, so yesterday's cuts made a total net reduction of only $342,626. Sixty-eight employés were eliminated, including 23 truant officers and 16 vocational advisers. Following are the cash reductions for various departments:

Department—	Appropriation
Superintendent	$ 23,025
Board of examiners	4,520
Child study	7,550
Vocational guidance	46,395
Compulsory attendance	38,410
Visual education	11,090
Portables	100,000
Undistributed accounts	734,000

A plan, proposed Monday, to eliminate fourteen bureaus at a saving of $2,250,000 was abandoned by the committee on the pleas of Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan, President Caldwell and Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, a trustee but not a member of the finance committee.

They said that this plan, if approved, would wreck the school system, but would only partially eliminate the $7,000,000 shortage. They also pointed out that should the board obtain additional revenues from some source the bureaus could not be restored unless appropriated for in the budget.

May Shut Schools.

In the end it was tentatively agreed it was better to continue the educational department on its present basis as long as funds hold out and then close the schools. It is estimated this will occur about Nov. 15.

Supt. Bogan suggested that $8,645 might be saved by abolishing the bureau of safety, headed by Frank Singleton, but the trustees decided it would be better to consult Mr. Singleton first.

The $724,000 cuts made in undistributed accounts include: Special assessments, $325,000; bureau of repairs, $100,000; permanent improvements, $125,000, and new plumbing, $100,000.

HIT BY STREET CAR, DIES.

Martin Johnson, 72 years old, 675 Milwaukee avenue, died yesterday in the county hospital of injuries suffered on Dec. 29 when a street car struck him at Milwaukee avenue and Sangamon street.

SCHOOL BOARD LAWYER PROTESTS 1,700 TAX VALUATIONS IN LOOP

Attorney Thomas V. Sullivan, representing the school board, yesterday filed 1,700 complaints against the reassessment valuations of loop property before the board of review. The complaints cover every building and parcel of land in the loop. Attorney Sullivan charges that loop property is assessed below its actual value, citing in comparison the valuations on the buildings and land for bonding purposes.

Property owners in the townships of Elk Grove, Niles, Northfield, Orland, Palatine, and Proviso will be given an opportunity to compare old and new tax bills and file complaints beginning next Monday at the offices of the board of assessors, Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, announced.

BOARD WHISTLES AT GRAVEYARD OF COUNTY BUDGET

Shop for Legal Opinion to Raise Cash.

The county commissioners yesterday held a wake on the 1930 budget. Fourteen commissioners solemnly washed their hands of responsibility for the financial crisis. There was a search for a goat to take the blame for the anticipated legal opinion that the budget is illegal, an opinion which will prevent the early sale of tax anticipation warrants to meet pressing obligations of more than $7,000,000.

There was one ray of hope. President Cermak appointed a committee to meet with representatives of leading law firms with a prayer that a composite favorable legal opinion be secured to offset the impending reverse opinion. Thus, it was hoped, bankers would be encouraged to bid for the 1930 warrants.

Newby Heads Committee.

Commissioner Newby, chairman of the finance committee; J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency expert; and Hayden Bell, county board attorney, were named as the county's couriers. They set out immediately to interview the law firms of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt; Tolman, Saxton & Chandler, Chapman & Cutler; Winston, Strawn & Shaw; and Scott, Bancroft & Stephens.

Late in the afternoon the committee flashed back a report, predicating success for the venture but adding that it may take time for them to convince the attorneys that the budget is legally in the clear. This indication of delay brought back the forecast that the treasury will not be replenished until February.

The county should meet a pay roll of $450,000 to 4,000 employés today, and there is no cash to meet it. A similar roll falls due about Jan. 21 and another for Feb. 8 may fall due before the legal processes of sale of anticipation warrants brings ready cash. At the same time the county is beset by creditors holding bills and judgments for approximately $7,000,000.

LORD RAVELSTOKE TIES UP FORTUNE BY FLAW IN OWN WILL

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The late Lord Revelstoke, the financier, who headed the firm of Baring Brothers and helped frame the Dawes and Young plans, committed a flaw in his own will which is temporarily defeating some of his intentions. The mistake was discovered today by Maurice Baring, his half brother, who is a novelist and the only one of the Baring brothers who never had a thorough business training.

Most of the Revelstoke fortune of $12,793,895 was willed to relatives, but in attempting to establish a trust which would protect the capital of his bequest Lord Revelstoke violated a British rule against perpetuities.

The error is all the more curious because he handled billions of dollars in his lifetime and settled the financial affairs of nations and continents, but was precise in all his multifarious dealings. The matter will be rectified by a deed of family arrangement now being drafted.

COL. MORRIS SUES THEATER AS WIFE STAYS ON STAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Col. Nelson Morris of Chicago filed suit today against the Palace Music Hall for $8,000 damages for letting his wife, Jeanne Aubert, star in "Good News," without his consent. He cites marriage provisions in the Napoleonic code, which permit the wife to do nothing unless her husband gives a written agreement to her action. A French woman cannot even open a bank account, buy a lot, or get a passport if her spouse refuses to put his signature beside hers.

The actress-wife declared haughtily today that she is free, white and 21, and has never asked anybody's consent before, when contracting for stage appearances.

But since Jeanne is suing him for divorce, Col. Morris has decided to assert his rights under the French code. In addition to the lump sum for damages, he is asking $200 for each day the Palace lets her go on the stage after today. A judgment is expected within two weeks.

U. S. DEMANDS NEW INDICTMENT OF CRISSINGER

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The federal grand jury today heard evidence against seven officials of the F. H. Smith company, investment brokers, whom Nugent Dodds, special assistant to the attorney general of the United States, is seeking to have indicted.

Among the men named are Daniel Crissinger, controller of the currency under President Harding, a director, and Congressman Fred H. Zislman of Maryland, a former director.

They, as well as the others involved, already have been indicted in Washington, the original headquarters of the company.

CUTS OFF KIN; LEAVES ESTATE TO NEIGHBORS

Because his grandniece, Mrs. Fay Fairbanks Shea of New Jersey, and his grandnephew, George E. Fairbanks of Chicago, failed to care for him in his old age, George M. Smith, retired Libertyville farmer who died two weeks ago, cut them off in his will with $5 each, so the document says. The will was filed yesterday in the Lake county Probate court in Waukegan and shows an estate of $6,500. All except the two $5 bequests was left to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schley, neighbors. Smith lived alone for years. His will says that he left practically all his estate to the Schleys because they have been kind to him.

DRY LAW FIGHT RAGES IN BOTH HOUSE, SENATE

La Guardia Flays Killers; Blease Cites Scandal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Coast guard killings and Washington liquor scandals blew the lid off the capitol's prohibition volcano today, releasing a spectacular eruption of oratory in both houses of congress.

Arising in the house of representatives to denounce dry enforcement methods in general and the recent Black Duck rum runners slayings in particular, Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] precipitated a debate lasting nearly an hour. Dry members of the house cheered repeatedly as Representative C. L. Beedy [Rep., Me.], their chief spokesman, justified the shootings and criticized La Guardia for his attitude.

Blease Says the Poor Suffer.

At the other end of the capitol, Senator Cole L. Blease [Dem., S. C.], who votes dry, sailed into the Washington situation, declaring all who have the money, including politicians, buy and drink all the liquor they want whenever they want it.

"O, yes, we have prohibition," Blease scoffed. "Prohibition for the poor devil who is not able to buy, but no prohibition to the wealthy man, to the commissioners, to the embassies, to the cabinet, and no prohibition to Mr. Hoover if he wants to have it. He can have it, too, if he wants to."

With a dozen varieties of legislation affecting prohibition in the offing, it is expected that the battling, started today, will continue throughout the session.

Commission's Doors Closed.

While the wets and drys were hammering each other at the capitol, members of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, meeting at their downtown offices, behind closed doors, were discussing their forthcoming recommendations for tightening up the enforcement machinery. A statement will be issued soon, Chairman Wickersham indicated after the meeting.

Representative La Guardia, who secured the right to break into the consideration of the war department appropriation bill for twenty minutes, led off his remarks with the challenge that "the prohibition law is not being enforced for the simple reason that it cannot be enforced." With this as his text, he went at various phases of the issue with hammer and tongs, winding up with the coast guard killings.

Recalling the statements of Senator W. E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], the New York representative asserted that "prohibition, like charity, should begin at home," and then proceeded to cite statistics, exposing the bootlegging traffic in various small cities of Idaho.

"Idaho has a state prohibition law," he declared. "It is homeogeneous in its population. The entire state delegation in the house are sincere drys. It should be real easy to enforce prohibition there. Yet there is more drinking per capita in the state than in the city of New York; more saloons than in Philadelphia; more bootleggers than in Chicago, and liquor is better in Idaho than any of the large cities, and cheaper."

Fears Applause for Killings.

The case of the Black Duck, La Guardia described as "but another paragraph in the shameless annals of prohibition."

"I will not refer to the bloody murder of the three members of her crew lest some hardened prohibitionist burst into applause and again stain the pages of the Congressional Record," he continued. "The treasury department rushes into print to justify the slaying of these three men. Yet the record is bare of any facts showing that the Black Duck had refused to heave to or was in actual flight.

"Part of the liquor seized from the Black Duck was in turn sold by members of the coast guard. Citizens of this country are prohibited by law to drink alcoholic beverages and yet on the same day that the Black Duck was captured, members of the coast guard got crazy drunk at New London, Conn. Thirty-nine members of the guard have been found purloining part of every seizure of liquor made by them."

A Good Servant Gone Wrong.

"These disgraceful happenings along the coast of New England and the case of the Black Duck are simply typical instances of the conditions brought about by prohibition.

"The coast guard ten years ago was one of the finest branches of the government service. The honest, courage, and cleanliness of the guard was traditional. As soon as that service came into contact with prohibition it became contaminated.

"Look at it now. What prohibition has done to the coast guard, it will do to the department of justice in a very short time after that department is cursed with the duty of prohibition enforcement. The attorney general of the United States, chief law officer of the government and legal adviser to the President, will be transformed into a supersleuth."

Drys Cheer for Beedy.

Representative Beedy leaped up as La Guardia took his seat and demanded that he be given the right to reply.

Visibly enraged over La Guardia's coast guard remarks, he contended that "this splendid organization today is facing this almost superhuman task that confronts them" and that "they go forward to that task fearlessly and conscientiously."

This statement brought forth the first round of applause from an overwhelmingly dry majority which filled the chamber.

Dry members who had applauded him laughed with the galleries when Representative Beedy sought to explain the drunkenness of seamen who removed the liquor from another rum ship sunk by the coast guard on the day of the Black Duck shooting.

Just Red Blooded Americans.

"I understand the fact is that those men—gobs, as we call them—ordinary seamen, yet red blooded American boys, stood in the water for hours on that cold December night unloading this liquor," he explained.

"In the explosions which had occurred on board the ship some of the boxes had been broken open and some of the gobs, to relieve themselves from the cold and suffering, opened a bottle and drank something out of it."

Here laughter interrupted him, but he continued:

"You never will get together men in the coast guard who under those circumstances will not take a drink of liquor when it is opened before them."

Representative Charles L. Gifford [Rep., Mass.], after stating that he is a dry, took issue with Beedy on the shooting phase of the Black Duck incident. When young men lose their lives "in this kind of a massacre," he declared, the coast guard officials should at least deplore it.

He added that the people of Massachusetts are very much aroused over the killings and that "both sides are wondering what will be the edict of congress when we fight it out on prohibition, as the newspapers say we are going to."

Although, unlike the house explosion, that in the senate was a one man affair, the chief actor, Senator Blease, kept the senators on the edges of their seats for nearly 15 minutes. He had with him a copy of the District of Columbia grand jury report, declaring that Washington is not the crime ridden city it is pictured, and a stack of Washington newspaper clippings.

Blease Answers Jury.

He read some of the headlines: "Liquor raids net five"; "Thirty revelers spend New Year's at police stations"; "Forty arrested in gambling raids"; "Confiscate 1,000 gallons of rum"; "World's largest distillery to begin production soon."

"That," Blease asserted, "is prohibition in Washington! But there is no prohibition to any one who has the money to buy liquor. Yet a grand jury comes out and says the people who say that liquor is sold here, or talk about Washington reeking in crime, do not know what they are talking about!"

Late in the day Representative John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.] terminated the day's prohibition proceedings by introducing in the house a bill providing that the statute allowing the coast guard to use force to halt smugglers shall not be interpreted as a defense for taking human life. He drew the bill, he said, after coast guard officials justified the Black Duck killing by quoting the statute. Schafer added that he will have more to say on the killings Friday, when he has been granted an hour to speak on the topic "Prohibition and Christianity."

THREE DISTILLERIES GRANTED PERMITS TO MAKE RYE WHISKY

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran has authorized Administrator Pennington at Pittsburgh to issue permits to three distilleries to distill rye whisky for medicinal purposes.

The distillers which will make the whisky to replace the dwindling supply of medicinal liquor are the Large distillery, Pittsburgh; the Schenley distillery, Pittsburgh, and the Overholt distillery, Broad Ford, Pa.

The law provides that when the medicinal liquor supply in the country is depleted the commissioner of internal revenue may authorize distilleries to manufacture more. The permits for the distilling of Bourbon whisky were issued some time ago.

PROHIBITION FOES PLAN PROTESTS THROUGHOUT U. S.

Gen. Edwards Promises to Join Attack.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retired, wartime commander of the 26th (Yankee) division, today agreed to address the Associated Organizations Against the Prohibition Amendment at a luncheon meeting called for the purpose of launching a nation-wide demonstration against prohibition. Preliminary plans provide for simultaneous parades in many cities and depicting of episodes attributed to the enforcement of the dry laws.

Gen. Edwards' aid was enlisted today by A. Fritz Roy Anderson of the Associated Organizations Against the Prohibition Amendment. The meeting will be held on Jan. 15 at a place to be announced later.

Considers Law Cancerous.

In announcing that he will address the luncheon, the general said: "I have served fifty years in the army and I have had as much experience with youth as any man. I have belief in our youths as the most patriotic and self-sacrificing. I think they have vision greater than the average. But I am convinced that this prohibition law is the saddest thing that ever happened to America. I think it is making us a nation of hypocrites and that it is proving a cancerous growth to youth.

"I feel sorry for the coast guard. I feel that if the same duties were placed upon the army they would ruin its morale.

"I had 60,000 men in France, the most temperate lot of men I ever saw. I urged them to drink wine because the water was bad, and my division had less than a sixth of the average number of court martials for the army."

Convicted Can't Be Taxed.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The fifth United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today held that prohibition law violators convicted and sentenced are not liable to pay the government revenue tax for their illegal business.

The court reversed a dicision of the Louisiana District court, in which Judge Ben C. Dawkins instructed Anthony Lafranca after his conviction and fine to pay the government a liquor dealer's tax amounting to $2,004.68.

The suit for tax payment was brought by the government as a test case of the double revenue penalties under a clause of the national prohibition act.

Disclosure Law Invalid.

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The Vermont disclosure law, under which persons found guilty of intoxication were compelled to tell where they obtained the intoxicant, was declared unconstitutional by Chief Justice George M. Powers in an opinion handed down in Vermont Supreme court today.

Dry Snooper Lands in Jail.

Rantoul, Ill., Jan. 7.—(AP)—A federal prohibition agent from Danville has learned how it feels to be tossed in the hoosegow. Policeman E. P. Nelson picked up a "suspicious character" last night and when the man refused to give a clear account of his actions, he was put in jail. Today he displayed credentials and declared he was a federal agent looking for evidence when arrested.

SHOT AS HE MILKS COW.

PRESIDENT READY TO SLASH NAVY 200,000 TONS

Hoover Sees World Peace Hinge on Parley.

ent American battleship fleet and hopes to arrange for another battleship building holiday in 1931 when the Washington treaty ten year holiday is ended. It is assumed the administration wants a five year delay in replacements.

For Satisfactory Agreement.

As chairman of the American naval delegation, Mr. Stimson referred to the good results which he said had flowed from the ten year battleship building holiday created by the Washington conference nine years ago. It was at this conference that the United States sacrificed potential battleship supremacy on the high seas and entered into a naval building holiday that has left this country not only inferior to Great Britain in battleship strength, but below Great Britain, France, and Japan in cruiser tonnage.

Aside from working for a decrease in battleship expenses, the delegation will work, Mr. Stimson said, for a mutually satisfactory arrangement for limiting the building of cruisers, destroyers, and submarines. He opened his statement with a review of the battleship situation and the assertion that since the capital ship holiday had been declared in 1921, "a far greater sense of security has prevailed than existed immediately before that treaty.

"Too little means of defense gives a nation a feeling of insecurity. Too much gives its neighbors a feeling of insecurity. Our object is to try to find a happy medium that will be mutually satisfactory," Secretary Stinson said.

Before leaving for New York, Mr. Stimson said the President had given the delegates a "buck up" talk and outlined the American position. He expressed confidence the delegation would work together as a team. Mr. Stimson is to be the spokesman for the delegation.

President to Press.

In his statement to the press President Hoover pointed to the big caliber of the delegates sent to London by all countries and asserted "they will have to succeed."

"I am sure," Mr. Hoover said, "that the whole nation bids Godspeed to the American delegation that leaves tomorrow for the London naval arms conference. The people and the governments of the five nations assembling at this meeting are sincerely desirous that agreement shall be brought about by which competition in construction of naval arms is brought to an end, and by which actual reduction in naval burdens of the world shall be accomplished. The difficulties of finding a basis that will be acceptable to five different nations are great, but they are not insuperable.

"The conclusion of the conference must be such as to give a sense of security and satisfaction to each of the nations. Permanent peace is never based on either taking advantage or of accepting a position of prejudice.

No Hope for Quick Results.

"The technology and the complexities of the problem are such that we need hope for no immediate and quick results. To complete the conference in three or four months would be in itself a great accomplishment, and we should not expect any hurried conclusions.

"It is the most important of international conferences of a great many years and probably the most important for many years to come. The progress of peace for the world rests in a great measure upon the shoulders of the five delegations. There is good will toward the conference on the part of every nation. The importance and the gravity of the occasion have been recognized in the dispatch to London of the leading men of every country. They have the will to succeed.

"I hope that the people of our country will coöperate in the progress of the conference by patience, encouragement, and freedom from criticism. We go to London in a fine atmosphere of international good will, and it is the duty of our country to preserve that atmosphere so far as lies within our power."

FARMER DROWNS UNDER CAR.

Highland, Ill., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The body of John Wisendanger, 55, a farmer of Marine, Ill., was found by passing motorists last night lying in his overturned automobile in a shallow ditch of water along a road a mile northwest of Highland. His head was under water. A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

ADMIRAL BEATTY WARNS BRITAIN NOT TO CUT NAVY

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The British admirals' campaign against naval reduction came out in the open today when Earl Beatty, admiral of the fleet, who, by reason of his rank, is still an active officer of the navy, declared himself opposed to a reduction of British cruiser strength from the 70 ships claimed at Geneva to the 50 agreed upon between Prime Minister MacDonald and President Hoover.

"I take a grave view of the situation," said Admiral Beatty.

Having said this mouthful, he refused, owing to his position as an active officer, to discuss details. It will be interesting to see if Admiral Beatty is disciplined for breaking the regulations by thus publicly discussing the naval question.

This is part of the admirals' drive against any reduction, as shown by the publication in Tory press of "cooked" statistics aiming to prove that the American navy is superior to the British.

The admirals are rooting for a tieup with France, rather than with America, on the ground that France does not care how many large ships the British have, so long as France can keep its submarines. The admirals are deeply disturbed over reports of an agreement between France and America. The fact is that France has now moved into the key position and is going to be assiduously courted by both America and Great Britain at the opening of the five power conference, while Prime Minister MacDonald, who is anxious to be friendly to both, is left in the cart by his admirals and the Tory party, acting in conjunction.

Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, who returned to his office today after the Christmas holidays, formally received the Japanese delegation to the five power conference. The delegation has been at work for a week with the American department of the foreign office, which has charge of everything connected with the conference.

Mr. Henderson also had a long meeting with the new Russian ambassador, Sokolnikoff, at which preliminary steps to the discussion of the outstanding questions between Russia and Great Britain were discussed. It is understood that Russia is now willing to recognize the czarist debts in principle, but is putting in large counterclaims which effectually dispose of them in practice.

U. S. CRUISER TONNAGE LOWEST OF 5 POWERS IN LONDON PARLEY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Last minute statistics showing the comparative naval strength of the five powers which will participate in the London naval reduction conference reveal that with the exception of Italy the United States has the lowest built cruiser tonnage of the Washington treaty signatories.

Under the terms of the agreement reached in 1921, a 5-5-3 ratio in battleship strength was arrived at as between this country, Great Britain and Japan. The French and Italian battleship ratio was 1.67 as compared to 5 for the United States and Great Britain.

Following the Washington conference all the powers, with the exception of the United States, immediatley began strengthening their cruiser squadrons. The result, as shown by the comparative statistics assembled for the American delegates to the conference, is that Great Britain now has the largest built tonnage, Japan is second, France third, the United States fourth, and Italy fifth.

Counting built and building programs, Great Britain has 383,911 tons; Japan, 206,815; the United States, 200,500; France, 130,707, and Italy, 101,249.

BUSINESS HUNTS CANDIDATES FOR SANITARY BOARD

Trade Group Conducts Its Search in Secrecy.

BY PARKE BROWN.

With all the secrecy possible, a committee of business and professional men recruited from several of the large downtown organizations have been combing the nonpolitical woods for satisfactory timber for the sanitary district board.

The committee's operations have lacked the trumpet blowing that usually accompanies such movements. Its full roster and even the names of the organizations from which the members were drafted apparently have not been disclosed even to the political leaders who have been consulted about the situation.

What is said to be certain is that the full committee membership is somewhere between thirty and fifty and that a subcommittee now handling the detailed operations is headed by Attorney Rush C. Butler, who, it is said, was chosen from the ranks of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Elmore for Business Board.

It also is reported that this method of procedure may have resulted from the personal activity of Howard W. Elmore, president of the drainage board, who some time ago declared himself for the election of a business board without regard to factional or even partisan politics, and then began to work quietly to bring well fitted candidates into the field.

Mr. Butler, mentioned as the chairman of the subcommittee conducting the actual search for candidates, referred all questions to the Association of Commerce, and at the offices of that organization it was said the matter could not be discussed, as it was not official business, and that any members serving on the committee are acting as individuals only.

Further hearsay among the politicians was that in addition to the Association of Commerce the organizations from which the committee was drawn included the Union League club, the Chicago Bar association and the City club. Among the names of individuals heard were those of Elmer T. Stevens, Col. Albert A. Sprague and E. E. Gore. Such of them as could be communicated with last night said they could not discuss the committee's work.

The subject stirred a lively interest among the politicians who picked up quickly some of the names they thought might have been discussed by the nonpoliticians in the search for candidates.

Chief among these names were those of Col. Robert Isham Randolph, Dr. Willis O. Nance and George W. Paullin. The talk was that the committee already has seen the questionability of electing five new trustees—a majority of the board—who are entirely unacquainted with sanitary district affairs, and these three were mentioned as men who served the district effectively and without criticism in the pre-scandal era.

Col. Randolph, who is to be elected president of the Association of Commerce next week, was an assistant engineer for the district for several years, and is recognized nationally as a waterways expert.

Nance a Former Trustee.

Dr. Nance, after ten years in the city council during which he was chairman of the health committee and led the fight for pure water and pure milk, was elected to the district board in 1918 and served for six years, part of the time as chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Paullin was a member of the board from 1905 to 1920, when the operations of the district were budgeted for only a fraction of their recent cost, and during those fifteen years became thoroughly familiar with all its affairs.

That the Seabury-Butler committee aimed high when it tackled its problem was indicated by a report that the first possible candidate it approached was W. R. Dawes of the Central Trust company, a cousin of Charles G. Dawes. But, the reports said, Mr. Dawes' interest in his work as president of the Illinois Valley association caused him to decline in association caused him to decline so that he might devote his efforts to the completion of the Illinois waterway.

FUTURE QUEEN SHOWN ITALY IN ALL ITS COLORS

Vast Pageant Marks Eve of Royal Wedding.

In the long avenue before the American consulate police were fighting desperately to keep a passage clear, and it was not until a troop of horsemen rode down the street that the people fell back to allow the Sardinians to pass.

They passed with their long horned oxen, their brocaded belles and Catalanesque appearing men with their women riding on horseback behind them on pillions. Then there passed a kaleidoscopic procession of humanity rich with the color and traditions to which all the succession of foreign invasions of this peninsula during 2,000 years of history have contributed.

After the Sardinians with their high corseted women with Spanish mantilla and coiffures, garbed in green and red and black, stepping to the strains of accordion music came another carnivalesque crowd of youths and girls from Piedmont in equally radiant peacock colors. They shouted out that they were from Piedmont, Prince Humbert's own country.

On their heads were gold woven filigree head dresses, high as those worn by the ladies of Seville. Their dresses were lyrics of mild nuances of red, yellow and pale blue. Their skirts were pleated and they seemed to be wearing five or six and those who rode the horses had their skirts spread out so that most of the animal was covered.

Crowds Become Unruly.

From Piedmont the order of the procession followed the natural direction of the Alps to Sicily. The crowds by this time was becoming unruly and sometimes a cavalierly spectator, to whom some beauty had thrown a flower tried to burst through the cops and kiss the hand of his benefactress. Others climbed telephone poles to get a better view.

The pageant limitlessly devolved as a picture of labor and toil, and homely joys of harvests, and obscure destinies of rural life, some regions representing austerity and struggle of mountaineers, and others the half pagan Dionysiac revelries of those who harvest the southern wine grapes.

Parade Takes to Side Street.

There was once a complete halt of the parade, and for safety sake part of the pageantry was deflected down a side street. When order was restored a vision of Arcadian Bacchanalia flashed onto the screen in the form of two white bulls with enormous horns drawing a festively decorated cart and a huge wine press, around which danced shepherds and vine keepers and menaeds.

The panorama of beautiful women varied but was continuous. After the Chianti revelers came the Florentine belles in brocades and velvets of those colors which inspired the paintings of Botticelli and Leonardo.

Finally came Sicily's turn. It was heralded by a dancing procession of dark Sicilian beauties, wearing black vests and greenish sort of azure blue hats. They were interspersed with quaint Sicilian carts in rococo colors and brightly colored scenes of biblical history.

Boot Is Represented.

Brindisi, the last town in the boot of the peninsula, was represented by a single dark skinned beauty in characteristic costume riding a mule, and as if to cap the climax for the south, there finally arrived a cart bearing a grape arbor in which was riding a specially vivacious and ravishing blonde Venus. Colonial types concluded the parade as the sun sank over the hills of the city of Caesars.

Reception for Future Queen.

The little princess attended the last social gathering of her girlhood tonight when all Roman society, besides many prominent members of Turin, Milan, Naples and Genoa aristocracy, made their first official bow to the future Italian queen.

Long before 9:30 o'clock hundreds poured into Quirinal palace, sparkling with thousands of lights and tapers. Car after car discharged beautiful Roman princesses, young debutantes, and several bewildered foreigners, who owed their invitation to influential friends. They hurried up the Quirinal staircase, where giant "Corazzieri," members of the crack horseguard of King Victor Emmanuel, were in every corner, with drawn sword.

The guests numbered 3,000, and were distributed in different gilded state rooms of the palace where they waited the arrival of the royal cortège, chatting gayly.

King Smiles, Queen Bows.

A brilliant group of Italian and Belgian officers headed the cortège. Ladies curtseyed and men bowed low as King Albert of the Belgians walked by with Queen Elena of Italy in a dark blue velvet dress and a diadem on her hair. The queen responded with a gracious inclination of her head and King Albert repeatedly smiled at the double line of guests.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy followed with Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, also wearing a blue gown of lighter shade. Queen Elizabeth looked particularly gay.

The applause was scarcely subdued, as rigorous court etiquette demands, when Crown Prince Humbert walked in with his fiancée, Princess Marie Jose. She was dressed in a white gown, and wore a brilliant diadem, given her by Prince Humbert. She looked very moved. The prince was radiantly happy, effusively answering the greetings of his intimate friends.

King Boris of Bulgaria, the duke of York, the duke of duchess of Aosta, former Queen Amelia of Portugal, the duke of Brabant, the count of Flanders, and the rest of the royal guests followed. Princess Maria of Savoy, the youngest child of the Italian sovereigns, was also present in a dark red gown.

Papal Aristocracy Present.

The Princess Giovanna, in whom, rumors still report, King Boris of Bulgaria takes great interest, looked exquisite in an orange colored gown.

The presence of many members of the papal aristocracy added a pleasant feature to the royal reception. The sovereign Order of Malta was largely represented for the first time at a Savoy gathering since 1870.

The royal cortège passed by again before retiring definitely to rest before the heavy emotional day of tomorrow's nuptials. At midnight the guests streamed out of the palace, which soon sank into deep silence.

THREE CROSS-COUNTRY HARD ROAD HIGHWAYS PROPOSED FOR U. S.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Representative Carter [Rep., Cal.] proposed in a resolution today the creation of a transcontinental highway commission, to be composed of the secretaries of agriculture, war, commerce, and treasury, and the postmaster general, to study the most desirable route over which to establish three hard surfaced transcontinental highways.

BERLIN REDS RIOT AS THEY CARRY PALS TO GRAVE

Police Captain Stabbed; Several Hurt.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Berlin communists, who are growing bolder during the unemployment crisis, this afternoon used a funeral of two of their comrades to stage a demonstration, which developed into a series of street battles with police. The clashes lasted three hours along the road to the cemetery.

A police captain was stabbed, a dozen Reds wounded, and 53 communists arrested. They were all members of the Red Front Fighters' association, a communist military body, under police ban.

Start Pitched Battle.

One of the communists being buried was Walter Neumann, fatally wounded in a clash with national Socialists last week. The other was Meier-Kabtnch, who died in prison.

Police and motor lorries accompanied the funeral procession, which was dotted with Red flags and placards. When the police insisted that objectionable wreaths be removed from the coffins, the communists started a pitched battle, bombarding the police with coal.

Officers Rescue Captain.

Others engaged in hand-to-hand battles with knives and brass knuckles. They stabbed and knocked down Police Captain Krampe. The officers fired to drive off the Reds from the prostrate Krampe. Dozens of communists were wounded, but they dragged off their own casualties.

Blast in Home Kills Five; Twin Babies May Die, Too

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Little hope is held tonight for recovery of the six month old twins who were the only survivors of an explosion in a suburban home that killed the other five members of the family. The baby girl and boy, Evelyn and Everett Klusner, are unconscious in the city hospital, badly burned about the head and shoulders. The father, it is believed, caused the blast by trying to fire the stove in the family bedroom with gasoline from a kerosene can.

This car completely raises Auburn above all competition. There is no comparison for it in the entire market. Designed, engineered and built to excel the HIGHEST PRICED rear drive cars. Compare it, or get an expert mechanic to go over it, then drive it. There is no greater luxury-on-wheels; no more reserve power, priceless in emergencies; no more fluent, smooth performance; no more comfort, distinction or safety REGARDLESS of price. When you verify these claims you will agree it offers the world's greatest automobile investment.

Record Breaking Public Demand for New Series AUBURN

This unprecedented announcement of extraordinary high values at unheard of low prices is made possible only through the culmination of Auburn's predetermined five year policy. Each year Auburn has put profits back into the merchandise itself. Gradually at first, and then becoming more pronounced year after year as the public demand has swelled the volume. This plan operates in a beneficial circle; as sales grow greater expansion is made possible out of increased earnings; in turn this reduces production costs and enables us continually to give finer automobiles for less cost to consumers. Since it is the public's patronage that makes possible Auburn's continued growth and success, the public is entitled first to profit. Every buyer of an Auburn car we feel is a part owner in this business, therefore we declare a dividend for owners in the form of more and more intrinsic worth in the product itself at a scaled down cost. This plan of operation now reaches its peak because 1929 was our banner year. Auburn enters 1930 with a line of distinctive cars of definite, proven values at prices so extremely low that a record-breaking public approval and demand is inevitable. Our belief is there is nothing in the entire market to compare to what Auburn offers. And we submit the cars themselves as the PROOF.

GERMANY, ALLIES SPLIT WIDE OPEN ON REPARATIONS

Parley Is Deadlocked on Every Major Question.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Jan. 7.—The six "big shots" of the second Hague conference for adoption of the Young reparations plan and liquidation of all war problems met today for the first time since the formal opening of the session to examine problems on the agenda and immediately went into a deadlock on every major item. Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations under the Dawes plan, answered questions for a couple of hours.

Despite Premier Tardieu's efforts at conciliation, the German and allied delegates split wide open on problems such as military sanctions, moratorium pledges, and the date on which the Young plan becomes effective.

Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, raised another serious problem, previously considered settled, by insisting on positive guarantees for certain German revenues. This the German delegates hotly rejected.

Thirteen Points on Agenda.

The thirteen points of the agenda were taken up, one by one, as follows:

Sanctions—or what measures will the allied creditors take if Germany defaults in payments? The Germans refused even to discuss the possibility of allied military action and the question was reserved.

The text of the protocol, embodying the adoption of the Young plan. This was settled in principle yesterday.

The date upon which Germany is to make its monthly payments, the first or the middle of the month. Berlin claims this makes a difference of $1,000,000 per annum if she advances the date of payment to the fifteenth of the month and the problem was referred to experts.

Agree on Safeguards.

Safeguarding the stability of marks transfers. This was settled by conditional scale payments.

When the Young plan becomes operative. This item was suppressed, being covered elsewhere.

Moratorium—when it is to be allowed and what is to become of the sums accumulating in the German treasury during the cessation of payments. This question was adjourned for decision later in view of diametrically opposed viewpoints.

The German-American reparations accord. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, explained that this carries no special assurances the United States is a preferred creditor. His assurances were accepted as satisfactory.

Negative pledges earmarking the revenue on certain budgetary items, such as beer and sugar, for reparations. The Dawes plan carried these safeguards, but the Young plan dropped them. Mr. Snowden insisted that they be reintegrated as positive guarantees. The question was submitted to jurists and the governments.

The German railways and the withdrawal of the two billion seventy hundred and fifty million dollar first mortgage granted by the allies, with the substitution of a second mortgage instead. Germany now asks the allies to waive rights even to a second mortgage. The French and Belgians refused and the matter was referred to experts.

Await U. S. Delegates.

Liquidation of allowances for sequestered property and credit for German state property taken in ceded territory and colonies after the war. Referred to experts for evaluation.

Germany's deposits in the international bank. This was put over until Hjalmar Schacht of Germany and the American delegates, Jackson E. Reynolds of New York and Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago, arrive Saturday.

In view of the stormy proceedings and the inability to get together on any question disputed, it was decided to adjourn until Thursday. Informal meetings will be held tomorrow.

Vladimir Moloff, Bulgarian minister of finance, brought tears to the eyes of the hardened little entente delegates today when he pleaded for a reduction in the Bulgarian indemnity.

"We are not seeking to haggle or bargain," he said, "but a spirit of loyalty to you necessitates stating that Bulgaria is incapable of paying annuities as high as $3,000,000 over a period of 36 years. We are anxious to discharge the debt honorably, but we simply cannot pay that much."

When asked to name a figure M. Moloff suggested $2,000,000 per annum. The little entente will answer the offer tomorrow.

W. C. T. U. OBJECTION TO DRINKING SCENE IN OPERA IGNORED

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Protest by the executive committee of the Philadelphia county W. C. T. U. against a "drinking scene" in the Philadelphia Civic Opera company's Christmas season presentation of "Hansel and Gretel" for children today evoked caustic comment from leaders of the operatic organization.

The protest of the W. C. T. U. leaders yesterday was directed against the scene in which was shown a drunken man flourishing a bottle.

After rejecting several resolutions that expressed extreme opinions of the W. C. T. U. and its stand, the women of the opera company contented themselves with approving a motion which announced they would ignore the temperance crusaders.

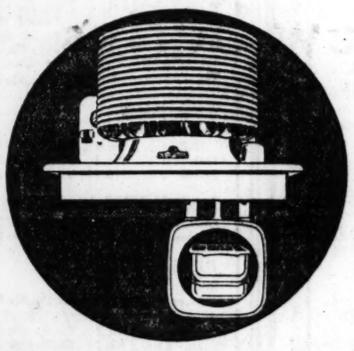
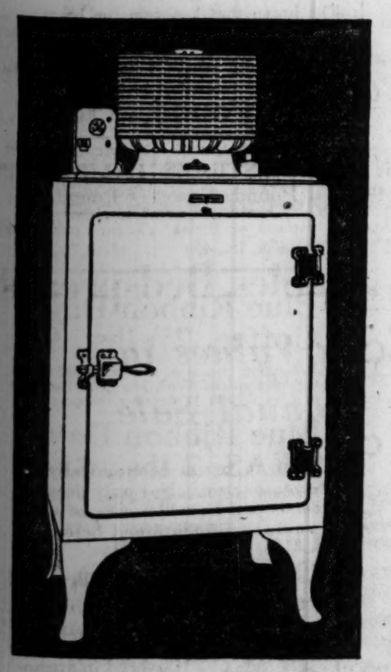
... the hermetically sealed, permanently oiled mechanism is your assurance of lasting and trouble-free service.





WHEN the General Electric Research engineers set out to create a thoroughly dependable refrigerator, they knew exactly what to do.

But it took them fifteen years of experimenting to achieve their ideal—a refrigerator worthy of the famous G-E monogram.

It took them this long because they did not follow the lines of least resistance. Instead they created an entirely new type of refrigeration mechanism.

They succeeded in developing a motor so simple and efficient that it, together with all the rest of the machinery and a permanent supply of oil, could be sealed up tight ... hermetically sealed ... in a single steel casing.

This achievement is of supreme importance to you ... it insures trouble-free, economical refrigeration in your home for many, many years.

Trouble-free, because no destructive elements can affect the General Electric mechanism. Dirt, dust, moisture cannot get into it.

Economical ... because the chances of costly repairs or service charges are reduced practically to zero. Less current is used because the on-top mechanism allows the heat generated by the cooling process to be dissipated above the cabinet, instead of underneath.

General Electric Refrigerators have established the most amazing record ever heard of ... in over three years, not one user has paid a single penny for repairs or service. The first cost has been the last cost.

Other General Electric advantages are its accessible freezing regulator, its all-steel warp-proof cabinet with more food storage space. It is easiest to clean, simplest to install ... and you can operate your radio set on the same electric wire. Ask us to prove these advantages to your complete satisfaction.

Join us in the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday from 8 to 9 p. m., Central Standard Time, over a nation-wide N. B. C. network, including W. I. B. O. Chicago.

EASTERN MONEY FIGHTS SEAWAY, COL. STORY SAYS

Also Sees England's Hand in Opposition.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Antagonism to the lakes-to-gulf waterway has for its motive a fight for commercial supremacy engineered by financial interests of the east, according to Col. Sidney Story in a luncheon address yesterday before the Collegiate club at the Morrison hotel.

Eastern capitalists, he maintained, have played the St. Lawrence seaway against the Illinois waterway which will open the great lakes to the Mississippi through the Chicago gateway, and by stirring up the advocates of both proposals with subtle propaganda have delayed both proposed routes to salt water. The real reason of the opposition, he argued, is to prevent the building in the middle west of an "inland maritime empire" which would change trade routes and put the carrying of a large volume of goods to and from the world markets into new ships and new hands.

Sees Hand of England.

Col. Story contended that foreign interests are abetting the east in trying to checkmate inland waterway development. He added that England and Europe are pinning one hope to the London conference on naval reduction on which they are saying nothing.

"We are rich and powerful, but somewhat provincial and in the game of international politics we are babes in the woods," he said. "Our delegates need to be national minded. This disarmament is not the only topic, for what the other nations are after is the scuttling of America's merchant marine."

Mr. Story, who is a member of the speakers' bureau of the Chicago Association of Commerce, served under the U. S. shipping board during the war. He once operated a fleet of cargo steamers under the Brazilian flag between the U. S. gulf ports and ports of Brazil and the Argentine. Henry F. Arneman presided at the luncheon.

Cites Storm Damage.

"We need both the Illinois waterway and the St. Lawrence seaway," said Mr. Story. "A lot of propaganda has been spread that by diverting water at Chicago we were going to dry up the lakes. At the same time high water has been destroying millions of dollars of property.

"By propaganda and intrigue, hostile interests have sought to array the St. Lawrence project and the Illinois waterway one against the other. Although in states affected we have 63 per cent of the members of congress, these great improvements have been checkmated. The eastern opposition has followed the old political axiom of the Caesars, 'Divide and rule.'

"Hostile interests not only in our own country, but some across the seas do not look with favor upon the building of an inland maritime empire. Gladstone once said it would be a bad day for England if the American people ever became ship minded. For the day they do and control their own carriers, they will control the markets of the world.

England Forges Ahead.

"England now has 18 million tons of transmarine shipping. America has four million tons, not including coastwise and lake carriers. Since the war the allied maritime nations have built 1,600 ships, we only 32. These are shipping board figures.

"The civil war wiped our shipping off the seas. The world war restored it. All told, with coastwise and other shipping, we now have some ten million tons in operation under the American flag. It is about one-half the tonnage we require.

"We've got to do what England, France and Germany do, get behind our own shipping. All the millions spent on waterways will mean nothing unless equipped with barges and ships. We've got to have the port of Chicago building up now. We've got to have a steamship and barge service that is dependable.

"Although in the region affected by the St. Lawrence and Illinois river projects we've got 63 per cent of the foreign commerce of the United States, these great improvements have been checkmated by interests which fear that commercial supremacy may be shifted. Potentially the middle west states are the sea lords of America where the cargoes originate, and if we are to capitalize these waterway improvements we've got to bring not only the ocean to the doors of Chicago and the lakes and the Mississippi valley, but we've got to see to it that the American flag is on the shipping."

G. O. P. FIGHTS TO BAR LA FOLLETTE OFF COMMITTEE

Doesn't Want Wisconsin Man on Finance Group.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Factional differences among Republican senators flared up today when the regulars launched a determined effort to prevent Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.] from obtaining a place on the senate finance committee.

The Republican committee on committees voted 4 to 4 on a motion by Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] to assign Senators Guy Goff [Rep., W. Va.], and John Thomas [Rep., Idaho] to the Edge and Sackett vacancies on the finance committee.

Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee and a member of the committee on committees, withheld his vote, but indicated afterwards that he was firmly opposed to allowing Senator La Follette to get one of the places. Senator Smoot asserted that the finance committee, which handles tariff and tax legislation, ought to be controlled by the party in power.

"Fight Is Typical," Borah Says.

The radicals, in a conference following the meeting of the committee on committees, considered the advisability of carrying a fight on behalf of Senator La Follette to the floor of the senate. Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Ida.], speaking for the radicals, said it was quite conceivable that this would be done.

"This fight is symbolic of the fight we have been making on the floor on this tariff bill," said Senator Borah. "No one will doubt that if Senator La Follette had voted with the regulars on the tariff bill he would have been seated on the committee. It is as clear as noonday that his brand of Republicanism is not satisfactory to them. I do not know how they will juggle it."

Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], a member of the committee on committees, said that the controversy ought to be settled within the Republican conference, "which Senator Borah honors by his absence, nor have I ever seen Senator La Follette in a Republican conference."

"If there is any controversy it surely is a Republican controversy," said Senator Moses.

In today's vote in the Republican committee on committees, Senators Reed, Moses, Bingham [Conn.], and Deneen [Ill.] voted for Goff and Thomas, while Senators McNary [Ore.], chairman of the committee; Capper [Kas.], Oddie [Nev.], and Nye [N. D.] voted against them.

Rhode Island Man Applies.

Senator J. H. Metcalf [Rep., R. I.] has filed an application for membership on the committee, and tomorrow the regulars may support Goff and Metcalf for the two vacancies instead of Goff and Thomas. Both Goff and Metcalf can claim seniority over Senator La Follette, while Senator Thomas, who has not sought the place, is junior to him.

When Senator La Follette first applied for a place, he ranked highest among the applicants.

LEAPS TO DEATH IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

PULLS TROLLEY OFF WIRE; THREE SUSPECTS CAUGHT

A policeman in pursuit of three pickpocket suspects last night snatched the trolley off the wire and stopped a street car when the motorman ignored his command to halt the car and open the doors.

Sergts. William Drury and John Howe were on their way home aboard a northbound Clark street car when they spied the suspects on a southbound car. Leaping from the street car the two detectives raced around to the entrance of the southbound car and demanded admittance. The motorman opened the door sufficiently for Drury only to squeeze through.

When gesticulatel and shouted, but the conductor slammed the doors and the car moved off. Racing to the rear of the car, Howe snatched off the trolley. A moment later both detectives had their quarry, Harry Kaplan, Jack Harris, and Lewis Walker, in custody.

THE MAYOR FACES A DILEMMA.

At this writing Mayor Thompson has not stated whether he will veto any or all of the budget for 1930 recently passed by the city council. The intimations are that he will veto some of the appropriations. In any event, he will seek to avoid responsibility for the deplorable situation in which the city finds itself at the beginning of its fiscal year.

The present crisis cannot be viewed apart from its causes. The city hall organization has deliberately utilized the corporate fund of Chicago for the purpose of building up and maintaining a political machine at the expense of the taxpayers and of the services essential to the safety of life and property. The mayor remained silent throughout the period of budget preparation when a word from him would have sufficed to maintain the health, police, and fire departments in full vigor. He did not caution the aldermen against appropriating for the pay rollers at the expense of the essential services, and anything that he does now, short of vetoing the entire ordinance and sending it back for prompt revision within the present total appropriations of $55,000,000, will be unsound.

It cannot be said too often that all the legitimate expenses of the city can be kept within the bounds of the city's income if an honest attempt is made to do so. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being wasted in the city's license bureau, law offices, and elsewhere which might be devoted to maintaining adequate health inspection in the schools, dairy inspection, food inspection, an effective police force, and adequate fire protection. All of these services and others scarcely less important have been sacrificed in the budget to enable the city government to support a crowd of pay rollers whose worth to the community is considerably less than nothing.

The predictions are that the mayor will direct the council to increase the appropriations for the essential bureaus and let it go at that. The result of that procedure will be to drive the city farther into the financial hole, with a consequent increase in the city's floating debt. No doubt some of the mayor's astute advisers regard this as a shrewd method of maintaining the pay roll brigade without causing a conspicuous breakdown in the public services. The mayor's advisers, it would follow, regard the taxpayers of Chicago as beneath contempt.

The mayor has maneuvered himself into a position from which there is only one escape. If he approves the budget as it passed the council he will bring down upon his head the wrath of citizens for his disregard of their lives, health, and property. If he requires that certain sections of the budget be revised upward he cannot escape the wrath of the taxpayers and rentpayers, whose patience has long been exhausted. The only way out is to sacrifice some part of the pay roll brigade in the public interest. The mayor's action today will be judged in the light of this analysis.

THE LOUD SPEAKER.

Mr. Hiram Percy Maxim, the silencer man, offers considerable hope for relief to citizens of noise-ridden cities. In an article published in the Outlook and Independent Mr. Maxim budgets the cost of mechanical noises in our cities at several hundreds of millions of dollars each year, but he states that the din is eradicable. Industrial plants may be otherwise ventilated so that the noise waves do not escape to plague the neighborhood. Street car and elevated discords can largely be eliminated. The exhaust noises of motor buses, steam shovels, excavators, and motor trucks are unnecessary. The driver is to blame for the pandemonium of the motorcycle.

Mr. Maxim believes that noise is a nuisance, expense, and abomination which future generations will tolerate no more than we do the deposit of filth and rubbish in the streets and sidewalks. First must come a realization on the part of the public that devices and adjustments are available to silence that multiplicity of urban noises which offend the ear and nerves. Thereupon when the pleadings of noise makers that they must continue to roar or cease to exist are thoroughly discredited we may proceed to demand silence and get it.

We wish Mr. Maxim's day of mechanical silence might be accompanied in the United States by the same degree of human silence. Perhaps the American voice has always been a little high, but in recent years we have seemed to note a tendency to crescendo in vocal intercourse, even in the decorous interchange of the dinner party. Mr. Maxim speaks of the difficulties of conversation in the subway or under the Sixth avenue, New York, elevated structure. The voice must be pitched high to rise above the mechanical hum and roar. Is it not likely that a voice habituated to the competition of the elevated, street cars, steam riveters and shovels during the day will not easily be attuned to the dining room in the evening? If this is the explanation, we may reasonably expect that when our mechanical noises are eliminated the human voice will be moderated, unless, of course, evolution should have done us wrong.

A NEW ART SCHOOL FOR CHICAGO.

The completion of the fund for the establishment of a school of industrial art in Chicago is an occasion of first importance in the life of the city. A gift of $100,000 from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller fund was made contingent upon the pledging of $260,000 for the school by others. The condition has been met and the money deposited with the Art institute as trustee. The organization of the school is therefore assured.

The money in hand is sufficient to start the school, but it is, of course, inadequate to meet the continuing needs of such an institution. The purpose of the school is to train American talent to become skilled designers in the various industries and crafts. There is great need for such training, and the need is growing.

It is astonishing that the school was not founded long ago. Certainly it is many years since the naïve notion was prevalent in this country that the field of art is limited to painting and sculpture. Nowadays the emphasis is all in the other direction. We have come to realize that beauty in the objects which machine industry has given us can enrich our lives immeasurably. Every moment of the day, for most of us, is spent amid the products of the machine. Bath tubs, razors, tables, chairs, dishes, automobiles, typewriters, textiles, lighting fixtures, ash trays, newspapers, and a thousand other objects that we see and use every day ought to be regarded as art objects. In the creation of national taste the design of these factory products is far more important than the work of our painters and sculptors.

The establishment of the school at this time is fortunate. We are in the midst of a new movement in the decorative arts; for lack of a better name we speak of the contemporary school as modern. Its characteristics appear to be simplification of design and integrity in the use of materials, qualities which demand a more rigorous training than the great majority of industrial designers in this country have had. When public taste favored the ornate it was possible to conceal bad proportions under a thick crust of decoration; today we demand objects whose appeal depends upon unadorned shape and the texture of the materials of which they are made. The demands upon designers are exacting, and careful training becomes increasingly important.

It is significant that the leaders in the modern movement are to be found in Sweden, where the best artists of the country are engaged in industrial design. There the wheel has swung full circle. Great ability in painting and sculpture is rewarded with permission to design glassware, pottery, furniture, and metal objects in daily use. Any one may paint, but only the most skillful and the best trained are permitted to design the objects in daily use. With strong financial backing and vigorous initiative upon the part of the directors of the new Chicago school the same transfer of emphasis in the arts may be hastened in this country. We do not doubt that the transfer would be wholesome.

JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTES IN THE BUILDING TRADES.

Representatives of the building trades unions and of contractors are to meet shortly in Tampa in the hope of devising a substitute for strikes as a means of adjusting disputes between labor unions. These disputes in the past have been frequent and costly. For a time the unions adhered to a board of jurisdictional awards, but for some reason this device was abandoned in favor of a return to virtual anarchy as between unions.

The time is propitious for a settlement. The building industry for some time has been depressed and not even a general lowering of building costs has served to revive it as yet. Any additional and needless obstacles to a revival of the industry ought to be removed, and one of those obstacles is the occasional and unpredictable strike called because two unions cannot agree upon which of them is to be employed on a particular piece of work. This kind of a strike is costly to the builder because it means delay, but it is costly, also, because it discourages the use of new and cheaper materials and methods. Jurisdictional disputes arise generally over novelties in building methods.

What is needed, of course, is some kind of a supreme court which is able to enforce its decisions and in which all the unions will have confidence. The creation of such an agency is the largest contribution which the building unions can make to the revival of prosperity for their members and for the country at large.

Editorial of the Day

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION SCORES AGAIN.

[Minneapolis Tribune.]

Indiana farmers are making three bushels of corn grow where one grew before as a result of an educational campaign directed by Purdue university and conducted through the medium of five acre corn contests. It is proving to farmers that one is never too old to learn.

This year 709 farmers in 74 counties took part in the five acre contests. It was won by a farmer who produced 130.87 bushels to the acre. More than 100 contestants produced an average of better than 100 bushels to the acre. Weather conditions were not of the best. In 1927 one contestant set the record for five acre corn contestants, 152.53 bushels to the acre.

A better idea of what all this means is gained by turning to federal statistics. These show that the average corn crop in Indiana last year was 25.7 bushels to the acre. In Minnesota it was 35 bushels.

The contestants, of course, followed scientific directions as given them by Purdue university agricultural authorities, in seed selection and preparation, in making the soil ready, in cultivation, and in fertilization. The advice paid them handsomely, as results show.

Indiana's experience has point in Minnesota and North and South Dakota, as well as in every corn belt state. All these states have higher average corn production per acre than Indiana. What would five acre corn contests do in this section? That is an interesting field for speculation, but a better field for demonstration with the corn crop becoming increasingly important, alike as a cash crop and as one used in processing cattle and hogs for the market, and feeding poultry and dairy cattle.

The Indiana record taken with the announcement that 40 acres of cornstalks subjected to a process of fermentation practical on any farm will produce methane gas sufficient to light and heat any farm home for a year, should be sufficient to rouse new interest in corn culture in the northwest. There is an immense saving of labor in making three bushels of corn grow where one grew before. Agricultural education scores again.

WHAT TO DO FOR PIMPLES.

SHAVING: Men who shave have few pimples and blackheads on those parts of the face which they shave. The lathering with soap, washing with warm water, scraping and massaging with the razor remove the dryer parts of the grease plugs and permit the more liquid oils to flow out. Boys, therefore, can treat themselves by shaving. There is no reason why they should not use an edgeless razor or a wire to scrape and massage the nonhairy parts of the face, such as the forehead, the nose, and the cheeks—the blackhead zones. Girls are not justified in shaving, but they can carry out all the shaving performances except the use of the razor edge.

SQUEEZING: This is a troublesome but a thoroughly justifiable procedure. It is best done with a comedo expressor. A wire loop is effective over the nose. It should be done properly. Many young people, especially girls, squeeze too hard and leave a spotted, maybe a slightly hemorrhagic, area.

SALVES AND LOTIONS: From the medicinal standpoint these remedies are of no service. As methods of removing grease and dirt they are efficacious. If the outer, dry, hard part can be removed, the deeper, oilier part of the accumulation may flow out. Most lotions contain some ingredient which is a solvent of grease. The salves have the same effect.

PHAGES: In certain places they are using phages for the prevention and cure of boils, especially those due to staphylococci. I have not heard of phages being used for pimples, but they are worth trying.

EXERCISE: One method by which experts judge the condition of a prize fighter is by the presence or absence of pimples on his skin. When a prize fighter is training he works hard and sweats furiously. When he comes from his workout and lies down for his rub his skin is bathed in sweat and grease. His grease glands are pretty well emptied. What has not been poured out in his sweat producing work is removed by the massaging, rubbing, and washing which he gets. I know of no better suggestion for a sufferer from pimples than that he profit by the example of the prize fighter.

DIET: It is customary to advise persons with pimples to eat sparingly of sweets. This advice is based upon the knowledge that the percentage of sugar in the blood can be increased by a diet rich in sweets, and persons with high blood sugar have a tendency to become infected. A pimple is an infected blackhead. There is something to this. But the limitation should extend beyond candy. It should include all forms of sweet foods and beverages, and also all starchy foods such as breads, pastries, cereals, potatoes, corn, peas, and beans. Manufacturing chemists can easily convert liquid greases into the more solid kinds and more solid greases into the more oily kinds. Since blackheads are due to grease in grease glands changing from a moister, more liquid form to a dryer, more solid one, perhaps some day the food chemist may help us with the pimples problem. Under the influence of radiant heat sweat and liquid grease will pour out on the skin. Radiant heat treatment should prove helpful in treating blackheads. Walking in the snow or rain has a beneficial effect on a pimply skin; so has massaging the face with ice or with clean snow.

MARRIAGE OF ALIEN VISITOR.

Chicago, Jan. 1. — [Friend of the People.] — If a visitor from Poland marries an American citizen during her visit to America, does she become thereby an American citizen and may she remain here permanently? I. G.

The marriage of an alien woman to a citizen of the United States since Sept. 21, 1922, does not confer citizenship upon the woman. An alien woman who is in the United States as a visitor can take no steps toward naturalization unless she makes a legal entry for permanent residence in the United States and after that she may take steps to become naturalized.

WORK ON HOLIDAY.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Has Illinois a law prohibiting a firm from discharging an employé for not working on a legal holiday?
M. A. K.

It is not a matter of law. The rights of the employé depend on what is said at the time he is hired and upon all of the circumstances bearing upon the contract of employment.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Now, I'll Tell You About That—

They looked in the city treasury yesterday and about all they found was a couple of used transfers, a last year's ticket to a ball game, two suspender buttons, and a Canadian dime. They've fired a lot of policemen and firemen and health inspectors, and so on, but that doesn't put any money in the treasury. After a while there won't be any city employés left to fire except the aldermen. Then we'll have pathetic pictures on the last page of an alderman saying good-by to his old desk. Think of separating an alderman from the city pay roll. Boys and girls, there's something that will wring your heartstrings. You had a wrench when you saw the picture of a police station being closed up because there was no money to keep it going. You had wet eyes when you saw the pictures of fire stations being closed up and the firemen turning in their badges. Wait till you see a picture of an alderman being pried loose from his job. Wait till you see the picture of the City Hall all boarded up and carrying the sign "For Rent." And little crowds of aldermen standing around in the street crying on each other's shoulders. You may have a heart of stone, but that'll get you! Doggone, there's some things too heartbreaking even to speak about.

ONE MORE!

Let me write one more poem,
Let me sing one more song,
Life is so short, you know, dear,
Eternity is so long!

Let me love one more woman,
The garden is full, you know,
Lorettas and Maisies and Mabels,
Flowers that blossom . . . and blow!

Let me have one more drink, dear,
Ere they shovel me under the sod,
Where I've no need to think, dear,
Of women and liquor . . . and God!

E. LESLIE SPAULDING.

THEY'VE GOT a new riderless automobile in New York that will start, stop, and back up at the word of command spoken by some one standing entirely away from it. New York says it will enable auto cops to control traffic by merely shouting "Stop!" to the machines. But that won't do any good in Chicago or Cook county unless the machine is geared up to know that "Hey, where's the fire?" or "Whatinell's the hurry?" means the same as stop. Maybe after a little schooling an automobile could get the idea. Anyhow, it's worth trying.

THE TREE PLANTER.

We saw a picture of Gen. Pershing planting a tree for Beman Dawes over in Ohio yesterday. Which just reminds us that while there's a lot of talk about some great fund that's going to help the common peepul and that big thing for the common peepul, old Beman Dawes just goes prowling around planting trees and planting trees and planting more trees. And nobody ever hears anything about it or says anything about it until he drafts some great man like Gen. Pershing to help, and then the newspapers send photographers around, and there's a lot of hoop la and excitement. But when the shouting and the cheering die and the silence comes down again it doesn't make a bit of difference. Old Beman Dawes keeps right on prowling around, planting trees, planting trees, and planting more trees. And the time will come when people won't know nor care whether there was ever any hoop la or excitement or photographs; but they'll sit down under the shade of the trees that Beman Dawes planted and say, "Who planted these trees, anyhow? He must have been a pretty good guy."

THEY'RE CARRYING a small brewery on the United States liner George Washington. It makes five barrels of foaming beer every twenty-four hours. But, great land o' Goshen! That's the very boat our delegates and reporters are going on to the naval disarmament conference in London. What! Representatives of dry America traveling with a floating brewery! Outrageous! Treasonable! Seditious! And, besides, maybe five barrels every twenty-four hours won't be enough.

'Ear, 'Ear!

R. H. L.: Have you heard this one? A cockney heard an owl for the first time. "An' wot's that?" sez he. "An owl," sez the man with him. "Yus, yus," said the cockney, "but wot's 'owlin'?"
KAINTUCKEE.

DURING THE LATE GUERRE we all thought the dollar a year men were indeed most noble, giving up their own great affairs to work for the government for a measly dollar for a whole year. And now a congressman says it is reported that Charles M. Schwab, one of the dollar a year men, had an expense account of two hundred and sixty thousand dollars. If we could have an expense account like that O. K.'d by Uncle Sam, durned if we wouldn't be willing to work for the government for a dollar a year, too. Or ten cents a year. Or a nickel.

SONGS FOR LYNN.

Who is Lynn?
The gracious, graceful name
Masks a man
Like some great disabled bird of prey,
Doomed to walk a maimed and broken way
On earth,
Brooding, stern, silent, selfishly alone,
With an unruffled, inscrutable face,
Yet underneath his wings,
My heart has found its resting place.

"THREE KINGS at Wedding of Humbert and Marie."—Chicagopost. And here's where a Duce is better than three kings.

THINGS ARE GETTING SO in Chicago if anybody gets into our house after this at night they've got to show their birth certificate, their church membership card, three references from people who've known them for 10 years, their vaccination certificate, a certificate of good moral character, and a letter from their pastor. And they've got to throw a "Who's Who in America" through the transom and holler through the keyhole the number of the page where their life and public services appear. After which we will tell them to gotell anyhow, because the door's got a time lock and doesn't open until 7:45 in the morning on week days and 9 o'clock on Sunday. Not that we've got anything worth stealing, but bandits are such simple, trusting souls they might think we had.

GOD HELP THE RICH, they have to live on the Gold Coast and get held up in their own castles just as the butler is announcing that dinner is served, while the poor sit down to their simple meal with nothing around the house that a bandit would give a damn for. R. H. L.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 8, 1865.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 8, 1900.

LONDON.—Gen. Buller has wired the war office that he has received a message from Gen. White at Ladysmith stating that the attack of the Boers on the British position continues and that he is hard pressed. Buller continues: "The sun has failed and I cannot get more news from Ladysmith until tomorrow." A special from Frere camp says that the whole of Gen. Cleary's command marched out of camp to attack Colenso. Four companies of the Suffolk regiment attacked the Boers near Colesburg, but were forced to retreat with a loss of seventy men. A dispatch from Pretoria says that the Boers captured Kuruman, British Bechuanaland, after a bombardment.

NEWBURG, N. Y.—The Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, rector of St. Mary's church, died of heart failure at the age of 62. He had been in the ministry for forty years and was noted as a theologian. In 1887 he was excommunicated because of his adherence to the single tax theories of Henry George, but in 1892 he was absolved by Cardinal Satolli after an investigation and restored to his priestly functions.

CHICAGO.—President Franklin W. Fisk of the Chicago Theological seminary of the Congregational church tendered his resignation to take effect at the end of this seminary year.

MANILA.—Gen. Schwan's column occupied Binan. One American was killed and three wounded. Nine of the Filipino dead were found on the field. Reconnoissances out of Imus, Cavite province, resulted in the loss of three Americans killed and twenty wounded. The Filipino loss is estimated at sixty killed and eighty wounded.

CHICAGO.—An electric automobile containing two passengers collided with a Van Buren street trolley car at Center avenue. No one was injured, but the street car had to be laid up for repairs. The cab continued on its way with only a few scratches.

LONDON.—A Hamburg dispatch to the Daily Mail says that the emperor and empress of Germany will go to Rome in April and then embark on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern for a tour of the east. They will also go to Egypt.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 8, 1920.

LONDON.—Dispatches from Russia indicate that the bolsheviki have completely broken and scattered the armies which have been opposing them in the south. The Reds have cut the Caucasus region off from Russia proper and have won their way to the north shore of the Black sea to Odessa and beyond. The fate of Gen. Denikine, anti-bolshevik commander, is in doubt.

LONDON.—The Red ark Buford, carrying radicals deported from the United States, passed the English channel bound for a Baltic port, making no stop en route.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Five Socialist members of the assembly of the New York legislature were denied their seats at the opening meeting of the 1920 session until they can prove that they can be loyal to their oaths of office while bound to act subject to instruction of the Socialist party.

CHICAGO.—Fire supposedly caused by crossed wires destroyed Trinity Episcopal church at the southeast corner of Michigan boulevard and 26th street, a landmark of the south side for the last forty-five years. The parish house, vestry and chapel were damaged by smoke and water. The loss is estimated at $65,000.

PHILADELPHIA.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy son of a former brewer and charged with being a draft dodger and deserter from the army, was captured today while hiding in the mansion of his mother on the outskirts of this city. His mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, threatened to shoot the state and federal raiders who made the capture and was disarmed only after a struggle. Bergdoll has been sought since he disappeared in August, 1917.

THAT IS BRITISH INTELLECT.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Today's editorial, "The Higher Life Abroad," mentioned the rewards to sweetness and light in Britain. The phrase, as descriptive of British intellect, is worthy of more attention.

Our American cognoscenti have consistently deferred to Britain even while our Emersons were shouting loudest for intellectual independence. Our forums, theaters, magazines, and universities are always open to the intellectual influences emanating from London, Oxford, and Edinburgh. If British intellectual superiority be real the influence is good. I question its reality, however.

The chief characteristic of British culture is what you so aptly named "sweetness and light." Better, it is sentimental, though that sentimentality masquerades under a number of names.

The popular literature of Britain is sentimentality unrestrained, after the tradition of Dickens. The sob story of the most maudlin sort, the ghost yarn, the thriller, and the home and country Gold bless 'em essay are found in the cheapest periodicals and the best literature, so-called. In H. G. Wells it takes the fantastic forms of scientific occultism and silly "secret places of the heart." In Hardy it becomes heart rending tragedy built on the assumption that life is out to get us if we don't watch out. In Poole it takes the form of sober melancholoy reminiscent of Shelley's "Hymn to Intellectual Beauty." In A. A. Milne the level is lower and sobbier; in the detective years the melodrammer is typically medieval, but instead of the devil we have Moriarty, Pederson international spy combines; in the drama we have sentimentalism au naturel, or sentimentalism supernatural [thunder in the air], or sentimentalism Frenchified [sophisticated drama], or sentimentalism turned sour [the Shavian formula].

In science the sweetness and light find expression in sugary love for the dear departed ones, and scientists, in old age particularly, become advocates of spiritual communing. In the style of scientific writing we find either nice old lady style of expression as in Thomson's "Outline of Science," or Alice in Wonderland awe in the face of what wonders are to come. The social sciences are filled with the nice moralising of British provincialism. Harold Laski's recent essay in Harper's is a good example of moralism in economics; the Labor government with its nice old man at the head is what happens in government. Sweetness and light fill the speeches of those who still believe in the nice word, good, and in the reality of society. But the unemployment problem still lives in the sweet atmosphere.

The relative homogeneity of British nationalism causes Britons to use moral as a synonym for ethical, with the result that some of our American writers are deluded into believing that the morality of the United States is integrated rather than various. The legal and social problems of Britain are simpler than ours; yet we persistently run to British opinion for advice upon matters American. We forget that Britain is but a province and that the English are a tribe. We forget that Oxford is a modern monastery wherein the influence of Hegel, of medieval scholasticism, of "good form," will persist in modern guises in spite of the revolt of English youth. That revolt, by the way, is itself conducted upon the lines of what is cricket; it is about as revolutionary as the proverbial tempest in a teapot. Even those cosmopolitan gentlemen who are familiar with the complexity of empire ruling become culturally provincial as soon as they take up residence in the British Isles. Empire ruling, like the revolts in vacuity which occur in every well regulated English college, is an external thing. All the reality in the island across the sea is sublimed in the universal sentimentalism. Englishmen can shoot down their ill advised subjects as can no other people on earth, for they do it with long, sorrowful faces and expressions of sympathy for the victims of imperialistic necessity. "You're a better man than I am, Gunga Din!" [Lykel, lykel, as R. H. L. says.] We Americans are fair at that sort of stuff, but we must grant Britain the possession of a better technique.

The extent of Victorian sweetness and light is such that it pervades even contemporary British philosophy. A tribal emotion must be all pervading in order to affect mechanism. Yet there is Bertrand Russell to prove that mechanism can be sentimental. To Bertrand the universe of mathematical law is a cosmic villain which is bent upon crushing us. Apparently he finds nothing silly in his war cry against the dark designs of the universe. We shall rise and defy it by holding fast to our ideals! Yes indeed, Berty, dear boy. We'll do that little thing by injecting the nice feelings of the English gentleman into the gap between ordinary mathematics and the trans-infinite variety! [See "A Free Man's Worship."] To leave a loophole for sentimentalism is, I judge, the function also of the humanistic pragmatism of Schiller of Oxford. Sweetness and light!

And that is English intellect!

RUBIO AND THE ITALIAN WEDDING.

East Chicago, Ind., Jan. 5.—Does it not appear that something is wrong with the policy of your paper when the president elect of a neighboring republic is the guest of Chicago that news of a royal wedding taking place nearly 4,000 miles away is given precedence over the visit of President Elect Pasquel Ortiz Rubio of Mexico?

On the front page of THE TRIBUNE is a glowing account of the pending wedding of Prince Humbert of Italy to Princess Marie José of Belgium. On the fifth page is a most abbreviated account of the movements and activities of President Rubio, and editorially placed alongside of the Reds' uprising in New York City. MANUEL SANCHEZ.

SUGGESTED TO CERTAIN AMERICANS.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—"Suggested to Certain Americans" was a most appropriate and interesting editorial. But even under the fanatical Cromwell there was no such bigotry and religious domination, intolerance, and hypocrisy as exists in America today.

Charles Dickens, that versatile exposer of all bigots and intolerants, has this to say of Cromwell in his "Child's History of England": "England has much to appreciate in the rule of Cromwell, though personally I would prefer not to be ruled by psalm singing, sermon spouting fanatics."

Wonder what the kind, benevolent, and broad minded Dickens would think of the rule in the United States today?

HOOVER'S NAME AGAIN BOBS UP IN SUGAR TARIFF

Letter Read at Lobby Quiz Mentions Him.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—New "confidential" memoranda of the sugar interests mentioning President Hoover in connection with activities in the sugar tariff controversy before congress were read to the senate lobby committee today as it resumed its inquiry.

A "highly confidential" memorandum sent in a letter to Junior Owens, secretary of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, from William H. Baldwin of New York, publicity man for the organization, said that R. L. Purdon, sugar expert of the department of commerce, had been "asked by the White House" and Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee to work out a sliding scale for sugar duties.

Baldwin, who said the letter must have been "signed while I was out of the office or something like that," testified that he knew nothing about the matter and could not give the source of the information.

Report on Sliding Scale.

However, in the same letter was a "report on sliding scale," which said there had been no request "directly from the White House for a sliding scale." The sliding scale proposal was rejected by the senate finance committee. The report added:

"Mr. Hoover would like a plan worked out if possible so that if the C. & F. price in New York got too high the duty would not raise it. A request for a so-called workable sliding scale has been made by Senator Smoot. Mr. Hoover has worked out no sliding scale."

Previously the committee had read a letter from Morris Murmey, connected with Baldwin, to H. H. Pike Jr., New York sugar broker, which said Murmey was "enclosing several copies of a highly confidential memorandum regarding sliding scales." The letter continued:

"The authority for the information on the enclosed memorandum entitled 'Report on Sliding Scale,' is Mr. Thompson, sugar expert, United States tariff commission."

Testimony also was given that Murmey had conferred with Charles Michaelson, publicity director for the Democratic national committee, in regard to sugar publicity, and that attempts had been made to interest Senator Borah of Idaho in a sugar bounty.

Democrats Mentioned.

The Democratic national committee was brought into the testimony through a report on sugar activities in Washington made by Murmey to Baldwin.

It said Murmey had seen Michaelson and proposed that a senator or Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey ascertain women's opinion on the tariff, that a survey be made of newspaper opinion on the sugar tariff increase, and that agricultural college deans be asked if they believed the raise would benefit the continental industry.

PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE REBUKED BY JUDGE FOR "WASTING TIME"

The state's attorney's office was indirectly rebuked yesterday by Judge Harry Fisher of the Criminal court for wasting the time of his court with the prosecution of a case wherein a woman was accused of obtaining $1,700 from her sweetheart by pretended illness. Mrs. Irene Brooks and her husband, Ben Brooks, who lived at the time at 725 Sheridan road, were charged with confidence game by William P. Quinlevan, 1240 North Clark street, a mortgage man.

"There is an old saying that law is not made to protect fools; certainly not illicit fools," said Judge Fisher as he ordered the case thrown out of court. "This is the first time in my experience at least where the law has been set in motion to make a woman be truthful to her paramour. The time of this court should not have been taken up and wasted with this case."

FINE AND JAIL SENTENCE GIVEN TO COL. DUNCAN

Col. Otis B. Duncan, formerly the highest ranking colored officer in the army and commander of the Eighth infantry, Illinois National Guard, was sentenced yesterday, by Federal Judge Wilkerson to serve four months in Lake county jail and to pay a $2,000 fine. Col. Duncan, charged with obtaining $1,700 from the government on false claims, was convicted recently on his plea of nolo contendre. After listening to character testimony for Col. Duncan, Judge Wilkerson expressed a desire to pass a light sentence. He ordered a stay of execution until Feb. 4.

Widow Charges Rum Killed Father of 13; Asks $25,000

Ira Busby, formerly of Chicago, now proprietor of a summer resort on the Fox river below Yorkville, has been made defendant in a $25,000 suit filed by Mrs. Elizabeth Francis of Sandwich, a widow with 13 children, who charges that her husband, Robert Francis, a lumber merchant, died last Sept. 28 from the effects of liquor sold to him by Busby. The suit has been filed in the Kendall county Circuit court at Yorkville.

Medical Company President Jailed as Fake Doctor

Charles Clayton, president of the Clayton Medicine company, 3165 Lincoln avenue, was assessed fines totaling $285 and received a three months' jail sentence yesterday in Municipal Judge Arnold Heap's court for practicing pharmacy and medicine without a license. Judge Heap suspended the jail sentence to permit Clayton's lawyer to file a writ of error.

COALITION AGAIN IN GOOD STRIDE IN TARIFF VOTE

Beats Proposed Increased Duty on Silk Fabrics.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The senate coalition today got back into its winning stride. After having been beaten a number of times during consideration of the wool schedule the coalition succeeded in defeating a committee amendment to the tariff bill increasing the duty on silk fabric. The vote was 32 to 40.

The silk manufacturers lacked the advantage of a combination with growers of raw material, such as made it possible for wool manufacturers as well as wool growers to win higher duties. Also the principal silk manufacturer who would benefit from the increased duty is a constituent of Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.].

The Democrats and radical Republicans took particular delight in depriving Senator Bingham—who a few weeks ago was formally censured by the senate because of his tariff activities as a member of the finance committee—of credit for this bit of increased protection for a Connecticut industry.

Grundy Votes for Duty.

Senator Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.], who yesterday withheld his vote on a committee amendment increasing the duty on woolen yarn because of his own interest in the woolen industry, voted today for the amendment boosting the duty on silk fabrics.

The amendment which was rejected provided a duty of 60 per cent on woven fabrics in the piece, wholly or in chief value of silk, not specially provided for. The house bill retained the 55 per cent rate of the present law. Rejection of the amendment meant approval of the house rate.

Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] led the attack upon the increased duty. He contended that the Cheney company, large Connecticut silk manufacturers, had made handsome profits and was not in need of greater protection.

In the vote on the amendment the 32 favoring it included 31 Republicans and one Democrat, while the 40 against it included 26 Democrats and 14 Republicans.

Agree to Rayon Yarn Increase.

The senate agreed to a committee amendment slightly increasing the duty on rayon yarn, but deferred until tomorrow action on other amendments to the rayon schedule. It is expected that the rayon schedule will be concluded tomorrow, and that the sugar schedule then will be taken up.

PERSHING REFUSES TO OPPOSE NORRIS AT NEBRASKA POLLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Gen. John J. Pershing today flatly declared himself out of the running for the Republican senatorial nomination in Nebraska.

Gen. Pershing sent the following telegram to Mark Woods of Lincoln, Neb., who has led the movement to induce him to run against Senator George W. Norris:

"Confirming what I said in our telephone conversation yesterday, I do not desire, nor have I desired at any time to seek public office. While it would be a distinct honor for any man to represent the great state of Nebraska in the United States senate, my decision must be regarded as final. Will you please advise my good friends in Nebraska to this effect."

FALL ON ICE FATAL.

A skull fracture, incurred several days ago by Michael Lavery, 70 years old, when he fell on an icy pavement at Van Buren street and Hermitage avenue, resulted in his death yesterday at the county hospital. Police are seeking his relatives.

DISCHARGED COPS WILL BE QUIZZED ON CIVIL SERVICE

Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin, who for several months has been investigating alleged civil service irregularities, hopes to obtain information of value from the 473 young policemen recently discharged because the council did not appropriate for them. The prosecutor sent a letter to Commissioner Russell yesterday asking for the names and addresses of the men so that he might summon them to his office and perhaps before the grand jury.

The rumor was that $300 was the standard price for a police job, Lavin says. He expects some of those who were discharged to be disgruntled enough to talk.

The December grand jury, which failed to vote indictments after listening to scores of witnesses, recommended that the January jury, which was sworn in yesterday, continue the inquiry.

CHINA PRESIDENT BUYS PEACE WITH REBEL GENERALS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 7.—Through military pressure and financial diplomacy, President Chiang Kai-shek, apparently has liquidated the two rebellions which nearly upset the Nanking government early in December.

It is reported from Nanking that Tang Shen-chi, who staged the latest rebellion in Honan province, has left for Japan, leaving his troops. They probably will be incorporated into the forces of Gen. Yen Hsi-shan, head of the Shansi government. Gen. Shi Hyu-san, who staged the rebellion in the town of Pukow, opposite Nanking, has also yielded to diplomacy and is likewise relinquishing his post.

The government report says this clears up the military situation, permitting an early resumption of railway traffic on the Tientsin-Pukow and Peiping-Hankow lines.

AMMONIA PIPE BURSTS.

Valparaiso, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Asa Bartz, milk dealer, is in serious condition from burns received when he was trapped by the bursting ammonia pipe of a refrigerating plant.

CONVICT-POET TRIES TO END LIFE AT PRISON

Benjamin Gardner, 35 years old, known to his fellow convicts at Joliet prison as their poet laureate, and to Chicago police as a robber, safeblower, burglar and con man de luxe, was in a serious condition at the penitentiary hospital last night following a spectacular attempt to end his own life while being led to the dining room. Gardner, as the file of prisoners was passing along the sixth floor gallery, suddenly leaped over the railing and plunged to the flagstones in the courtway thirty feet below. He suffered a skull fracture.

Gardner has been despondent since voluntarily surrendering himself to Chicago police last month following his escape from the prison in November, 1925, prison officials stated. He was convicted of robbery and sentenced to a long term in October, 1922. He was a trusty and acting as a prison stenographer at the time he made his escape.

you can borrow $200 for 30 days

THERE are thousands of families that find themselves temporarily short of cash, particularly at this time. Winter months are always a heavy drain on household budgets.

If you had an extra $200—right now, what could you do with it? Pay up some scattered bills—buy some of the things you've needed, such as winter clothing, coal, or needed household supplies—perhaps to pay for necessary medical attention.

No Fines—No Fees
No Deductions

The Household Finance Corporation offers immediate loans to any family keeping house. Here you may secure $100 to $300 without delay—and take from one to twenty months to repay. You get the entire amount.

By limiting our service to loans from $100 to $300, Household is able to reduce the interest rate to 2½% per month—a saving of nearly one-third. Thus the total cost of a $200 loan for 30 days is only $5.00. Other amounts for longer periods, at proportionate cost.

When you need $100 to $300, see Household first and save money.

A Statement About Small Loans by Household Finance Corporation

WE MAKE LOANS OF $100 TO $300 AT 2½% PER MONTH

There are classes of loans which require the rate of 3½% per month

The Household Finance Corporation wishes to impress upon the public that any licensee who makes loans of less than $100, and a certain class of loans of larger amounts is, in our opinion, entitled to and is justified in charging the maximum rate of 3½% per month. We could not afford to make loans of less than $100 at less than 3½%. The 3½% rate is not the fixed rate that licensees must charge, but is simply the maximum rate permitted by the State Small Loan Law on loans up to $300.

If you need $100 to $300 you owe it to yourself to see us first.

LUKE DILLON IS DEAD; LABORED TO FREE IRELAND

Passes Away at Age of 80 in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Luke Dillon, 80, long a resident of Philadelphia, who spent much of his life in advancing the cause of a free Ireland, died at his home here today, surrounded by members of his family. He had been ill for about six weeks. Even in his last illness he talked of the cause that led him to prison and only last Sunday he received a visit from Eamon De Valera, former head of the Irish republic.

Although he was said to have never set foot in Ireland, he was extremely active in this country in the Irish cause. He was born in Leeds, England, of Irish parents and was brought to this country when a child.

Imprisoned in Canada.

One of the leading incidents in the life of Dillon was the dynamiting of the Welland canal in Canada to prevent the shipment of supplies to the British army fighting the Boers in South Africa. For this he and two companions were arrested in Canada and sent to prison for life. Dillon served fourteen years and in 1914 was released and returned to Philadelphia.

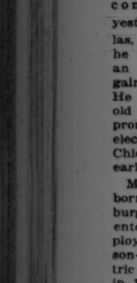
At the age of 17, in 1867, Dillon enlisted in the United States army and served in various Indian campaigns. On his return to Philadelphia in 1870 he became active in the Clan-na-Gael.

Was Dr. Cronin Witness.

In 1889, when Dr. Cronin of Chicago was killed, supposedly during a feud among leader of the Fenian group, Dilon took an active part in the investigation and was a witness in the prosecution of the accused men.

HARRY L. MONROE, GENERAL ELEC. EXECUTIVE, DEAD

Harry Logan Monroe, commercial vice president of the General Electric company, died yesterday in Dallas, Tex., where he had gone in an effort to regain his health. He was 60 years old and had been prominent in the electrical field in Chicago since the early '90s.



H. L. MONROE.

Mr. Monroe was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., and entered the employ of the Thomson-Huston Electric company here in 1888. In 1892 that firm and the Edison General Electric consolidated, forming the present General Electric, and Mr. Monroe was made purchasing agent. He was made district manager of the company in 1913 and vice president in 1926.

He lived at 4800 Kimbark avenue and is survived by his widow, a son, Harry L. Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. R. J. Macpherson of Highland Park.

He was a member of the Union League, Press, Electric, South Shore Country, and Flossmoor Country clubs of Chicago; the Lotos of New York, Mohawk of Schenectady, and the Bras Coupe clubs of Quebec, Canada.

Elmer Pleased with Singing of Two Artists

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Mme. Frances Alda, soprano, who is now devoting her talents to radio, was the soloist on the New York orchestral concert, through KYW, 7:30 to 8, and the evening began right. It kept on going more or less right. Mme. Alda gave a miniature recital, the orchestral selections being but incidental, which is the correct thing to do when the soloist has the persuasive powers and understands the psychology of the radio audience as does this artist.

Of great interest were two Maori songs of the Maoris, the aboriginal inhabitants of Australia. These were sweet, pensive, and slow in tempo. In fact, she cast a sweet and pensive note upon her other numbers, "My Curly Headed Baby" [Clutsam], "Angels' Serenade" [Braga], and "Good-by" [Tosti].

Another radio soprano whose qualifications enable her to enter the full fledged radio recitalist's field any time she desires is the "Prima Donna" on W-G-N's 9:30 to 10 program. It's rather a loss that we do not know her name. Even without a name, there are few sopranos who can get more out of the music and the words of "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," than did this singer last evening, and the same for the Jewel song from "Faust," provided it had been sung in English. Harry Gillman, violinist, is a worthy joint soloist on this program.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

For COLDS

We all catch colds, and they certainly make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as possible after cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you go to bed and keep the bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes the inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless; they do not depress the heart.

DOMINIONS OF BRITAIN ACT TO CUT LAST TIES

Jurists Frame Scheme to Make Own Laws.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Although the report of the imperial judicial conference, which met here last fall to prepare for this year's fall meeting of the imperial conference, is not due for publication for a couple of months, enough is leaking out to show that the British dominions have made up their minds to insist on removal of the last vestiges of dependence on Great Britain.

Demand Voice in Succession.

One resolution which was adopted by the jurists for recommendation to the full conference deals with succession to the crown. It says:

"Inasmuch as the crown is the symbol of free association of the members of the British commenwealth nations, and as they are united by common allegiance to the crown, it will be in accordance with the special constitutional position of all members of the commonwealth in relation to one another that any change in the law touching succession to the throne or royal style or titles shall hereafter acquire the assent of the parliaments of the dominions as well as of the parliament of the United Kingdom."

Want Right to Own Laws.

The jurists also recommend that the colonial law validity act of 1865 be repealed. They declared: "No law and no provision of any law hereafter made by a parliament of a dominion shall be void or inoperative on the ground that it is repugnant to the law of England or provisions of any existing or future act of parliament, or to any order, rule or regulation made thereunder, and the powers of parliament of dominions shall include the power to repeal or amend any such act or rule or regulations insofar as the same is part of the law of the dominion."

This was carried farther by the declaration that no law in the United Kingdom shall extend to a dominion except at the request and with the consent of that dominion. This last clause is designed to cover merchant shipping and navigation acts which in the past have been held to infringe on the sovereignty of the dominions.

TAFT LEAVES BENCH FOR LONG REST AND STARTS IN HOSPITAL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—William Howard Taft, formerly the President and now the chief justice of the United States, slept tonight on a hospital bed happy in the assurance of physicians that the ailment from which he is suffering would respond to treatment within a week.

Recurring bladder trouble necessitated his entrance into the hospital. After his present stay at Garfield hospital, Mr. Taft plans to go to Asheville, N. C., for several weeks of rest.

The chief justice was in a cheerful mood today. He transacted business for several hours with his secretary and law clerk before going to the hospital, the last he will do for several weeks. He then walked to his automobile for the ride to the hospital with Mrs. Taft.

On the advice of his physicians, the chief justice will completely divorce himself from all work for several weeks.

ILLINOIS READY TO DEPORT 75 ALIEN CONVICTS

Arrangements are being completed to deport 75 alien prisoners in Illinois criminal institutions, Rodney H. Brandon, director of public welfare, told members of the City club at luncheon yesterday.

"Under the system," Mr. Brandon said, "alien convicts become eligible for deportation as soon as they have served their minimum sentences. In the case of Mexican violators, who are able to cross the border and get back into the country with little trouble, the minimum sentence is doubled before they are released. Crimes of a serious nature are not deportation crimes and we do not seek release for those so charged."

HOLD UP TWO OIL STATIONS.

TREASURY MAY GET CHICAGO P. O. PLANS THIS WEEK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—Postoffice officials will complete their examination of the preliminary plans for the new Chicago postoffice this week and submit them to the treasury department together with such changes as they desire to have made, it was disclosed at the treasury today.

On the receipt of the corrected plans, Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, the Chicago architects of the postoffice building, will be summoned to Washington for a general conference at which treasury and postoffice officials will participate. Following this meeting the Chicago architects will return home and complete the designs for submission to Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon and Postmaster General Harry Brown.

As the Chicago architects estimated some time ago that it would require approximately six weeks to complete the designs after all specifications were in, it is probable the plans will not be in the hands of the treasury department much before March 1. After the designs are approved working drawings must be prepared before work on the postoffice can begin. This task will take several months unless an unusual number of architects are employed.

CORNS IDENTIFY STEGER TORCH MURDER VICTIM

Lieut. Robert Seiter of the county highway police yesterday established the identity of the torch murder victim found Sunday near Steger, after his men had canvassed all the chiropodists of the southern end of the county. Mrs. Eva L. Sheppard, colored, looked at the corns on the toes of the dead man and said he was James Strangis, about 35 years old, who lived at the Rohe hotel in Chicago Heights, which is near her corn cure shop.

When identity was established, Lieut. Seiter gave what he believes was the motive for the murder. Strangis worked for some alcohol cooking syndicate, he learned, and was stealing alcohol day by day, and when able to fill a few 5 gallon cans he would seek a buyer. The gang learned of the thefts, Lieut. Seiter theorized, and had some one arrange with him to purchase what he had.

Strangis went to deliver the load—he had eight cans of 5 gallons each, and the gangsters shot him, then set the automobile on fire after alcohol was poured over his body. The police were making a search for the still at which Strangis was supposed to be employed.

Mother, 62, Passes Test to Become Expert Swimmer

One is never too old to learn, in the opinion of Mrs. Julia Connell, 8118 Sangamon street, who at 62 years qualified as a life saver and certified expert swimmer yesterday. She passed the Red Cross senior life saving examination, and is the oldest life saver known to Chicago Red Cross officials. Mrs. Connell first learned to swim two years ago when she attended swimming classes at St. Leo's church, 79th and Sangamon streets. She is the mother of a grown son.

SHIRES WINS AGAIN BY FIRST ROUND KNOCKOUT

SLUGGER SAYS HE'LL SIGN UP FOR $85,000

Asks Three Season Contract.

New York, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Ten years to the day after he signed his first Yankee contract calling for $10,000, Babe Ruth today nonchalantly rejected an offer of $75,000, the salary paid the President of the United States. At a conference with Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York American league baseball club, and E. G. Barrow, its secretary, the home run hitter shook his head when it was suggested that the club would be willing to pay him $150,000 for a two year crop of home runs.

Ruth countered with a proposal that he affix his signature to a contract calling for $85,000 annually for three years. This suggestion, Col. Ruppert emphatically vetoed, declaring that the club would not agree to a three year contract at any terms, although Ruth pointed out that he had just closed a three year contract at $70,000 a year.

It's Up to Ruth Now.

The matter rested with a difference of $10,000 in money and a year in contract limits. Yankee officials said that they had made their top offer and the next advances must be made by the player.

Ruth said he would leave Saturday for the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp of the Yankees.

The big outfielder brought up the question of exhibition games and the club was understood to be willing to make a stipulation limiting the number of exhibitions in which Ruth should be called on to participate. This the Yankees planned to do in any event, as the wear and tear of the extra contests on the slugger's legs were regarded with apprehension last year.

Although he has played ten years in a Yankee uniform, Ruth has had only three contracts in that time. When his release was purchased from the Boston Red Sox for a price reported to have been $125,000, he had a holdover contract calling for $10,000 a year. This the Yankees took over and he played in 1920 under its terms.

For 1921 he had a contract calling for $25,000, and he was signed in 1922 to a document running for five years at $52,500 a year. He then jumped to the forefront of high finance in baseball by signing for three years at $70,000 a year.

There was no idea in baseball circles generally that the home run hitter ever will be classed as a holdout. Negotiations as to salary may be continued until the season opens in April.

The big fellow gave full approval of his present condition. "As good as ever," he declared.

REISELT BEATS HALL TO LEAD BILLIARD MEET

Kieckhefer Wins from Schuler, 50-25.

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia took another step towards regaining the title he once held when he defeated Allen Hall, spectacular western star, in their match in the world's three cushion billiard championship at the Palm garden tonight. Reiselt won by 50 to 42 after forty-five innings of play. He now has won five matches and has lost none.

OTTO REISELT.

Rallying in the late innings, Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, stayed in the running in defense of his title with a 50 to 34 victory in 49 innings over Gus Copulous of Detroit, with a high run of five. Layton counted 19 billiards in the final nine innings. Copulous had a high run of four which gave him a 25 to 15 lead at the twenty-fifth inning.

In the afternoon matches Tiff Denton of Kansas City and Kieckhefer were the victors. Denton took the measure of Charley Jordan, 50 to 31, while Kieckhefer, the Chicago left hander, won from Harry Schuler of Brooklyn, 50 to 25.

Fouled Red Ball Once.

In his contest with Denton, Jordan appeared nervous and uncertain in his play, making one amateurish miscue and at another time fouling the red ball while endeavoring to line up his next shot, thus losing his scoring chance in that inning. Denton, on the other hand, stroked his game with great confidence, and, while Jordan managed to keep on fairly even terms until the nineteenth inning, forged ahead of the coast player steadily after that, and won easily.

Kieckhefer, who rated to win over Schuler, promptly bore out expert predictions by winning the bank and clicking off eight brilliant shots to start the game, his high run. By the seventh inning, Augie had boosted his total to 18 to Schuler's two, and at the close of the thirty-first inning led his opponent, 43 to 12. It looked like a quick finish at this point, with the Chicagoan an easy winner, but Kieckhefer suddenly seemed to lose his touch.

Failed 13 Times Straight.

Beginning with the thirty-second inning, Kieckhefer made exactly thirteen trips to the table without scoring a point. It was an excellent opportunity for Schuler to regain his confidence and come from behind, and he did pick up 11 points, but he was too far in arrears.

In the forty-fifth inning Kieckhefer found himself again, clicking off three points, followed with two more in the next frame, missed in the forty-eighth, and ended the match in the forty-ninth.

In addition to his high run of eight, the former champion counted another cluster of six. Kieckhefer's thirteen consecutive scoreless innings are a record for that sort of thing in the current competition. In breaking his scoreless streak he executed one of the best shots of the afternoon, a delicately stroked shot that required absolute precision to be successful.

City League Cage Race Begins; Marshall and McKinley Divide

The annual battle for the two basketball championships of the City league began yesterday with opening games in the west and central sections, and with it the usual arguments among prep experts, arguments which won't be settled until the last week in February, with the completion of the schedule.

Tomorrow's games, between Bowen and Parker, on the latter's floor, will open the south section race, while the north division will get under way Friday with all six members in action. West section teams will play their second games tomorrow.

Although yesterday's games were openers, they provided fans with plenty of controversial fodder. Probably the biggest upset of the day was furnished by McKinley's lightweights, who defeated the Marshall five, rated as the strongest in the west section on its practice record of six consecutive victories.

Marshall Lights Upset.

Englewood lightweights, winners of the junior crown last year, were defeated in their opener yesterday by Wendell Phillips, 19 to 14. The latter's victory, together with a strong practice showing, makes them favorites for the central section title.

The double-header between Marshall and McKinley proved to be the best of the initial games, the former's heavies winning, 27 to 22, and the latter's lights, 20 to 17. In the lightweight game McKinley led at the half, 18 to 10. Marshall rallied in the last period to come within two points. Gratch fouled Di Simone of McKinley after missing a short shot, and the latter made good on the free throw. Marshall's heavies lagged until the last four minutes, when Lustig and Stigenberg connected for field goals.

Austin scored a double victory over Tuley, the heavies taking a 21 to 17 decision and the lights winning, 20 to 17. Carruthers, whose marksmanship has been a big factor in the Austin heavies' practice record, led his team's attack with four baskets.

Hyde Park Wins.

Crane lights opened their season by invading the Medill court for a 25 to 14 victory. Medill got off to a fast start and led at half time, 12 to 9. In the second period Rith, who scored 12 of Crane's points, found the hoop for three long baskets. Every Crane player scored, with Rith and Warsaw featuring.

Hyde Park heavies and lights began their schedules in the win column by defeating Tilden on the home floor. The scores were 16 to 13 and 20 to 14, respectively. The Johnsons, with six points each, headed the victors' scorers in the heavyweight game.

Phillips also scored a double victory on its own floor by defeating the Englewood heavies and lights. Buckner and Bray starred in the heavyweights' 32 to 22 victory. Darden was the star of the lightweight game, in which his team handed the Englewood champions their first defeat in seven games.

Bowen prepared for its City league opener with Parker tomorrow by defeating St. Leo heavies in a practice game, 29 to 16. Harlow, Celmer, and Moore featured for the winners. Bowen lights made it a pair by trimming the St. Leo ponies, 25 to 23.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

To Peter Kane, a 17 year old expert, goes the honor of being the first to enter THE TRIBUNE'S fourteenth annual Silver Skates Derbies at Garfield park, Jan. 25 and 26. Kane will compete unattached in the intermediate Derby.

Kane's entry was received last Monday night. Since then more than one hundred nominations have been received. Included were several from out of town. Six races in all will be held. Preliminaries will take place on the first day, with finals the day following.

Chris Skourlis, 13 years old, sent his entry early. It was the second to be received. Chris will race in the juvenile class open to youngsters under fourteen years. An event that has proved to be one of the most attractive of the series.

Incidentally, the board of control of the Western Skating association may shorten both the distances in the preliminary and final for this race. On cold, windy days it is strenuous for the youngsters to skate a long distance because, lacking judgment of pace, they experience difficulty in avoiding strain.

Girls also are showing interest in their events. The entries received for the two girls' Derbies to date indicate the number this season will be larger than in the past. The girls' junior Derby is open to those under fourteen years. The senior event takes in girls sixteen years and over.

TRIBUNE Derbies are open to all skaters in the United States and Canada.

Captains and managers of teams should see that their skaters practice every day and night. The same goes for playground directors. A trophy will be given the organization whose skaters score the greatest number of points in the six races.

No entry fee is required.

Chicago defeated Ohio Wesleyan in a rough and tumble practice game last night at Bartlett gymnasium. The score in points was 36 to 24, but more descriptive is the score in fouls—Wesleyan, 22; Chicago, 16.

Unable to match the line crashing of the rangy and powerful Bishops, the Maroons took refuge in lofting high passes into the basket. They seemed to take kindly to the new, all steel backboards, which the university has purchased to do its bit in keeping prosperity in the steel industry, and counted thirteen field goals.

The Game Gets Rough.

The game went a bit further into this steel business than was anticipated, however, for it had quite a lot of steel worker tactics. Gandrup, Bishop forward, got peevish early in the game and was chased after he'd reddened one of Yates' eyes and taken another right swing at Ashley.

That was only the half of it, for while the boys didn't resort to any fisticuffs thereafter, Wesleyan played an unusually rough game of basketball and the Maroons responded by not being too lady-like themselves. Hips, elbows, and feet were handled as effectively, though not as artistically as in a professional game.

Forgetting the slam-bang tactics, the first half was a first rate basketball game, with the Maroons showing more style in passing and shooting than they have in a long while.

First Half Close.

Through most of that half the lead alternated point for point until near the end when Yates sank three successive long shots to give the Maroons a 20 to 14 lead at half time. In the second half the Bishops got only two baskets, both by Campbell, a sub, who stood out in the Wesleyan lineup because he was the only one of ten men used who didn't have a foul called on him.

With Marshall Fish taking up Yates' rôle as a hot shot, the Maroons pulled steadily away, running the score to 32 to 15 before Coach Norgren began to experiment with substitutes. Yates led the Maroons in scoring with four baskets and four free throws, while Fish dropped in five baskets, only one of them short and two from mid-floor.

Sharkey Says He'll Fight Scott, So Garden Agrees

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 7.—The ballyhoo for the winter program of the sport industry among the itching palms of Florida now seems to be well under way.

The Garden corporation, in the apparent belief that the worst available prize fight is good enough for the city of Miami, has hired Fainting Phil Scott, the Tilbury seagull, as Jack Sharkey's accompanist in the annual Battle of No Particular Importance.

Engagement Seems Final.

The engagement of Fainting Phil for this performance appears to be final and irrevocable as Mr. Wealthy Will Carey has signed a contract to this effect with Mr. James Johnston, owner of the American rights to the noted dry diver and the New York prize fight commission has always been very meticulous about the protection of Mr. Johnston's contractual rights. Of course, in protecting his contractual rights, it is sometimes necessary to inflict cruel and unusual punishment on the customers, as Mr. Johnston now and again comes up with a very depressing pugilist but a prize fighting commission cannot protect everybody.

Just what financial arrangements were made the Garden declined to say until the contracts are made public tomorrow. The announcement followed a long conference at the Garden of representatives of the corporation, Sharkey, and Scott.

The boxing match in Miami probably will not interfere with the interests of the customers because even at $50 a seat in the ringside sections, the cost for three hours is only $16.66 per hour which is about the minimum rate per four for pleasure or even for simple existence on the east coast.

Chosen Because of Record?

The Garden corporation announces that Fainting Phillip was selected because of his record. His record in this country consists of two graceful plunges, one with Knute Hansen, the other with Otto Von Porat and a ten round cross-country event in a Brooklyn ring, with Victorio Campolo, for which he has received a total of, I should guess, $75,000. He has won nine bouts on claims of foul and any customer who would prefer to remain in the hotel, beating his wife for amusement may exercise his legal option to do so.

In the Wake of the News

POT-POURRI.

MADISON Square Garden promoters are seeking an attraction for their newly constructed 50,000 capacity stadium at Miami, where they must hold a bout next month to realize on their investment. Jack Sharkey balks at the opposition offered in Tuffy Griffith. That is Jack's privilege, although it would seem Tuffy might furnish more interesting opposition than did Young Stribling.

A year ago it did not matter much who battled, just so the bout had ballyhoo. People were there with money to spend and did not care how they spent it. The $25 top for a seat was just small change compared with other expenses. Railroads tell us traffic to Florida is as heavy as ever. Even more are going by auto. Hotels, however, report that guests are a bit more discriminating over the per diem rate. You recall, perhaps, there was a market crash in November.

It might be the part of wisdom for the promoters to keep down their expenses even if the names of the principals were not quite as imposing.

We are informed a conference committee will visit Iowa City Friday to investigate the standing of the thirteen athletes declared ineligible for receiving loans from a "trust fund." If that was their only offense we can conceive of no reinstatement for Iowa which does not include reinstatement of those athletes who received aid from a fund at least semi-officially recognized.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Charles Arthur Shires scored the third one round knockout of his brief professional fight career here tonight when he flattened Tony Faeth, former American Association star pitcher, in two minutes of the first round. Shires sent his opponent down under a shower of rights and lefts.

Faeth hit the resin for a nine count just before he was pounded to sleep. He arose and Shires rushed him. A right cross to the jaw ended the bout. It also was a terrific right cross that sent Faeth down for the earlier count. Faeth outweighed Shires by 17 pounds.

Shires Avoids Attack.

Faeth rushed out at the gong, intent on finishing Shires with one punch. Shires evaded the attack and then opened up by smacking Tony around the waistline. In the interim Faeth walloped the Great Man about the face. Shires then took the offensive and slammed a right to the jaw, causing Tony to lose balance. Then came the knockdown and knockout attacks.

Faeth was so completly out that he had to be carried to his corner. Among those helping his seconds was Shires. After the bout Charles Arthur attempted to make a speech, but was drowned out in a chorus of boos.

Fans Encourage Faeth.

Shires was introduced as the "Idol of Baseball" amid a roar of boos and cheers. When Faeth was presented the throng went wild, shouting words of encouragement to the pitcher to get the "Smart Aleck."

The Great One, in his attempted address, asked: "Does any one know if this is Dan Daly?"

Shires received a flat guarantee of $1,500 for his fight tonight. It still leaves him, he says, several thousand short of the amount he hopes to earn in the ring.

Shires departed tonight for Chicago, but will stay there only long enough to catch a train for Detroit, where he will appear before the Michigan state boxing commission to answer charges of irregularities made against him there.

CONTINUE INVESTIGATION

Illinois boxing commission, in meeting assembled, yesterday probed the alleged confession of James Gary, alias James Geery, alias Mysterious Dan Daly, in which Gary was said to have stated that he did a nose dive for the Great Shires in the latter's world premiere as a pugilist here on Dec. 9, and reached the conclusion that Gary had been knocked cold and that no effort had been made to put Gary in the tank.

Shires Did Not Appear.

Shires and his manager, Nessie Blumenthal, did not appear at the hearing because of the former's boxing engagement in St. Paul but promised to be on hand today. The session yesterday accordingly was continued till today.

Promoter Jim Mullen, who staged the Shires-Daly fight, and Eddie Meade, who served as Daly's handler in consideration of $10 in hand paid, attended the hearing yesterday. Although formal decision was withheld until after today's hearing, it was indicated that Mullen and Meade would be absolved of all charges of irregularities.

Bricker Surprise Witness.

George Bricker, Columbus, O., business man, was a surprise witness at the commission's hearing yesterday. Bricker, who is in Chicago on business, visited the office to volunteer the information that he holds a contract as manager of Jim Gary, alias Dangerous Dan. He said further that Gary is irresponsible and subject to day dreams. Gary told him, so Bricker said, that he was not threatened if he did not take a dive for Shires in the fight at White City.

Bricker informed the investigators that his fighter had been knocked out twice previously and this habit had caused him to lose interest in the boy's ring career.

Kinder completed 50 hours and 28 minutes of continuous bowling at the Hotel Antlers alleys to defeat Conrad Draheim of Beaver Dam, who stopped a half hour short of that mark. The winner chalked up 363½ games before a swollen thumb refused longer to grip the ball.

MASSACHUSETTS MAY ACT

Boston, Mass., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The pugilistic fate of Arthur Shires in Massachusetts may be decided here tomorrow when the state boxing commission meets. The fact that baseball's babbling boxer has been blackballed by the New York state commission may bring about some action by the Massachusetts commission, in view of the fact that Arthur is due to face Al Spohrer, catcher for the Boston Braves, here Friday night.

Commissioner Eugene Buckley said he could not tell what action, if any, would be taken in the case. No official word has been received of the action of the New York commission. The fact that Michigan had suspended Shires while the commission there investigated charges that Shires' opponent in his first victorious battle had taken a dive did not arouse much interest on the part of the Massachusetts solons.

GOLF PROS BEGIN PLAY TODAY FOR $10,000 PRIZE

Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Having clubbed their way through the minor tournaments, the pick of the country's golf stars tomorrow will begin their trek down the real pathway of gold—the $10,000 Los Angeles open —whose seventy-two holes of medal play will attract the most imposing field since its inaugural in 1926.

The thirty-six hole qualifying test tomorrow will bring out $50 professionals and amateurs seeking the eighty-five places on the qualifying list. Forty-three players, mostly pros, will not be required to qualify. Those on the preferred list attained their ranking either by having finished among the first thirty of the 1929 Los Angeles open or by posting low scores in last year's national open. Golfers from foreign countries or the territorial United States also are exempt.

Blackhawks Dispose of Taylor to Rangers

New York, Jan. 7.—Ralph Taylor, a defense player, was purchased by the New York Rangers from the Chicago Blackhawks today at what was said to be the waiver price of $4,000.

This was the initial step of the Rangers to rebuild their shattered defense, a department in which they have been woefully weak all season. The weakness of their rear line was emphasized recently when they were submerged under a 7 to 1 landslide by the Americans.

Indiana City Defers Paving Issue for New Cage Gym

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The 1930 edition of the Hoosier Hardwood Follies now is being enacted in nearly a thousand Indiana high school basketball gymnasiums, and, everywhere, despite epidemics of spinal meningitis, smallpox and influenza, principals again are playing to packed houses.

Confronted with an unexpected tax refund from the state board, a small Indiana city was given the choice by the municipal fathers of building a new gymnasium or paving Main street. In the plebescite the gymnasium issue won on a voting ratio of 8 to 1.

Wiley and Garfield High schools of Terre Haute met recently in a neighborhood battle, and, although the game ended 33 to 15, with Wiley winning, each accused the other of stalling. As a result a city-wide controversey resulted.

Mooreland Scores 98 Points.

Franklin and Columbus have severed athletic relations because the principal of one school is alleged to have said something critical concerning the size of the opposition's floor.

At the close of the Peru-Rochester game a free-for-all fight ensued among spectators. When police finally apprehended an alleged ringleader, lights were switched off and the offender escaped. The cops finally were convinced that they had recaptured an innocent bystander after having hauled him to headquarters.

Mooreland and Modoc hold the record to date for a one sided game. Mooreland won, 98 to 2. In contrast, Muncie defeated Newcastle the other night, 9 to 7.

Official Nearly Mobbed.

Following the example of Indiana university undergrads during the last football season, pupils at Jeffersonville pledged not to shave until the team won. No beards resulted because of the youth of the members. So the club disbanded today.

When a Southport foul tosser winked to a teammate stationed beside the basket and passed to him instead of making the free throw, the referee refused to permit the subsequent field goal, and, in turn, fouled Southport. Broad Ripple won, but the official was almost mobbed.

FRANKFORT WINS, 18-16.

Gary, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Frankfort High school, 1929 Indiana basketball champion, won an 18 to 16 victory from Horace Mann of Gary here tonight in a last half rally that provided 5,000 fans with one of the best exhibitions of the Hoosier pastime ever displayed here.

Horace Mann held the upper hand through the first half, leading, 10 to 8, at the rest period. Frankfort got its first field goal with three minutes to go of the half. Both teams were using a delayed style of play, and Frankfort gradually crept up until the score was tied at 12 to 12. The state champs piled up an 18 to 13 lead and held off a determined last minute rally by the Horsemen.

MICHIGAN CITY WINS.

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Michigan City Indiana basketball team tonight defeated the Whiting Bears, 36 to 35. The Indians were leading at the half, 21 to 13, but the visitors caught up and forged ahead soon after the start of the second period.

Wellet Races to Victory at New Orleans

New Orleans, La., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—W. L. Brodie's Wellett won his first race of the new year in the Old Town purse at the Fair Grounds here today. Going rather easily, he beat By Product by a length, while the favorite, Mole Hill, was a rather distant third. Sanford and Old Slip were the only other starters.

By Product Sets Pace.

The five year old Wellett has been campaigned over many tracks but there is none on which he feels more at home than the oval here, which was fast and in good condition today despite the threat of rain. Wellett had started here last week without getting in the money and that effort must have acclimated him, for he was a strong horse today.

By Product broke first and set the pace. He dashed away in great style with Jockey Phillips racing Wellett a short distance behind, within striking distance. On the turn Wellett was sent up on the inside and in coming through he forced By Product a bit wide.

Wellett Pays $7.70.

But the interference was not serious and By Product had his chance when both were straightened out in the stretch. Wellett continued to draw away and won without having to do his best. He returned $7.70 for a $2 mutuel investment and was timed in 1:47 2-5 for the mile and a sixteenth.

Owens Signed as Fields' Foe in Stadium Battle Friday

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis of the Chicago Stadium, who, during the last few days, has had a bit of difficulty in arranging Friday night's fight card to suit his exacting requirements, last night announced that he is all set.

With Jimmy Owens of Oklahoma nominated as Champion Jackie Fields' adversary instead of Tony Vaccarelli, and Billy Wallace serving instead of Benny Bass, the Stadium program, as now announced, reads:

King Tut vs. Bruce Flowers, 10 rounds, lightweights.

The Tut-Flowers encounter is rated as the headliner because the Fields-Owens bout is an overweight affair and, of course, does not involve Fields' title.

Tut and Flowers are here for their training, and their daily gymnasium workouts have indicated they will be in shape to fight in their very best style.

James J. Braddock, who will fight Leo Lomski at the Coliseum Jan. 17 under the auspices of Jack Dempsey, is scheduled to arrive in Chicago this morning and start his training this afternoon. Lomski will be along in a day or so, it is said.

Dempsey's literary bureau yesterday derived pleasure from delving into the sums of money Mr. Braddock has pulled in through the turnstiles at the various halls in which he has appeared recently.

Against Leo Lomski.....	62,000
Against Jimmy Slattery..	55,000
Against Maxie Rosenbloom	49,000
Against Tommy Loughran	151,000

If our addition is correct and the tabulations are authentic, Mr. Braddock has had a part in drawing $374,000 in five fights, an average of almost $75,000 a fight.

Bob Rides Over Bleak Barrens of Michigan

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ogemaw County, Northeastern Michigan, Jan. 7.—Occupying a windswept seat on top of a bay horse, we rode through the scrub oak and jack pine barrens this morning with Blaine Brannon, keeper of the 6,000 acre game refuge up here, where agriculturists are few and far between.

Brannon saddled up Nell, a little bay mare, for himself. Billy, a steady old forest traveler, was our mount. After Brannon had strapped a shotgun beneath his saddle [as keeper of the game refuge here in the barrens he must be prepared for a chance shot at vermin] and fastened a few traps behind his saddle, we started for the heart of the scrub oak and jack pine "lonesome lands."

Recommends Fire Trails.

If you like your equestrian sports far from automobiles, galloping horses and crowds, we can safely recommend the fire trails which we covered on this trip through the barrens. Running around the refuge and cutting through it from all points of the compass, broad, open "highways" have been cleared in order to furnish barriers against possible forest fires. It was on these that we rode with occasional side jaunts into cedar swamps.

Clean white snow, a foot deep in some places, the scrunch-scrunch of the horses' feet crashing through the crust on the snow and shattering the oppressive silence of the wilderness, a cold wind hurrying through the scrub oaks and jack pines—these are the "high lights" of a ride over the deserted Ogemaw trails at this time of the year.

Tracks Tell Stories.

The only signs of life in these lonesome, silent places are the stories which the white tailed deer, a few squirrels, the snow shoe hares and an occasional weasel record in the snow. There were plenty of deer tracks to look at. In some places we could see where several of the animals had bedded down for the night. Two weasels had recorded their hunting trips after rabbits.

Once when we were hunched low in the saddle, head buried in the collar of our big coat, we caught a flash of two deer running across the trail ahead. In two seconds they were out of sight. With their going there was left to us just snow, the cold wind, the scraggly oaks and young jack pines and the oppressive silence of these lonesome barrens.

STARS COMPETE IN CENTRAL A.A.U. SWIM TOMORROW

Walter Laufer of the Lake Shore A. C., Jane Fauntz of the Illinois Women's A. C., and Walter Colbath of the C. A. A. are among the aquatic stars who will compete in the Central A. A. U. indoor men and women's indoor swimming and diving championships in the Lake Shore A. C. pool tomorrow night.

Colbath, formerly of Northwestern university and now competing under C. A. A. colors, will defend his diving from the ten foot board. Laufer, one of the best all-around swimmers in the country, will compete in the 50 yard free style swim and 150 yard backstroke. Miss Fauntz, national low board champion, will give an exhibition.

KIDNEY AILMENT MAY FORCE GENE INTO OPERATION

New York, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Gene Tunney may within the next few weeks have to undergo an operation for the removal of a stone from one of his kidneys.

The former champion, incommunicado since his return a few weeks ago from a long honeymoon in Europe, could not be reached. However, his former manager, Billy Gibson, said Tunney already had been examined by physicians, who diagnosed a slight ailment as a kidney disorder. If X-rays within the next few days indicate a stone has formed, an operation will be performed for its removal, Gibson said.

Michigan Hockey Team Beats Ontario Aggies

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Michigan handed the Ontario Aggies a shutout in the second home hockey game of the season. The score was 3 to 0. Superior puck checking, especially by Joseph, veteran wing, was a heavy factor in the Michigan victory. Langen, sophomore center, led in the scoring with a goal in each of the first two periods. Joseph made Michigan's other tally.

CROWE'S BASKET IN LAST MINUTE WINS FOR N. D.

Irish Beat Indiana Quintet by 30-29.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—An under basket shot by Crowe just as the gun cracked gave Notre Dame a 30-29 decision over Indiana university in a thrilling battle here tonight that had the fans in an uproar at all times. The hero of the game went in during the last few minutes of play when Newbold went out on personal fouls. The game was the best played on the Indiana court this season.

From the first Notre Dame showed a fast attack that took the Crimson guards off their feet. With but two minutes to play Strickland gave Indiana a momentary advantage with the standing 29-28. Indiana, instead of holding out on a stall, elected to try for another basket. A bad pass gave Notre Dame the ball and Crowe went under the basket to score without finding an Indiana guard nearby. Notre Dame held a 12-7 advantage at the half period.

Donovan Scores Four Times.

The Smith-Donovan guardian combination kept the Indiana players far out in the court. Nearly all of the Indiana goals were made from long shots. Capt. Donovan not only played a wonderful guarding game but drove through to score four under basket shots.

McCracken opened the second period with an underbasket shot to bring the score to 12-9. Donovan added a field goal when McCracken scored a free toss. Three baskets within one minute by Donovan, Smith, and Decook placed Notre Dame far out in the lead with a 20-11 score. Notre Dame began a delayed offensive that kept the Indiana players from gaining possession of the ball.

With but seven minutes to play McCracken dribbled through the entire Irish team to tie the score, 24-24. Donovan scored and, with Notre Dame leading, 26 to 25, Zeller brought the Indiana fans to their feet with a side shot.

Crowe Misses Free Throws.

Crowe, who went in for Newbold, came back with a short one from the side to put the Irish out in the lead, 28-27. Strickland scored a long shot to put Indiana out in front, 29-28. Veller committed his fourth personal, but Crowe missed both shots. A moment later he scored the underbasket goal that gave Notre Dame the victory.

Notre Dame had seven chances from the foul line, but missed them all. Indiana made good seven points in free tosses. Lineup:

DE PAUL TO MEET SOUTH DAKOTA STATE TOMORROW

George Edmonds of South Dakota State college, whose team tackles De Paul university here tomorrow night, has three all-conference players on his team. The trio of stars, who led the State quintet to the North Central intercollegiate conference championship last year and whose playing has been mainly responsible for three successive victories this season, over Huron college, Eastern State Normal and Morningside college, are Capt. Herting, Arnold Nicholson, and Weert Englemann.

SOUTH DAKOTA STATE DEFEATS HAWKEYES, 30-20

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—South Dakota's basketball players, tired from a 20 hour railroad journey which brought them to Iowa City barely in time for the game, had enough speed and polish to romp to a 30 to 20 victory over the University of Iowa quintet here tonight.

Coach Rollie Williams started a revised Hawkeye lineup, moving Reinhardt to forward and placing Jebens at guard, but the Iowa aggregation continued to show the defects in team play and short shots which lost it the three previous contests.

FARMER PROFITS ON HOG SALES, ARMOUR FINDS

White Reports on Company's Income.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The American farmer got the "break" in live stock raising last year and profited more generously than the big meat packers. The packers expected a decline in hog supplies and so paid good prices, but it turned out that farmers raised more hogs than in 1928.

"A decrease in cattle supplies such as had been expected came about in 1929, but the predicted decrease in hog supplies failed to materialize and, in fact, turned into an increase," President F. Edson White of Armour & Co. says in his anual report issued last night. "Thus the packing industry paid prices for hogs which were higher than were warranted and the year's operations in the pork end of the business were unsatisfactory.

"Of all the products turned out by the American farmer probably none has paid him better returns than live stock, and for this the packing industry is entitled to credit. At a time when farm relief is a matter of economic and political consequence Armour & Co. during the year paid to the producers of live stock $287,000,000 for cattle, $199,000,000 for hogs, $54,000,000 for sheep,, $26,000,000 for calves, and $77,000,000 for poultry and dairy products.

Sales Exceed $900,000,000.

"Earnings gave us slightly more than enough to meet preferred dividend requirements. Total sales continued in excess of $900,000,000. Available surveys lead to the impression that there will be normal supplies of live stock in 1930—certainly as many hogs and sheep and probably an increase in cattle. With adequate raw material in sight and with the nation in prosperous condition there is reason to look forward with confidence to the coming year."

Net earnings for the fiscal year ended Nov. 2, 1929, were $9,810,518 after all charges, which was equivalent after preferred dividends to 40 cents a share on the 2,000,000 shares of class A common stock. No dividends were paid on this issue and $468,269 in charges not applicable to 1929 operations was charged against surplus. Total surplus thereafter shows an increase of $350,553 to $47,158,668.

The company reduced its funded debt by $2,208,100 and retired $648,759 of Armour & Company of Delaware preferred stock. Current assets and liabilities as of Nov. 2 were $203,748,828 and $39,060,699 respectively, compared with $197,528,382 and $32,762,631 a year before.

Share Yield Rises.

The rubber industry was favored by a steady market for crude rubber last year and operated on a more uniform basis, which offsets some slackening in the demand for tires during the latter months of the year. These factors are related in the annual report of the Lee Rubber & Tire corporation.

Net sales for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1929, were $10,586,785, compared with $11,032,914 in the previous period. But net income was $485,980, equivalent to $1.61 a share on 300,000 shares on no par common stock, compared with $165,764, or 55 cents a share, in the preceding period. In both years no dividends were paid but income was added to surplus, which now stands at $1,920,801.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 7.—The statement of condition of the County Trust company of New York as of Dec. 31, 1929, reveals remarkable progress in the increase of deposits and resources which has taken place since former Gov. Alfred E. Smith took charge of the institution, following the death of James R. Riordan, president of the bank, on Nov. 5.

Deposits of the institution increased nearly $2,500,000 between Nov. 9, 1929, and the end of the year, and an additional increase of $1,220,000 has taken place during the first four days of the present year, the bank reports, making a gain of $3,644,939 from Nov. 9, 1929, to Jan. 4, 1930. As of Jan. 4 deposits totaled $30,159,915, compared with $26,514,976 on Nov. 9, 1929, the day following Mr. Riordan's death.

As of Dec. 31, 1929, the bank showed total resources of $38,042,814, compared with $35,016,283 on Nov. 9, 1929. Cash on hand and in banks totaled $5,547,456 at the end of the year, compared with $7,730,751 on Nov. 9. The volume of immediately liquidable resources was advanced from $25,761,923 on Nov. 9 to $28,408,288 at the close of the year.

LAKE SHORE BANK EARNS 24.99 PCT. ON CAPITAL STOCK

The annual report of the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank shows net earnings for 1929 were equivalent to 24.99 per cent on the capital stock and 12.21 per cent on average invested capital. Net earnings in 1928 were equivalent to 24.53 per cent on capital stock.

Stockholders of the Franklin Trust and Savings bank yesterday ratified the recommendation of the directors on the payment of a dividend of $182 per share to the stockholders of record on Jan. 7 from surplus and undivided profits. The stockholders also recommended the reduction in the capitalization of the bank from $300,000 to $200,000, whereby each stockholder will receive in addition $120 per share for one-third of his present holdings.

Much of City's Ice Cream Comes Here Ready Mixed

BY SCRUTATOR.

Raw materials from which the thirteen and a half million gallons of ice cream consumed by Chicagoans annually are made come to the city, for the most part, mixed and ready for freezing.

The mixing for the plants controlled by the Borden company and the National Dairy Products corporation, the latter of which is recognized as the largest ice cream producer in the world, is done in country plants. Most of these are at a comparatively long distance from Chicago, at the fringes of the market milk belt.

Pasteurization is accomplished at these plants and the sugar and other ingredients added. Tank cars loaded with the luscious "mix" come in daily. There is an economic advantage in having cream purchases for this business made at a considerable distance. The system leaves the close in supplies for distribution as whole milk, avoiding full transportation costs on the long haul for the skim milk.

Helps Stabilize Markets.

Besides, the peak of the ice cream season comes in months when milk supplies on the farm are large. With lessened demand for the frozen sweet in the winter, the mixing plants can ship whole milk to supply the deficiency caused by short supplies in the nearby territory while cows are on dry feed.

It is a recognized fact in the milk and the ice cream industries that the vacation season means a falling off in milk demand and a growth of the ice cream requirements. Borden has bought the Galloway-West company's string of country plants and officials assert that these have had a desirable influence in stabilizing the farmers' markets. A good part of the ice cream materials come from states as far away as Ohio and Minnesota.

F. J. Bridges, secretary of the National Dairy Products corporation, has stated that his company does not trust alone to the country plant pasteurization and that the process is repeated on all ingredients, including fruit, in the local plants. He claims also that inspection requirements are more rigid in the best ice cream factories than in any other food production plants.

It is even asserted that some large plants have examiners with medical knowledge who inspect the employés as they arrive for the daily stint and bar those who have dandruff, colds, halitosis or dirt under the finger nails. The health department bears witness to the healthfulness of our ice cream. First relating that although the law requires only 8 per cent butter fat the average content in Chicago is 14 per cent, it adds that not a single case of contagious disease or food poisoning was found to be caused by this product in 1929.

Consumption Increases.

The consolidations that brought so many cream plants under the control of the two large corporations seem to have been attended by increases in the consumption. Philadelphia leads and Milwaukee is second in per capita buying. In these cities Borden and National control a larger part of the output than in Chicago. One National subsidiary is reported to have increased its sales in fifty stores by 31 per cent last year over 1928.

Merging of ice cream companies in Chicago until two concerns control an estimated 60 per cent of the total output has attracted little public attention so far. The resultant changes have not been such as would startle the consumer.

SAYS OUTPUT OF STEEL INGOTS IS HIGH FOR YEAR

New York, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The American Iron and Steel institute estimated today that total steel ingot production for the country in 1929 reached the high level of 54,164,384 tons, compared to 49,865,185 in 1928.

The high total reflects the record operations of the early months of the year, which reached a peak in May, when 5,273,167 tons were produced. Production declined sharply in the last two months of the year. Output for December is calculated at only 2,896,269 tons, the lowest for any month in several years.

Operations in December were 59.07 per cent of rated capacity, compared with 85.26 per cent in December of 1928. The average for the entire year was 88.81 per cent, against 85.05 per cent in 1928.

The institute's statistics for the last two years disclose an almost uninterrupted increase in activity from June, 1928, when operations were at 76.38 per cent, to May, 1929, when they reached 99.59 per cent.

Steel Rail Output Rises in the Chicago District

Production of steel rails has been sharply increased in the Chicago district and ingot production has also been stepped up. Railroads are operating at about 80 per cent and ingot makers at 60 per cent.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 7.—Total holdings of $42,011,403 in cash and government securities are disclosed in the balance sheet of the Nash Motor company giving the position of that company on Nov. 30, 1929. Of the total, $17,214,333 is in cash and $24,797,072 in government securities. Total holdings of cash and government securities at the end of November, 1928, were $41,244,734.

Net income in the year ended Nov. 30, 1929, was $18,013,781, after expenses, depreciation and federal taxes. This is equivalent to $6.60 a share on 2,730,000 no par shares of stock and compares with $20,820,085, or $7.62 a share in the previous fiscal year. Dividend payments in the last fiscal year totaled $16,380,000.

"The fiscal year which closed on Nov. 30 is considered satisfactory," says a letter by President C. W. Nash to stockholders, "in view of the fact there was absorbed during the year a large amount of expense for equipment, incident to bringing into production during the last quarter of the year the new 1930 models in three separate lines of cars which are produced in the company's three plants. During the year more than $2,000,000 was spent in reconditioning the plants of the company for accurate and economical production."

The Nash balance sheet shows current assets of $53,141,007 and current liabilities of $2,900,691, net working capital being $50,240,316. Current liabilities are made up entirely of accounts payable. The company has no preferred stock or bonded indebtedness.

Says Gov't Will Regulate Live Stock Futures Trading

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Assurance that the government would move instantly to halt any abuse of speculative privileges in live stock futures trading—a market innovation proposed by the chief live stock exchange—was given today by A. W. Miller, chief of the packers and stockyards administration at the agriculture department.

The promise of regulatory measures followed conferences with officials of the exchange, who outlined a plan to set up a board of trade at the Chicago stockyards to deal in the future market of hogs along lines somewhat similar to the current trade in grain futures.

"Should trading in live stock futures show a detrimental effect on either the producer or the buyer or should there be any discrimination in market transactions," Miller said, "we would immediately make use of our power to correct the objectionable practices or stop all futures operation."

Miller Makes Interpretation.

As interpreted by Miller, the exchange proposes to make it possible for the farmer who had hogs that would be ready for market within 60 days or so to sell part of them on the board of trade, if it offered a price for future delivery which would protect him against a possible decline before he was ready to ship.

The question of speculation, Miller said, was based on the manner in which such contracts for future delivery were bought and sold by market operators. Trading in futures, he said, might result either in steadying prices by giving the producer advance information on the probable value of his product, or in serious fluctuations if speculative privileges were abused.

Miller recalled that farmers rarely engaged personally in the grain futures trade, their sales being made direct to dealers who accepted delivery and stored the grain. By the nature of live stock marketing, he said, farmers would come in much closer contact with the trade in futures.

Many have considered the trade in grain futures as gambling, and the general reaction to live stock futures, he said, would have an important bearing on the success of the plan.

Explains Proper Operation.

As Miller explained what he called a proper operation of the futures in live stock the farmer who had corn to sell could determine by calculating what the corn was worth as compared to what hogs would be worth by the time he had them ready for market, whether his greater profit lay in selling or feeding it. If the futures market offered a price that would make feeding profitable, he could guarantee that price by selling for future delivery.

The fact that live stock was perishable, Miller said, was a chief factor in circumscribing a futures market. A contract for future delivery, he said, must be met in full, and if a farmer lost any of his hogs during the feeding period or in delivering them he might find the futures market difficult. Hogs are sold according to exchange grades, he added, and the farmer who contracted for future delivery of a certain grade would be faced with the necessity of developing that grade.

Because of the complexities, officials of the Chicago exchange who have been here have said they were not ready to announce to what extent the futures market would be offered the farmer and to what extent the operators, or when it would be opened.

H. O. STONE & CO. 1929 EARNINGS TO SHOW INCREASE

H. D. Bennett, executive vice president of H. O. Stone & Co., has notified stockholders that net profits for 1929 will show a substantial increase over those of 1928, when net totaled $734,197, equivalent to $4.72 a share on the common stock.

Mr. Bennett said that the outlook for business and profits in 1930 appears more promising than for any previous year in the company's history. Plans are under way for a national expansion of the company's business, a contract having been entered into with a New York banking house to distribute its investment issues.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 7.—Outside of an occasional little ditty by the anvil chorus, there was nothing "different" about today's stock market.

The same professional element went through about the same humdrum byplay with about the same results as a dozen preceding markets in this dullest of all holiday seasons have brought forth.

Only a mere 2,029,290 shares exchanged hands today, some 150,000 fewer than yesterday and hardly half of a normal day's run as measured by the standards of a year ago or less. It was the smallest full day's turnover since August, 1928.

Group Movements Lacking.

For those to whom price movements still matter, there were a few faint rallies, succeeded by as many or more mild recessions in different quarters of the list during the day, but none of them amounted to very much on the whole. Losses had a shade the better of it in the final figures, although, as on other days of this doldrum period, a big proportion of the changes were nominal.

Concerted group movements were

CHICAGO STOCK TRADING DRAB; VOLUME SAGS

Central Illinois Securities Pays Initial Dividend.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Lack of participation by the public and a scarcity of either good or bad news led to an extremely drab trading session on the Chicago exchange yesterday, with volume shrinking to 137,000 shares. The drop in the call money rate to the lowest level in two years failed to inject any spirit into the market.

Among the trading favorites price fluctuations were small. Borg Warner improved less than a point, while Bendix dropped a like amount. Middle West was unchanged at 26¾, while Grigsby slipped a fraction of a point.

About the only news which developed during the day was the announcement which came after the close of the market that directors of the Central Illinois Securities corporation had declared an initial dividend on the $1.50 convertible preference stock.

Amount of Payment.

The payment amounts to 41 2-3 cents and includes the regular quarterly of 37½ cents, payable Feb. 1, and 4 1-6 cents to cover the period from Oct. 21, when the stock was issued, to Nov. 1. The dividend is payable to allotment certificate holders. The certificates, which represent one share each of the convertible preference stock and common stock, sold yesterday on the Chicago board at 27 in light trading.

Other investment issues were dull. Chicago Corporation was unchanged at 14. Chicago Investors Corporation rose more than a point following announcement by President Bard of the retirement of part of the preference stock.

Zenith Radio showed little inclination to react to a bearish earnings statement. On a few odd lot sales the stock dropped a minor fraction though the corporation reported that earnings for the twelve months ended Oct. 31 totaled $237,593, equal to $4 cents a share on the capital stock outstanding. In the fiscal year ended April 30, 1929 the company earned $2.72 a share.

Cities Reverses.

Some of the less active issues on the board suffered reverses. Godchaux sold 8½ points under the last previous sale. McQuay Norris fell 5½ to 45 and Saunders Stores on odd lot sales tumbled 11½ points.

The memberships of John M. Rosenfield and Herbert H. Lehman have been posted for transfer to Robert M. Markwell and John M. Hancock.

Spain's Peseta Exchange Rate Slumps to 13.2 Cents

MADRID, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The peseta exchange rate slumped today, with quotations constantly fluctuating. It reached a low value of 13.2 cents, as compared with its gold par of 19.3 cents and a value on Jan. 2 of 13.3 cents. While the bankers are not agreed on the cause of the continued weakness of the currency, some believe that recent reports of political uncertainty in Spain are having an unfavorable financial reaction.

World production of Ford cars and trucks for 1929 was 1,951,092, an increase of 1,132,358, or 138 per cent, over 1928, according to a statement authorized by the company.

Of the 1929 production, 1,789,345 cars and trucks were produced in the United States, 87,796 by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., and 153,351 in other foreign plants.

In 1928 production of the model "A" car, which was announced in December, 1927, did not get into full swing until late in the year.

On the other hand, production was curtailed in November and December, 1929, to permit changes in plant equipment for the manufacture of new Ford body types.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Shows More Activity.

Considerable activity in Radio Keith Orpheum sent the stock up two points or so in yesterday's market. On the previous substantial rise in the stock rumors were about that a dividend would be paid. R. K. O. has risen about seven points since last week.

Takes on New Life.

American Woolens common and preferred shares have suddenly taken on a new lease of life marketwise after declining to the lowest levels in years. Both stocks were strong features of the market yesterday. Wall street has traced part of the new buying to New England sources, which may mean that satisfactory progress is being made toward rehabilitating the corporation's earnings. Upward revision of woolen tariff schedules should aid the company.

Seasonal Advance Expected.

National Dairy Products generally has a seasonal advance soon after the turn of the year, and present buyers undoubtedly are figuring that 1930 will not prove an exception. Yield is high, the present rate being $3 annually in cash and 4 per cent in stock, indicating a return of around 8 per cent.

May Consider Dividends.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas, or the "Katy" as this road is more popularly known, appears to have good market sponsorship at the present time. There is no doubt that the 1929 rate of earnings warrant consideration of dividends by the management, but just when official action will be taken is difficult to say. Missouri-Kansas-Texas is grouped with the Burlington on the I. C. C.'s consolidation plan.

New Expansion Planned.

Canada Dry Ginger Ale has new expansion plans for 1930 not yet announced. This stock has been neglected by the investment element notwithstanding the fact that it pays $5 in cash, has a simple capital structure, little, if any, indebtedness, a strong balance sheet and yields close to 8 per cent. Officials of the Canada Dry are pushing the company's products in new territories with a view toward increasing sales.

Opens New Revenue Sources.

Floating supply of Chicago Great Western preferred is less than 50 per cent of the total outstanding capitalization of that issue, according to current estimates. The Great Western incidentally was one of the few roads to report an increase in net earnings for the month of November. Under the Van Sweringen management sources of revenue have been opened up.

American Can.

Several large blocks of American Can "distress" stock taken over privately during the October-November market collapse, were successfully disposed of during the recent flurry of activity on the up side, it is said.

Fajardo Sugar.

L. M. B.: The loss reported by Fajardo Sugar company of Porto Rico, for the year ended July 31, 1929, has been attributed by the company's president to the hurricane which struck the island in September, 1928, causing an estimated loss of approximately 25,000 tons of sugar.

It was reported late in December, 1929, that the growing crop for 1930 was in good condition and that the weather conditions have been very favorable.

For the year ended July 31, 1929, the company reported gross receipts of $4,889,520, and net loss for the year of $720,881. There were outstanding 64,778 shares [par $100].

In the year ended July 30, 1928, gross receipts were $7,083,305, and profit was $501,781, equal to $7.75 a share, before federal taxes.

On July 31, 1929, current assets were $5,331,477, and current liabilities were $5,705,625. Surplus was $1,668,448.

No dividends have been reported since one of $2.50 per share was paid Feb. 1, 1929.

Wisconsin Power and Light.

J. L.—Wisconsin Power and Light company $2,500,000 first lien and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series "F," due Dec. 1, 1958, are secured equally with $2,043,400 series "A" 6s, due in 1942; $1,182,000 series "B" 6½s, due in 1948, and $8,350,000 series "E" 5s, due in 1956, by a first mortgage on divisions constituting about 45 per cent of the value of all properties owned by the company, and are further secured by direct mortgage lien on the remaining property, rights and franchises of the company now owned or hereafter acquired.

For the twelve months ended Oct. 31, 1929, net earnings were $3,832,160, which was equal to more than 2.5 times the $1,500,654 of annual interest requirements on the company's total funded debt to be outstanding, including this issue.

Consolidated Lead and Zinc.

A. A.—Consolidated Lead and Zinc company for the eleven months ended Nov. 30, 1929, reported net earnings of $303,174, which was equal to $1.21 per share earned on 250,000 shares outstanding.

Because of the decline in the prices for metals, dividends, which were resumed in January, 1929, were recently cut in half. A 12½ cent quarterly dividend was payable Jan. 2, 1930.

The stock is medium grade and somewhat speculative.

STOCK MARKET RUNS ON IN SAME HUMDRUM WAY

almost entirely lacking. A handful of individual issues managed to attract attention by displays of energy, among them being Radio, Keith-Orpheum, Foreign Power, Anaconda, Commonwealth and Southern, Commercial Solvents, Fox Films, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and Radio corporation. Some of them emerged from the day with rather likely looking gains. In fact, these few issues accounted for at least a third of the day's trading.

News developments bearing on the situation were not especially helpful to either side, though reports concerning the copper situation were still rather favorable. Operations on the constructive side received some help from a fresh easement in the money market, the demand rate dropping officially to 4 per cent, the lowest in almost two years, with funds in ample supply outside the exchange as low as 3½ per cent.

Bears Accomplish Little.

The bear crowd kept up its half hearted selling drives throughout the day, but their efforts yielded little in the way of lasting satisfaction in any quarter, as the price dips were usually followed by mild recoveries. One of the most insistent outbreaks of selling occurred in the early afternoon and succeeded in carrying such leaders as United States Steel, General Electric old, American Can, Radio, and American Telephone down 1 to 6 points, but a spell of short covering followed and the losses were partly wiped out.

Steel closed at 169, off only a small fraction on the day. American Can was off only an eighth at the close, while Radio wound up only about a point below its last night's final figure.

The mail order shares, which have been under pressure for several days, showed better resistance today. Sears-Roebuck, indeed, was among the stronger features of the list, running up a net gain of more than a point on the day.

Wabash was a special feature in the rails, responding to the decision handed down late yesterday against preferred A stockholders in their move to recover back dividends claimed by them. It was up 5 points at the close of trading. Other rails, however, were dull and price changes, for the most part, unimportant.

Trading Brisk in R. K. O.

Brisk trading occurred in Radio-Keith-Orpheum throughout the day, based on rumors that the corporation may acquire control of Loew's, Inc., from the Fox interests. The closing sale showed a gain of more than 2 points. Report was current that a good deal of switching was going on by traders who were getting out of Radio corporation and taking a position in Radio-Keith-Orpheum.

Telling the Story of oration"

RALLY IS SEQUEL TO DECLINE IN WHEAT PRICES

But Quotations Remain Over a Cent Lower.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The combination of further sales of Russian wheat to the United Kingdom and a slow export demand resulted in local and commission house liquidation yesterday in wheat futures here, with May declining 2¾c from the finish of Monday to $1.30½, the lowest figure since Dec. 23. Stop loss orders were uncovered on the way down.

The selling movement ultimately ran its course and a rally of around 1c from the inside followed, but the finish was 1½@1¾c lower.

Politics a Factor.

Political conditions in Russia and Argentina are regarded by the grain trade as having considerable influence on the world's wheat market at the present time. Russia sold 37,000 bu wheat from a district southeast of the Ural mountains, close to Siberia, to the United Kingdom at a price said to have figured $1.44⅛ net per bu, including a 5 per cent admixture. Press cables said the grain trade there was more inclined to the belief that the value of the government estimates had been materially lessened due to politics and was more inclined to accept Broomhall's agents' figures of an exportable surplus of 120,000,000 bu rather than the official returns suggesting 65,000,000 bu.

There was heavy selling of wheat futures here attributed to a leading local professional, and houses with eastern connections also sold, while the best buying was by shorts and by holders of bids.

Export demand at the seaboard was slow, with no business of consequence reported. India, however, bought a cargo of Australian wheat during the day. The sharp decline in futures in Liverpool, according to private cables, was due to selling by local operators, while export houses bought against sales of cash grain in London.

July wheat gained fractionally on the May delivery as the result of a cold wave which caught the winter crop without snow protection over the greater part of the belt, but there were numerous reports of snow in Kansas during the day.

Corn Shows Easy Undertone.

Weakness in wheat and favorable weather for field work and the movement had a depressing effect on corn futures, but buying against this brought about a rally from the inside figures and the close was at intermediate prices net losses of ⅝@½c. There was some buying of May corn in Buenos Aires against sales at Chicago at 27c difference by a local professional and there was also some buying here credited to local account. Country offerings to arrive were very small, with the spot basis ½@1½c higher. Buenos Aires futures closed 1⅛@2c lower.

Oats were easier, with scattered liquidation in the March. Commission houses sold May, but toward the last scattered buying of March disclosed a lack of pressure and the early decline was fully recovered, March closing unchanged, while the deferred delliveries were ⅛@½c lower.

Buying of March rye by a house with eastern connections prevented that delivery from fully reflecting the break in wheat, the close being ½c lower, while distant delliveries were ⅞@1⅛c lower.

LARD AND MEATS FIRMER

Better support was given lard and meat futures yesterday, a feature being a good sized order spread between lard and bellies. Lard prices closed unchanged to 5 cents higher and bellies were unchanged with the only trading in May. Hogs and grains were lower, yet sentiment in provision circles was a little firmer as lard is selling relatively lower than hogs. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 3d higher. Exports of lard were 4,361,000 lbs and of bacon 1,933,000 lbs. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export demand for North American wheat was reported as disappointingly small and no sales of consequence were claimed, although there were intimations of around 200,000 bu being sold in all positions. Local handlers sold 15,00 bu wheat, 48,000 bu corn, 22,000 bu oats and 3,000 bu barley to the domestic trade.

Top yesterday, $14.35; average, $13.60.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 7,500 cattle, 26,000 hogs and 17,000 sheep.

Demand for hogs widened as prices dropped 10@20c, at the opening yesterday, and part of the loss was recovered soon after the start.

Both the top and general average prices showed 10c decline at $9.75 and $9.50, respectively, but the market is still 10c above the low spot of last week in spite of larger supplies. Outside buyers obtained 17,000 during the forenoon and some of the 7,000 left at the close were being held off the market on the strength of the moderate supply estimated for today.

Some buyers held back during early activity, hoping for a weak close, but were unable to buy at 10c decline even after urgent orders had been filled.

Large Eastern Demand.

Eastern demand for practically all classes of live stock during the first two days of this week has been the largest in some time. About 35,000 hogs sold to shippers at Chicago in two days, or 30 per cent of total arrivals, against 24,396 during the first two days of last week.

Shipments of cattle from Chicago Monday at 5,533 were largest since May of last year. Only one day was larger during all of 1929. More than 40 per cent of Monday's sheep receipts went to shippers.

Better grades of cattle brought strong prices, while others sold fully steady under fair competition between local and outside buyers yesterday. Peak prices, and bulk of sales however, were not quite up to Monday's level, due largely to the poorer quality of offerings. Choice 1045@1048 lb., yearlings reached the $16.00 line, which has been the top on eight of the last 10 "market" days.

Choice 1292 lb., steers sold at $15.70 and 35 averaging 1484 lbs., brought $15.50, one of the highest sales of heavy cattle in recent weeks. Cows and heifers sold strong to unevenly higher, with 15 heifers averaging 989 lbs., at $15.75, highest since last August. Only two sales of heifers have been higher since November, 1928. Calves sold unevenly steady to 50c higher. Stockers and feeders were strong again, but hardly enough were available to establish a market.

Lambs Reach $14.35.

Lambs sold readily at steady to strong prices and occasional sales of the best kinds showed further gains of 10@15c soon after the opening. Fancy 85@87 lb., averages brought $14.35, within 15c of the high point two weeks ago, when top at $14.50 was highest since last July.

Prevailing quotations are $1.50@1.75 above the middle of last November, but show losses of $2.75@3.00 compared with the corresponding time in 1929. Aged sheep sold strong to 25c higher, a small lot of ewes at $7.50 establishing a new top for the season. Prime 101 lb., yearlings sold at $11.75, highest of the season for the weight and prime 95 lb., averages late in the day soared to $12.00.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,500 cattle, 26,000 hogs and 17,000 sheep, against 4,526 cattle, 12,177 hogs and 3,000 sheep, the previous Wednesday and 11,575 cattle, 31,481 hogs and 22,785 sheep, a year ago

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she scolds him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost one job after another he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses and tells her he is going out to Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Ames, who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying good-by in Utah John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Arrived in San Francisco John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Merriam, on the street. Pete is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial spin and with John Andrew at the wheel have a slight smashup. In order to keep Pete from losing his job John Andrew buys the custom built roadster for $4,980. He also gives all but a hundred dollars of his expense money to an old man with an invention without asking what the machine is. He drives to Los Angeles in the Mercury and sees Anne at the Consolidated studio, where she is being tried out. He makes an engagement to take her to dinner. Before starting out he looks at the old man's plans and learns they are for a noiseless camera. He sells the patent rights to Consolidated for twenty-five thousand, the money to be turned over to him on the receipt of the signature of Blake, the inventor.

In the meantime the hotel people become suspicious of John Andrew and ask him to pay his bill. He decides to pawn some belongings. Before going out he receives a telegram from the inventor's attorney saying that if he fails to send five hundred additional contract will be broken.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.
A MAN'S DREAMS.

Cary explained. "You see, Chester's got a sort of reputation, if that's the word for it, of tryin' out all the new girls; he'll lie about it tomorrow anyhow, but, hold hard, youngster, I won't let him get away with it. That's why I hung around. To see what really happened. And Armstrong, who's directin' your shots, Miss Ames, is a friend of mine; he won't let Chester pull anything . . . except," watching Kellogg narrowly, "pulling you around a bit when he gets the chance." In the same level voice he continued, "How'd you like being in the picture, Miss Ames?"

Anne, slipping her hand through Kellogg's arm, said, "I'm tired today." The ugly actor winked at John Andrew, lifted his hat, and strode away.

"Did all that really happen?" Anne asked, after Kellogg had slipped the Mercury into high and shot the jade green roadster ahead. "It's so silly."

"Made a fool of myself," John Andrew admitted.

"If, if you hadn't come by four —"

"You'd probably have pulled his nose yourself."

". . . I wouldn't have known what to do," the girl said, leaning weakly against Kellogg. "I'd have been afraid of what he might have done to me with Consolidated. That is, I suppose I would."

"You didn't answer Carey's question," said John Andrew, swinging the jade green car into a broad, tree lined street, and driving more slowly. "How do you like acting here?"

Anne said, "I like it. Of course I like it." Defiantly, "What makes you think I don't? It's only that some of the things are rather stupid. Like Chester's having a makeup table on the set, mirror and all. Nobody dares sit in his chair. We rehearse and rehearse and rehearse, and usually don't know why we're doing it. And today, this afternoon, every one, Mr. Armstrong and all of the engineers, listened to the way I was talking, and argued over the playback records all the time . . ."

"Sound pictures are so new that they've got to be on the job," John Andrew informed her.

"It—it almost frightened me. As if something were going wrong——" John Andrew found Anne's hand with his free one: "There's always me to fall back on," he suggested.

"And when the money from the camera, I want to hear all about it, when that's spent on expensive cars and things like that, what will we do? Oh, I didn't mean to say that, John Andrew, I'm tired. Love me."

"I do," John Andrew told her.

"Have you really sold it?"

"Cross my heart," said John Andrew. "You'll probably see it working before very long. Every time you don't hear it click, you can think of me."

Capitulation: "I've got to finish this picture, John Andrew —"

"He'd just . . . work differently," Anne laughed. Sitting beside Kellogg, in the purring Mercury, Chester, Consolidated, seemed very far away. "I'm going to finish what I started. And you'd better finish making the payments on this car, too, with the money you get."

John Andrew, guiding the roadster away from the city, considered suggesting that he sell the Mercury [as he would do in the morning] and that they have a less expensive machine; no need to do that, however, since Anne, with this one concession, would not see him until the coming week, when everything would be settled.

"Do you think the attention they paid me this afternoon meant anything?" Anne asked, when the street lights spaced far apart.

John Andrew remembered Carey's conversation.

"Hard to tell," he said. "But, as a cheering thought, there's always me, you know. You want to make good pretty badly, little Anne?"

"I did," John Andrew said lightly. "I fell the moment I saw you."

"It's been said that just as few people make a success of marriage as in any other profession," Anne responded more gaily. "We'll do that, too. We'll be the famous happy but married couple of Hollywood —"

"Will Rogers beat you to that," John Andrew disagreed. "If you really want to do something that's never been done —"

"Yes?" as Kellogg paused.

Anne said, "Silly." And, more softly, "Sweetheart."

"You didn't mean that, did you?"

"You always say the best thing."

"I love you," said John Andrew, as if that answered everything.

"You," said John Andrew.

"What else? Don't you ever dream about things, John Andrew?"

"Well . . . let's see. First we'd drive on north, back to San Francisco. Then we'd book passage on the T. K. K. boats. Japan. I've rather wanted to see it again. Plum blossoms in the sun. Temples. Nights with the Three Councillors blazing in the sky. A little inn. A cup of the cold purple wine they bring from China. And . . . well, like old Koto san, in a story he used to tell me, 'Then their lips separated no more; the night grew old, and they knew it not' . . ."

"Who is Koto?" the girl asked.

"My boy," Kellogg said, in the same rapt voice. "Left him in my apartment in New York. You'll love him, Anne; he bosses me around, and he'll give you orders, too. He's uglier than the thunder god, and makes as much noise when he hisses, that's the sign of politeness, it sounds like lightning . . . what's the matter? Cold? Want me to turn back?"

"You promised, John Andrew!"

"You're making things up again. You do it so truthfully . . ."

Anne lowered her voice. "Don't let the money you get from Consolidated turn your head. Dear boy, I love you just the same, money or no money. I've never had any, and——"

John Andrew thought it all over. "I'll say this," he announced finally. "You haven't even asked me how much I expect to make on the transaction."

Mockingly, Anne said, "Millions, John Andrew. Millions."

"How'd you guess?" Kellogg blurted in surprise. "Somebody tell you?"

"I knew you'd only sell on a royalty basis, and dream your profits, although I really hoped you'd take the actual money. I asked you before if you ever dreamed about things; you always do."

"Always, he said.

"And now you want to celebrate, don't you?" Anne teased. "All right, John Andrew; tonight you may be as extravagant as you like. I'll order anything I've ever heard about for dinner . . . and you can help me eat it. I'll neglect anything . . . and then tomorrow you must make believe you never made the money at all, and go back to work. Tonight we can say that you're a . . . what do they call it in the papers? . . . a self made scion of wealth."

Good Morning!

Well, Bebe Daniels is still singing and conquering over at Woods' theater, only "When Love Comes Along" replaces "Rio Rita," in which she has been delighting Chicagoans for so long.

This piece, adapted from a Knoblock play, "Conchita," is in no way as pretentious an affair as its predecessor. The nearest thing it has to a revue number is a decorous dance specialty offered at a fiesta.

Fiesta? Is it Spain? Faith, and you have me there! I think so—or Cuba, maybe—but for the life of me I could not get the name of the port where Lloyd Hughes as a dashing sailor lands to fall in love with Peggy, who is not as are the other hostesses of the ribaldly hospitable establishment where he meets her.

Peggy, you see, is a stranded actress, only biding her time till she shall, somehow, somewhere, be able to earn enough money by her singing to go back to the States.

The very mighty and very, very naughty Gen. Sangredo, who bosses those parts and, having tired of one Carlotta, desires Peggy for his own, offers her an opportunity to sing at a brilliant fiesta. The doughty sailor, Johnny Stark, immediately suspects the worst of Miss Peggy and is about to go sailing, sailing off over the bounding main and leave her cold when—happens what happens.

Bebe Daniels should have cleverer vehicles than this, for she deserves them. She does the best she can with the rôle of Peggy and sings several songs charmingly and with the poise of a veteran, but neither direction nor photography have done all for her that could have been done, and the story is really too obvious.

Lloyd Hughes is acceptable if not sensational as the sailor lover. Montagu Love excels as the bad general. Humor is furnished by the peregrinations and speeches of Ned Sparks, who is really funny as a laconic drunk. Other supporting rôles are nicely handled, scenery and costumes are pleasing, and there's enough action to keep you awake. Also on the program are some lively short subjects. "A Silly Symphony," featuring some sportive pen and ink dwarfs, is lovely!

See you tomorrow!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Threats of theater managers to close on Feb. 1 as a protest against the government's heavy amusement tax of 7.2 per cent of the gross receipts were strengthened today when the Association of Cinemas of Paris concurred in that decision.

"If they force the theatrical profession to lock its doors against the public all screens in Paris will go dark, too," the president of the cinema association declared. "We are also going to a slow death as a result of the state's unfair taxation."

The actors' union held an emergency meeting today and announced that it would stand by the directors if they decide to close on Feb. 1. The theater owners say that a cut of a third was promised them by the present minister of finance, but that word was not kept.

Biblical Tableau Today.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Teeth Fix Facial Looks, Good, Bad, So There You Are!

No doubt you think your face is your own? Yeh? Well, you're 'way off the track. Maybe it's your face all right—you've got it. But it may not be the face nature intended you to have at all. And if your map is a pretty or handsome one, that's your good fortune. If not, then—well, then that's just your hard luck.

That at any rate is what Dr. Abram Hoffman of Northwestern university will tell you as he prepares for the 66th annual meeting and clinic of the Chicago Dental society, which opens at the Stevens hotel next Monday.

Dr. Hoffman and his assistant, Miss Rosemary Denson, expect to show the convention that your face, in addition, as the old saw says, to being your fortune, is just an accident. You may have been born a beautiful baby and develop into a person with a simian mold of countenance. Or you may have been born a homely, wizened baby and end up a Venus or an Adonis. He expects to demonstrate it; it all depends on how your dental arch developed and how your teeth came out.

"Practically all normal babies have beautiful and symetrical faces," Dr. Hoffman explained as he prepared a scientific exhibit to be shown at the convention. "The majority of facial malformations are due to malformed or maldeveloped teeth.

"The great difference in ratio between the number of beautiful babies and the number of beautiful and handsome adults comes about because somewhere during the processes of growth and development of the teeth, the baby that was beautiful was forced to assume a face that nature never intended it to wear."

Dr. Hoffman added that if an early start were made the orthodontist, who specializes in straightening teeth, who might be called the dental engineer, will draw your specifications for a perfect set of teeth.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question J. E. Harbaugh, 9231 South Bishop street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

What do you think of the reduction in police and fire departments?

The Answers.

L. B. Pepperman, 4545 Greenwood avenue, buyer—The police and fire are among the most important of city departments, and there haven't been enough men in either. To make any reductions is about the worst thing likely to happen to Chicago. Possibly the aldermen are trying to squeeze more money out of the public.

Mrs. A. B. Lewis, St. Clair hotel, housewife—I consider it a very serious thing for Chicago, a move in the wrong direction. If it is necessary to curtail city expenditures, the police, fire and health departments are not those on which to make the start. After all, it may be a move to force the public to help the present city administration.

Russell Speer, 316 North Oak Park avenue, salesman—It seems to me that some of the overstuffed pay rolls should be reduced first. Politics is politics and there may be politics back of firing policemen and firemen. Whatever the cause, the city administration's days of easy financing have come to an end. In the present emergency reductions should be made in other departments than those of police and fire.

Miss Esther Adams, 2618 Eastwood avenue, stenographer—I don't believe that to pick on the police and fire departments will help things. The citizens need the protection those departments should afford. To reduce such departments is not saving, because property losses are likely to follow.

David Garrick, 303 Lombard avenue, Lombard, Ill., advertising—The city administration should try to find some other way of meeting the emergency Chicago needs all the police and fire protection it can obtain, the police especially, in view of the crime situation in that city. In view of the high taxes, the public should have that protection.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

"You may tell the people that I was known for a number of years as the 'jailbird's friend.' I know of nothing I regard as a higher compliment to my work in the ministry than that."

The Rev. Charles A. Cummings of Park Ridge thus spoke of his 50 years as a priest in the Episcopal church. The veteran clergyman celebrates his fiftieth anniversary at a special service next Sunday at the Cathedral Shelter, Washington and Peoria streets, the headquarters of his work. He acted first under Dean Walter T. Sumner and later was associated with the Rev. David Gibson.

The Rev. Father Cummings explained that his work, which took him daily to the various jails and institutions for the unfortunate in and around Chicago, came to the attention of various newspaper reporters years ago, and they gave him his favorite designation, "the jailbirds' friend."

He mentioned also that two other features of his long ministry are the sources of pride in his old age. The first of them was his founding of St. Luke's hospital, Duluth; the second, that he had only one squabble with a vestry, the lay officials of a parish.

After serving for 15 years in Duluth and other Minnesota points Father Cummings was called to Chicago. He became the pastor of St. John's church, Irving Park. Later he was for ten years the rector of Trinity church, Belvidere, Ill.

After acting as assistant at the Church of Our Savior, Fullerton parkway, Father Cummings became associated with the staff of the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul. It was during this time that his work received recognition for its effectiveness among the "jailbirds." During that period he secured more than $50,000 for the aid of unfortunates.

"Almost without exception the men behind the bars were frank and honest with me," Father Cummings said.

Father Cummings' work among the jails and other institutions was broken by rectorates at Chicago Heights and Park Ridge. He now resides in the latter place. Father Cummings' anniversary will be observed by the clergy of the Episcopal diocese Monday at St. Mary's church, Park Ridge.

"LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR."
THE CAST.

Lord Henry Ashton	Giacomo Rimini
Lucia di Lammermoor, His Sister	Marherita Salvi
Edgar of Ravenswood	Giovanni Manuritta
Lord Arthur Bucklaw	Theodore Ritch
Raymond	Virgilio Lazzari
Alice, Lucia's Confidante	Alice d'Hermanoy
Norman, Captain of the Guard	Lodovico Oliviero
Conductor, Frank St. Leger. Stage Director, Charles Moor.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

This performance, one is obliged to confess, must classify among the season's operatic lightweights, pleasant, graceful, but not altogether thrilling.

The reason, naturally, is purely a matter of voices. In this cast one discovered the voices of Mr. Rimini and Mr. Lazzari fully weighted, and with the manner and poignancy of classical opera. About them were other voices which simply did not ring out fully enough to carry their share of the score.

One can admire their agreeable quality, the certainty with which they accomplished tricky bits of execution, the charm of manner and personality of their possessors. Mr. Manuritta in the first act, Miss Salvi in the mad scene were striking examples of everything that was personally and vocally likable. But, after all, "Lucia di Lammermoor" is a work to be done in a grand manner, or as near to it as modern singers are likely to attain, and it was in the ensemble episodes that the deficiencies of sheer vocal weight became evident.

By the way, it was Mr. St. L. who kept them from becoming m. evident than they were. There w. great reason to admire his conductin. in this performance, the artful curving of phrases when accompanying a solo, the effective building of climaxes that were sonorous and yet supports of the vocal line, the continuously mellow tone that he evoked from the orchestra. It is almost enough to go safely through the "Lucia" score under any circumstances; it is considerably more to reestablish as much charm as he did.

And quite a bit was done with scenery, lights, and properties to make the work a little more human and a little less like a marionette piece than is its custom. The grouping, of course, is set. The chorus must remain in place while Lucia roulades through her Donizettian insanity and finally falls to the stage and dies in her final high note. But here the scene was furnished as though to give a reason for the choristers to be there, and they at least made a movement or two toward the end as though to assist her in her final coloratura distress.

So the pleasant memories of the performance are Miss Salvi in this scene and Mr. Manuritta in the first act, both as individuals; Mr. Rimini and Mr. Lazzari at all times as individuals and in conjunction with others, and Mr. St. Leger.

Ailsa Craig MacColl, pianist, gave a recital at Kimball hall last night which included Bach's Fifth French Suite, Glazounow's Theme and Variations, Ravel's Sonatine, and a group by Bax, Medtner, and Debussy, not forgetting a Bach chorale which was not printed but which preluded the suite. She played with a pleasant tone which was not quite crisp and distinct enough for ideal Bach.

MRS. HOOVER TOO ILL TO BE CURTIS GUEST, BUT PRESIDENT GOES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The place of Mrs. Herbert Hoover beside the President at the dinner at which the Vice President customarily entertains once yearly was given tonight to Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, ranking cabinet lady present in the capital, because the President's wife was kept at the White House by a severe cold.

Vice President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, welcomed the guests in their own suite in a hotel. Among them were senators and their wives. In flower decked rooms Mrs. Gann presided for the first time at a dinner for the President.

Later in the evening President Hoover followed a custom broken by Calvin Coolidge by attending a reception given by the Congressional club for about 500 guests.

Mr. Hoover's program provided that he leave the hotel in time to reach the Congressional club shortly after 9 p. m. There he was invited to stand at the head of the receiving line. He was the escort, at this function, of Mrs. Porter H. Dale, president of the group that included senators' and representatives' wives.

Duke to Sell Art Treasures to Pay Taxes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7. — Commoners hunting jobs and the duke of Richmond and Gordon seeking buyers for rare pictures and books so he may pay his taxes, reflect the present economic condition of the country.

Issuance of the unemployment figures in London showed that on Dec. 1, 1929, there were 1,510,202 persons listed as unemployed, 206,643 more than in the previous week, but practically the same as for Dec. 31, 1928. With more than 1,500,000 workers in the insurable group out of employment, the number of employed persons in the same group is about 10,000,000—meaning that 15 per cent of the country's workers are jobless. Liverpool reports said 2,000 fought on the docks to get jobs unloading a ship, while from Chichester came the announcement that the art collection of the duke of Richmond and Gordon, which those families have been building for 250 years, must be sold:

The duke ... to sell treasures from the libraries ... his Goodwood house, the English ... e of the family, and Gordon castle ... he Scottish seat. Duke Does His ...

LONDON, Jan. 7. ... The ...uke of Richmon and Gordon ... ed today that he had decided ... a number of pictures and books from Goodwood house, his English estate, and from Gordon castle, his seat in Scotland.

"Much as I regret having to do this, there is no other course open if I wish to continue to live at Goodwood and employ those connected with the estates," the duke said.

This news closely followed reports that the earl of Durham was about to part with Sir Thomas Lawrence's famous painting, "The Red Boy," to an American collector for approximately $1,000,000.

The sale was said to have been forced on the earl of Durham to pay the enormous death duties demanded for the estate owing to the deaths of the third and fourth earls. At the time of the third earl's death the value of the estate was estimated at about $10,000,000, of which nearly $3,500,000 was taken in death duties.

Four months later the fourth earl of Durham died, and this brought a demand for $1,250,000 in death duties by the state, so that the value of the great estate of Durham was cut almost in half within a few months.

Guelph Treasure Sold.

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The famous Guelph treasure of early hand wrought jewels and furniture which the former duke of Brunswick placed on the market some time ago has been sold to a syndicate of three local jewelry firms.

Although there had been rumors that American interests were in the market for the treasure, the purchasers were said not to be acting for a foreign account.

The city of Hanover had an option to buy the treasure for 10,000,000 marks, but the municipal council decided against the purchase.

The collection includes relics brought by Henry the Lion from the Holy Land in 1173 when he made a pilgrimage there. The duke is the husband of the former kaiser's only daughter, Victoria Louise.

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she scolds him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost one job after another he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses and tells her he is going out to Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Ames, who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying good-by in Utah John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Arrived in San Francisco John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Merriam, on the street. Pete is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial spin and with John Andrew at the wheel have a slight smashup. In order to keep Pete from losing his job John Andrew buys the custom built roadster for $4,980. He also gives all but a hundred dollars of his expense money to an old man with an invention without asking what the machine is. He drives to Los Angeles in the Mercury and sees Anne at the Consolidated studio, where she is being tried out. He makes an engagement to take her to dinner. Before starting out he looks at the old man's plans and learns they are for a noiseless camera. He sells the patent rights to Consolidated for twenty-five thousand, the money to be turned over to him on the receipt of the signature of Blake, the inventor.

In the meantime the hotel people become suspicious of John Andrew and ask him to pay his bill. He decides to pawn some belongings. Before going out he receives a telegram from the inventor's attorney saying that if he fails to send five hundred additional contract will be broken.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.
A MAN'S DREAMS.

Carey explained. "You see, Chester's got a sort of reputation, if that's the word for it, of tryin' out all the new girls; he'll lie about it tomorrow anyhow, but, hold hard, youngster, I won't let him get away with it. That's why I hung around. To see what really happened. And Armstrong, who's directin' your shots, Miss Ames, is a friend of mine; he won't let Chester pull anything . . . except," watching Kellogg narrowly, "pulling you around a bit when he gets the chance." In the same level voice he continued, "How'd you like being in the picture, Miss Ames?"

The ugly actor winked at John Andrew, lifted his hat, and strode away.

"Did all that really happen?" Anne asked, after Kellogg had slipped the Mercury into high and shot the jade green roadster ahead. "It's so silly."

"Made a fool of myself," John Andrew admitted.

"If, if you hadn't come by four —"

"You'd probably have pulled his nose yourself."

" . . . I wouldn't have known what to do," the girl said, leaning frankly against Kellogg. "I'd have been afraid of what he might have done to me with Consolidated. That is, I suppose I would."

"You didn't answer Carey's question," said John Andrew, swinging the jade green car into a broad, tree lined street, and driving more slowly. "How do you like acting here?"

Anne said, "I like it. Of course I like it." Defiantly, "What makes you think I don't? It's only that some of the things are rather stupid. Like Chester's having a makeup table on the set, mirror and all. Nobody dares sit in his chair. We rehearse and rehearse and rehearse, and usually don't know why we're doing it. And today, this afternoon, every one, Mr. Armstrong and all of the engineers, listened to the way I was talking, and argued over the playback records all the time . . ."

"Sound pictures are so new that they've got to be on the job," John Andrew informed her.

"It—it almost frightened me. As if something were going wrong——"

John Andrew found Anne's hand with his free one: "There's always me to fall back on," he suggested.

"And when the money from the camera, I want to hear all about it, when that's spent on expensive cars and things like that, what will we do? Oh, I didn't mean to say that, John Andrew, I'm tired. Love me."

"I do," John Andrew told her.

"Have you really sold it?"

"Cross my heart," said John Andrew. "You'll probably see it working before very long. Every time you don't hear it click, you can think of me."

"Every cent goes into the bank!"

Capitulation: "I've got to finish this picture, John Andrew —"

"And doing it as Mrs. Kellogg ought to keep our friend Chester at a distance"

"He'd just . . . work differently," Anne laughed. Sitting beside Kellogg, in the purring Mercury, Chester, Consolidated, seemed very far away. "I'm going to finish what I started. And you'd better finish making the payments on this car, too, with the money you get."

"All paid for, treasurer."

John Andrew, guiding the roadster away from the city, considered suggesting that he sell the Mercury [as he would do in the morning] and that they have a less expensive machine; no need to do that, however, since Anne, with this one concession, would not see him until the coming week, when everything would be settled.

"Do you think the attention they paid me this afternoon meant anything?" Anne asked, when the street lights spaced far apart.

John Andrew remembered Carey's conversation.

"Hard to tell," he said. "But, as a cheering thought, there's always me, you know. You want to make good pretty badly, little Anne?"

She nodded. "Terribly," she admitted. "I've always worked hard . . . things have not come easily —"

"I did," John Andrew said lightly. "I fell the moment I saw you."

"It's been said that just as few people make a success of marriage as in any other profession," Anne responded more gaily. "We'll do that, too. We'll be the famous happy but married couple of Hollywood —"

"Will Rogers beat you to that," John Andrew disagreed. "If you really want to do something that's never been done —"

"Yes?" as Kellogg paused.

Anne said, "Silly." And, more softly, "Sweetheart."

In a small voice the girl said at last, "I'd like to have you drive and drive ahead . . . anywhere. And, at the end of the road . . . late."

John Andrew said huskily, his arm tight about her, "A good hot dinner."

"You didn't mean that, did you?"

"No," said John Andrew gently. "No, little sweetheart. But it seemed the best thing to say."

"You always say the best thing."

"I love you," said John Andrew, as if that answered everything.

"What would you want at the end of the road?" Anne asked peacefully.

"You," said John Andrew.

"What else? Don't you ever dream about things, John Andrew?"

"Well . . . let's see. First we'd drive on north, back to San Francisco. Then we'd book passage on the T. K. K. boats. Japan. I've rather wanted to see it again. Plum blossoms in the sun. Temples. Nights with the Three Councillors blazing in the sky. A little inn. A cup of the cold purple wine they bring from China. And . . . well, like old Koto says, in a story he used to tell me, 'Then their lips separated no more; the night grew old, and they knew it not' . . . ."

"Who is Koto?" the girl asked.

"My boy," Kellogg said, in the same rapt voice. "Left him in my apartment in New York. You'll love him, Anne; he bosses me around, and he'll give you orders, too. He's uglier than the thunder god, and makes as much noise when he hisses, that's the sign of politeness, it sounds like lightning . . . what's the matter? Cold? Want me to turn back?"

"You promised, John Andrew!"

"You're making things up again. You do it so truthfully . . . ."

Anne lowered her voice. "Don't let the money you get from Consolidated turn your head. Dear boy, I love you just the same, money or no money. I've never had any, and——"

John Andrew thought it all over. "I'll say this," he announced finally. "You haven't even asked me how much I expect to make on the transaction."

Mockingly, Anne said, "Millions, John Andrew. Millions."

"How'd you guess?" Kellogg blurted in surprise. "Somebody tell you?"

"I knew you'd only sell on a royalty basis, and dream your profits, although I really hoped you'd take the actual money. I asked you before if you ever dreamed about things; you always do."

"Always, he said.

It was another mile before he spoke again. "You're a rotten guesser. We sold the Blake-Kellogg patent for twenty-five thousand. Half's mine."

"And now you want to celebrate, don't you?" Anne teased. "All right, John Andrew; tonight you may be as extravagant as you like. I'll order everything I've ever heard about for dinner . . . and you can help me . . . and then tomorrow you must make believe you never made the money at all, and go back to work. Tonight we can neglect anything . . . what do they call it in the papers? . . . a spending scion of wealth."

Good Morning!

Well, Bebe Daniels is still singing and conquering over at Woods' theater, only "When Love Comes Along" replaces "Rio Rita," in which she has been delighting Chicagoans for so long.

This piece, adapted from a Knoblock play, "Conchita," is in no way as pretentious an affair as its predecessor. The nearest thing it has to a revue number is a decorous dance specialty offered at a fiesta.

Fiesta? Is it Spain? Faith, and you have me there! I think so—or Cuba, maybe—but for the life of me I could not get the name of the port where Lloyd Hughes as a dashing sailor lands to fall in love with Peggy, who is not as are the other hostesses of the ribaldly hospitable establishment where he meets her.

Peggy, you see, is a stranded actress, only biding her time till she shall, somehow, somewhere, be able to earn enough money by her singing to go back to the States.

The very mighty and very, very naughty Gen. Sangredo, who bosses those parts and, having tired of one Carlotta, desires Peggy for his own, offers her an opportunity to sing at a brilliant fiesta. The doughty sailor, Johnny Stark, immediately suspects the worst of Miss Peggy and is about to go sailing, sailing off over the bounding main and leave her cold when—happens what happens.

Bebe Daniels should have cleverer vehicles than this, for she deserves them. She does the best she can with the rôle of Peggy and sings several songs charmingly and with the poise of a veteran, but neither direction nor photography have done all for her that could have been done, and the story is really too obvious.

Lloyd Hughes is acceptable if not sensational as the sailor lover. Montagu Love excels as the bad general. Humor is furnished by the peregrinations and speeches of Ned Sparks, who is really funny as a laconic drunk. Other supporting rôles are nicely handled, scenery and costumes are pleasing, and there's enough action to keep you awake. Also on the program are some lively short subjects. "A Silly Symphony," featuring some sportive pen and ink dwarfs, is lovely!

See you tomorrow!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Threats of theater managers to close on Feb. 1 as a protest against the government's heavy amusement tax of 7.2 per cent of the gross receipts were strengthened today when the Association of Cinemas of Paris concurred in that decision.

"If they force the theatrical profession to lock its doors against the public all screens in Paris will go dark, too," the president of the cinema association declared. "We are also going to a slow death as a result of the state's unfair taxation."

The actors' union held an emergency meeting today and announced that it would stand by the directors if they decide to close on Feb. 1. The theater owners say that a cut of a third was promised them by the present minister of finance, but that word was not kept.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Teeth Fix Facial Looks, Good, Bad, So There You Are!

No doubt you think your face is your own? Yeh? Well, you're 'way off the track. Maybe it's your face all right—you've got it. But it may not be the face nature intended you to have at all. And if your map is a pretty or handsome one, that's your good fortune. If not, then—well, then that's just your hard luck.

That at any rate is what Dr. Abram Hoffman of Northwestern university will tell you as he prepares for the 66th annual meeting and clinic of the Chicago Dental society, which opens at the Stevens hotel next Monday.

Dr. Hoffman and his assistant, Miss Rosemary Denson, expect to show the convention that your face, in addition, as the old saw says, to being your fortune, is just an accident. You may have been born a beautiful baby and develop into a person with a simian mold of countenance. Or you may have been born a homely, wizened baby and end up a Venus or an Adonis. He expects to demonstrate it; it all depends on how your dental arch developed and how your teeth came out.

"Practically all normal babies have beautiful and symetrical faces," Dr. Hoffman explained as he prepared a scientific exhibit to be shown at the convention. "The majority of facial malformations are due to malformed or maldeveloped teeth.

"The great difference in ratio between the number of beautiful babies and the number of beautiful and handsome adults comes about because somewhere during the processes of growth and development of the teeth, the baby that was beautiful was forced to assume a face that nature never intended it to wear."

Dr. Hoffman added that if an early start were made the orthodontist, who specializes in straightening teeth, who might be called the dental engineer, will draw your specifications for a perfect set of teeth.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question J. E. Harbaugh, 9231 South Bishop street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

What do you think of the reduction in police and fire departments?

The Answers.

L. B. Pepperman, 4545 Greenwood avenue, buyer—The police and fire are among the most important of city departments, and there haven't been enough men in either. To make any reductions is about the worst thing likely to happen to Chicago. Possibly the aldermen are trying to squeeze more money out of the public.

Mrs. A. B. Lewis, St. Clair hotel, housewife — I consider it a very serious thing for Chicago, a move in the wrong direction. If it is necessary to curtail city expenditures, the police, fire and health departments are not those on which to make the start. After all, it may be a move to force the public to help the present city administration.

Russell Speer, 316 North Oak Park avenue, salesman — It seems to me that some of the overstuffed pay rolls should be reduced first. Politics is politics and there may be politics back of firing policemen and firemen. Whatever the cause, the city administration's days of easy financing have come to an end. In the present emergency reductions should be made in other departments than those of police and fire.

Miss Esther Adams, 2618 Eastwood avenue, stenographer—I don't believe that to pick on the police and fire departments will help things. The citizens need the protection those departments should afford. To reduce such departments is not saving, because property losses are likely to follow.

David Garrick, 303 Lombard avenue, Lombard, Ill., advertising — The city administration should try to find some other way of meeting the emergency Chicago needs all the police and fire protection it can obtain, the police especially, in view of the crime situation in that city. In view of the high taxes, the public should have that protection.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

"You may tell the people that I was known for a number of years as the 'jailbird's friend.' I know of nothing I regard as a higher compliment to my work in the ministry than that."

The Rev. Charles A. Cummings of Park Ridge thus spoke of his 50 years as a priest in the Episcopal church. The veteran clergyman celebrates his fiftieth anniversary at a special service next Sunday at the Cathedral Shelter, Washington and Peoria streets, the headquarters of his work. He acted first under Dean Walter T. Sumner and later was associated with the Rev. David Gibson.

The Rev. Father Cummings explained that his work, which took him daily to the various jails and institutions for the unfortunate in and around Chicago, came to the attention of various newspaper reporters years ago, and they gave him his favorite designation, "the jailbirds' friend."

He mentioned also that two other features of his long ministry are the sources of pride in his old age. The first of them was his founding of St. Luke's hospital, Duluth; the second, that he had only one squabble with a vestry, the lay officials of a parish.

After serving for 15 years in Duluth and other Minnesota points Father Cummings was called to Chicago. He became the pastor of St. John's church, Irving Park. Later he was for ten years the rector of Trinity church, Belvidere, Ill.

After acting as assistant at the Church of Our Savior, Fullerton parkway, Father Cummings became associated with the staff of the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul. It was during this time that his work received recognition for its effectiveness among the "jailbirds." During that period he secured more than $50,000 for the aid of unfortunates.

"Almost without exception the men behind the bars were frank and honest with me," Father Cummings said.

Father Cummings' work among the jails and other institutions was broken by rectorates at Chicago Heights and Park Ridge. He now resides in the latter place. Father Cummings' anniversary will be observed by the clergy of the Episcopal diocese Monday at St. Mary's church, Park Ridge.

"LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR."

THE CAST.

Lord Henry Ashton ..... Giacomo Rimini
Lucia di Lammermoor, His Sister .....
..... Margherita Salvi
Edgar of Ravenswood ..... Giovanni Manurita
Lord Arthur Bucklaw ..... Theodore Ritch
Raymond ..... Virgilio Lazzari
Alice, Lucia's Confidante ..... Alice d'Hermanoy
Norman, Captain of the Guard .....
..... Lodovico Oliviero
Conductor, Frank St. Leger.
Stage Director, Charles Moor.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

This performance, one is obliged to confess, must classify among the season's operatic lightweights, pleasant, graceful, but not altogether thrilling.

The reason, naturally, is purely a matter of voices. In this cast one discovered the voices of Mr. Rimini and Mr. Lazzari fully weighted, and with the manner and poignancy of classical opera. About them were other voices which simply did not ring out fully enough to carry their share of the score.

One can admire their agreeable quality, the certainty with which they accomplished tricky bits of execution, the charm of manner and personality of their possessors. Mr. Manuritta in the first act, Miss Salvi in the mad scene were striking examples of everything that was personally and vocally likable. But, after all, "Lucia di Lammermoor" is a work to be done in a grand manner, or as near to it as modern singers are likely to attain, and it was in the ensemble episodes that the deficiencies of sheer vocal weight became evident.

By the way, it was Mr. St. Leger who kept them from becoming more evident than they were. There was great reason to admire his conducting in this performance, the artful curving of phrases when accompanying a solo, the effective building of climaxes that were sonorous and yet supports of the vocal line, the continuously mellow tone that he evoked from the orchestra. It is almost enough to go safely through the "Lucia" score under any circumstances; it is considerably more to reestablish as much charm as he did.

And quite a bit was done with scenery, lights, and properties to make the work a little more human and a little less like a marionette piece than is its custom. The grouping, of course, is set. The chorus must remain in place while Lucia roulades through her Donizettian insanity and finally falls to the stage and dies in her final high note. But here the scene was furnished as though to give a reason for the choristers to be there, and they at least made a movement or two toward the end as though to assist her in her final coloratura distress.

So the pleasant memories of the performance are Miss Salvi in this scene and Mr. Manuritta in the first act, both as individuals; Mr. Rimini and Mr. Lazzari at all times as individuals and in conjunction with others, and Mr. St. Leger.

Ailsa Craig MacColl, pianist, gave a recital at Kimball hall last night which included Bach's Fifth French Suite, Glazounow's Theme and Variations, Ravel's Sonatine, and a group by Bax, Medtner, and Debussy, not forgetting a Bach chorale which was not printed but which preluded the suite. She played with a pleasant tone which was not quite crisp and distinct enough for ideal Bach.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(AP)—The place of Mrs. Herbert Hoover beside the President at the dinner at which the Vice President customarily entertains once yearly was given tonight to Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, ranking cabinet lady present in the capital, because the President's wife was kept at the White House by a severe cold.

Vice President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, welcomed the guests in their own suite in a hotel. Among them were senators and their wives. In flower decked rooms Mrs. Gann presided for the first time at a dinner for the President.

Later in the evening President Hoover followed a custom broken by Calvin Coolidge by attending a reception given by the Congressional club for about 500 guests.

Mr. Hoover's program provided that he leave the hotel in time to reach the Congressional club shortly after 9 p. m. There he was invited to stand at the head of the receiving line. He was the escort, at this function, of Mrs. Porter H. Dale, president of the group that included senators' and representatives' wives.

Duke to Sell Art Treasures to Pay Taxes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7. — Commoners hunting jobs and the duke of Richmond and Gordon seeking buyers for rare pictures and books so he may pay his taxes, reflect the present economic condition of the country.

Issuance of the unemployment figures in London showed that on Dec. 1, 1929, there were 1,510,202 persons listed as unemployed, 206,643 more than in the previous week, but practically the same as for Dec. 31, 1928. With more than 1,500,000 workers in the insurable group out of employment, the number of employed persons in the same group is about 10,000,000—meaning that 15 per cent of the country's workers are jobless. Liverpool reports said 2,000 fought on the docks to get jobs unloading a ship, while from Chichester came the announcement that the art collection of the duke of Richmond and Gordon, which those families have been building up for 250 years, must be sold.

The duke is to sell treasures from the libraries of his Goodwood house, the English home of the family, and Gordon castle, the Scottish seat. It is not likely that the duke will sell the world famous family portraits, but he will probably dispose of paintings by Van Dyck, Rubens, Veronese, Salvator Rosa, Canaletto, Lely, Romney, Kneller, Gainsborough, Lawrence, and Raeburn. Examples of their work hang in the Goodwood house. The library contains many rare items. The Gobelin tapestry presented to the third duke by Louis XV. is among the treasures. The racing trophies which have been won by the duke were sold at auction in London last year.

The duke explained that "in consequence of the heavy succession of duties and increasing taxation which have to be met by persons situated as I am, I find that there is no other course open to me."

Duke Does His Bit.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The duke of Richmon and Gordon announced today that he had decided to sell a number of pictures and books from Goodwood house, his English estate, and from Gordon castle, his seat in Scotland.

"Much as I regret having to do this, there is no other course open if I wish to continue to live at Goodwood and employ those connected with the estates," the duke said.

This news closely followed reports that the earl of Durham was about to part with Sir Thomas Lawrence's famous painting, "The Red Boy," to an American collector for approximately $1,000,000.

The sale was said to have been forced on the earl of Durham to pay the enormous death duties demanded for the estate owing to the deaths of the third and fourth earls. At the time of the third earl's death the value of the estate was estimated at about $10,000,000, of which nearly $3,500,000 was taken in death duties.

Four months later the fourth earl of Durham died, and this brought a demand for $1,250,000 in death duties by the state, so that the value of the great estate of Durham was cut almost in half within a few months.

Guelph Treasure Sold.

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The famous Guelph treasure of early hand wrought jewels and furniture which the former duke of Brunswick placed on the market some time ago has been sold to a syndicate of three local jewelry firms.

Although there had been rumors that American interests were in the market for the treasure, the purchasers were said not to be acting for a foreign account.

The city of Hanover had an option to buy the treasure for 10,000,000 marks, but the municipal council decided against the purchase.

The collection includes relics brought by Henry the Lion from the Holy Land in 1173 when he made a pilgrimage there. The duke is the husband of the former kaiser's only daughter, Victoria Louise.

Warmer Climes Draw Several Society Groups

BY THALIA

The post-holiday displacement of our fashionable populace has set in. The exodus have been packed off to school. The departures of society folk are growing daily more numerous.

Mrs. William L. Hodgkins of 1430 Lake Shore drive and Mrs. Frank Shaw leave today for Havana, Cuba. Thence they are to sail for California, going by way of the Panama canal. Mrs. Hodgkins is president of the Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. Hixon is one of the committee chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Dick and their son and daughter-in-law, the Sheldon Dicks, also leave today for Florida. There they will board their houseboat for several months of cruising. Accompanying them on their private car to Miami will be Mrs. Charles Deering, who has been here with her son-in-law and daughter, the Chauncey McCormicks. The young Dicks are leaving their infant with Mrs. Dick's sister, Mrs. Philip B. Maher during their absence. The Potter Palmers plan to leave next week for Sarasota, Fla., and the John V. Farwells plan to go next week to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Patten already have set forth for Santa Barbara, Cal. There they intend to stay until March when they sail for Europe. Honoré Palmer will leave soon on his return to Paris. Mrs. Palmer having gone on ahead for some visits in Baltimore before they sail.

Mrs. Forsyth Sherfesee left for New York on Sunday to join Mr. Sherfesee and sail next Saturday for Africa. They plan to motor along the northern coast of Africa during the next few months. Mrs. Sherfesee's son, John Borie Ryerson, is in Pasadena to participate in the winter golf tournaments there and at other California places. Mrs. Waller Borden, having seen her younger daughter embarked on her wedding trip, will close her house soon and depart for one of her frequent visits to Europe.

Mrs. Albert R. Brunker is going soon to California for a visit with her parents, the George Snow Gaylords, in Pasadena, Cal., but not before she and Mr. Brunker give a most interesting party. They're inviting a large group of their acquaintances in to tea next Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock to view the portrait of Mrs. Brunker, recently completed by Ralph Fisher Shelton.

Chicago hostesses will be deprived of several of the most popular "extra men" for dinner parties for the next four or five months, as Dr. George Paull Marquis of 900 North Michigan, Maj. Gen. J. Milton Foreman, and Dr. Robert B. Preble embarked Monday on the round the world cruise of the U. S. Resolute sailing from New York for a 140 day trip. Other Chicagoans aboard the circumnavigating liner are Mrs. T. Edward Wilder of Lake Forest, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Emery, their daughter, Miss Anna Emery, and their son, Edward W. of 5017 Greenwood avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Dutton.

Mrs. Doris Russell Barnitz and Robert M. Curtis are to be married on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the new residence of Mrs. Barnitz's parents, the Edmund A. Russells of 1444 Astor street. They will have no attendants and no reception. Only the immediate families are to be present for the service. The bride-to-be has been working all winter to complete the decorating of the new house.

The Drama league is sponsoring a program at the Fortnightly next Sunday evening. Horace Bridges will speak on "Why Do We Go to the Theater?" Miss Helen Tieken is in charge of the program and Mrs. William E. Wright the supper arrangements.

The women's auxiliary board of the Chicago Historical society is to give a reception next Monday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock for the Illinois Society of the Colonial Dames of America. William R. Folsom will give an illustrated talk on the proposed new building of the society.

Mrs. Peter Dudley was hit by an auto last Saturday night and is at the Passavant hospital for several weeks. She was walking from the Pearson hotel, where she is staying during her Chicago visit, to the apartment of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Root of 201 East Chestnut street, when she was struck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Haines were forced to end their winter visit to Chicago even before the Twelfth Night ball, which usually climaxes their yearly stay here. Their return to New York City is necessitated by Mr. Haines' poor health. The James Ward Thornes gave an informal farewell tea for them on Sunday before their departure.

The William M. Spencers, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Edson White of 70 Scott street, have moved here with their two sons from Erie, Pa., and are now ensconced in an apartment at 1367 North State street. Mr. Spencer has become a general partner in a Chicago brokerage house. He and the former Gertrude White were married in 1924, and since then have lived in Erie, Mr. Spencer's home town.

First of Lectures on Girlish Charms Given in Evanston

Florence Schee Robnett, dean of women at Northwestern university, maintained a somewhat abstract view of the subject. But a thrilled murmur greeted the announcement that Francis Bacon, principal of the Evanston High school, will describe the charming girl from a man's viewpoint.

Dean Robnett described charm as an alert mind and a vivacious manner. She told the girls to have a sense of humor, but hastily added that this didn't mean the telling of funny stories.

"Be natural but not too natural," she said. "Be tactful and pleasing and healthy."

LONG SKIRTS BRING "DRESSIER SHOES," SO RETAILERS SAY

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Longer skirts have demanded daintier and dressier footwear for women this year, with high heels returning to popularity, shoe stylists at the national shoe retailers' convention here say. Shoes are to be more colorful than ever before.

The footwear fashion show reveals that shoes are more feminine and that the silhouette gowns require shoes of a design that avoids the more utilitarian effect created by the short skirt era. New tones of biege and green to complement the shades of spring dresses are seen, with brown, white and combinations in the background.

Shoes also are in demand to match dress accessories. Snakeskin shoes are popular, with lizard and python skins in demand in the higher grades. Black footwear will be worn in the early spring with medium shades of brown appearing later. For summer light colors will be provided.

Men's shoes are virtually the same as for the last several years, with conservative models predominating and perforated designs coming in for the collegiate youth.

Prices are about the same this year as last.

Boyd and Adam Mingle Sanity with Their Modern Art

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Chicago galleries open today two new one-man shows in their quarters at 220 North Michigan avenue. Wilbur G. Adam is one exhibitor and Byron B. Boyd the other. Both men work with a rich and diversified palette, but aside from that there is no similarity between their paintings. Mr. Adam keeps us to America; Mr. Boyd takes us far afield into the highways and byways of little known parts of Europe.

The first quality that strikes one seeing Mr. Boyd's paintings is that of a sincere feeling for color and atmosphere. His air is invariably pure; the sun is hot and direct; the outlines of figures and buildings are clean cut. Boyd is an optimistic modernist with a well directed dash of realism binding him to keep faith with his intelligence. Look at his "Nocturnal Fishermen," at "Corfu Kitchen," at "Road to Arcady," at "Dalmatian Arabesque," and at "Considerations." These are all well done in a fresh manner, neither academic nor conservative, nor yet radically modern. They are a piece of good contemporary art from a man who understands color, composition, form, and perspective and gives the best of himself in his work.

Across from these paintings the walls are hung with canvases by Wilbur Adam. Here again is a contemporary American artist standing on his own feet and painting in his own way—uninfluenced by the novelties which so beset this century. Mr. Adam has joined the increasing band of painters who are finding the grandeurs and beauties of the west and northwest paintable. He shows a number of magnificent mountain pictures. Among the most stirring are "Swiftcurrent Falls," "Baring Falls," "Old Man's Lake," "Appistoki Peak," "Rising Wolf Mountain," and "Near Twin Falls."

When he leaves the mountains and comes into lower places his brush is equally able. "The Hill Farm" is a beautiful, warm, canvas excellently painted. "Turn in the Road" is a delightful bend of green, intimate and summery. These give one an easy passage into the mood that conceived the beautiful still life, "White Peonies," and the other, "Bronze Plate," the very fine "Elevated," and the group of portraits of which "The Little Dancer" is charming and "Roselle" is both colorful and decorative.

This exhibition will continue to Jan. 25.

Heart Does Work of Trained Athlete as Part of Its Job

The human heart works just as hard keeping blood in constant circulation in the average body, as does a strong man who lifts an eight pound weight every thirty seconds of his life. That was an analogy drawn yesterday by Dr. Harrold A. Bachmann, chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago Heart association, in pointing out that the heart, the most important organ in the human mechanism, is for that reason more likely to become impaired.

Cook County's Boy Corn King Sought; Contest Is Planned

Although corn planting time in Cook county still is many weeks away, E. J. Tobin, county superintendant of schools yesterday announced he and his associates will seek the "corn prince" of the county in 1930. Tobin, said prizes would be given to boys under 18 years of age in each county township, who produced the most bushels of corn on an acre. Each township winner will get $25. The "corn prince" will get an additional $50, the next in line will get $25 and the third high grower will win $15, in addition to township awards. An extra $50 will be donated by a local seed house to the boy who shows best returns from his summer's work in the cornfield. He need not be the one with the highest yield per acre. Details of the contest, rules, and entry dates will be announced later, Mr. Tobin stated.

Trapper Finds Health Aid Deep in Ice-Bound Arctic

Tells how he gets through the Shut-In Winters Vigorous and Well

FROM the far and frozen North—from where man has to fight not only wild animals, but still more savage Arctic cold, W. S. MacPhee, trapper and prospector, writes us his secret of health.

Just as he is shut in by the ice and snow of the Northern winter, so most of us are shut in by business or household cares. We cannot get enough exercise, and often we are not able to have proper diet. How simple a thing it is then to keep ourselves buoyantly happy, full of energy, seeing the bright side of life, by taking advantage of the discovery that Nujol gently, naturally, and surely sweeps away the poisons out of our bodies—we all have them—regularly as clock work.

"Especially in the spring before the ice breaks up and the open water comes," writes Mr. MacPhee, "all us trappers are apt to be in pretty bad shape. In the summer of 1924 I first discovered Nujol. The idea of internal lubrication appealed to me. Soon I found that the irritable, nervous, no-pep feeling was gone. Nujol has certainly given me a different outlook on life."

This is only one of several thousand letters which have come to us recently from people who have learned that Nujol is the simple easy normal way to what they want most in the world—happiness!

Remember, Nujol is not a medicine; it contains no drugs; it is as odorless and tasteless as pure water; it is not absorbed by the body; it is non-fattening. It is simply harmless internal lubrication, which our bodies need as much as any machine. It is hard to believe what a difference a few cents spent on Nujol will make in your happiness, your efficiency, the way you work, and the way you look at life. The only way to prove this, however, is to start in today.

Buy a bottle of Nujol at any drug store and try it for a couple of weeks. It costs but a few cents and it makes you feel like a million dollars. Millions of people are healthy because they are using Nujol. Why shouldn't you be happy, too?

This Gal Cried for a Divorce; Then Cried for Her Ex-Husband!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Just to prove that a woman can cry for a divorce for no other reason at all than that she couldn't think of anything else to cry for, let me present the lady herself. She saw a man one day—when she was out shopping. Not shopping for a man, really. It happened because she ran into a friend, also out shopping. Both were all dressed up, as the late afternoon store dawdler is likely to be.

The friend said: "I really don't feel like buying anything today, do you?"

The lady said, "No, let's tea!" Going tea-ward, they ran into the man. I don't mean a man exactly—just one of those lovely near-he creatures, perfectly manicured, the sweet thing, and wearing the cutest tie; also, other things too darling for words.

Marcelline, the lady, who shouldn't be so disgusted, for I know an awfully sensible girl by that name, fell hard over the French pastry. I mean she fell for both of them—the beautiful so-called he, and the cream-filled concoction off the paper-frilled plate. She went home mooning.

More tea a few days later, without the chaperon, of course. And yet more tea. And tea it was, too, for she was none of your speakeasy loose luna. After an hour across from those shining pink tipped digits, by now demonstrating considerable male strength in their hand grabbings and squeezings, going home to the sight of good old Sam's sometimes dusky nail tips—well, is was hard on a lady who didn't have much else to complain of. Certainly, she couldn't say Sam didn't give her everything, from unquestioned charge accounts to leisure to enjoy them. That was Sam. He thought all you had to do to keep a woman from wanting anything was to give her everything.

It was a terrible shock to him when she suggested that there was something else he could give her, a divorce. Being Sam, he gave it to her. And he gave her a handsome settlement, as his type would.

Well, Marcelline wasn't in Bermuda a week until she was sick of the sight of those coral-tinted shells across the table. O, for a touch of Sam's sometimes grimy hand! And for Sam's indulgent Daddy attitude in all things—her chatter, her cute ways, an' everything.

Don't know how it will all turn out.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

The Dumpling Service.

Dumplings will more than double the calories in many kinds of a stew or make the most of the calories in a hot fruit compote. They can be cooked in plain water and used with gravy. With a dumpling we can build up quite a fragile dish or meal so that it amounts to real nourishment.

We fancy that one way to become quite versatile as a kitchenette cook is to know how to stretch a little chicken fricassée or other stew with dumplings; how to use the dumpling batter with a little fruit for a delicious pudding, and how to use the same batter slightly varied for pancakes or muffins. There is no denying that it is a great aid to facility to have one set of measurements which may be varied this way and that way to get different effects, with now one type of addition and now another.

The simple little batter which we have recommended for kitchenette or two person cookery is the following: One-half cup flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, a scant teaspoon baking powder, about one-fourth cup milk. This is ample for two people with right management, but the beginner who is not adept in beating a batter because of lack of experience can double these quantities and use one cup of flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two scant teaspoons baking powder and one-half cup milk.

Sift the flour, the baking powder and salt into a small bowl. Make a well in the center, or practically line the bowl with the flour so that it is another bowl; pour in the milk and then work the two together carefully and smoothly. The smoother the dough the better the dumpling will be.

To cook this batter, or near dough, dip it up in one spoon and with another cut it into pieces which are dropped into a boiling liquid, whether a fricassée or a stew liquid. By this method we can secure little balls of dough that are smooth of surface and not ragged. Cover kettle closely and do not open for fifteen minutes.

Velvet and Satin Are Smarter Than Ermine

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special.]—We are, at last, to have some relief from the reign of ermine. The smartest women here are beginning to wear something else besides ermine evening cloaks to wrap up their formal evening dresses. Velvet and satin, trimmed with fur, are quite as smart and not nearly so rubber stamp as the snowy fur from the little white weasel, and these fabrics permit the cutting of the formal coat along siren lines which are so smart for evening.

Under an ermine or other fur coat all women look much alike as to general outline, but the fitted evening wrap in cloth is something else, for it has to have something in the way of curves underneath. That is why, perhaps, that the most beautiful women in Paris seem to prefer the velvet or satin evening wrap.

The Paquin evening coat illustrated here has the lines beloved by beauty, and made smart by this master coat designer. Most of the evening wraps seen in smart places here are about the length shown, but there are also shorter coats and capes and some that actually trail in back.

This coat is made of dark wine red velvet, the millinery kind, which is smarter for cloaks than either transparent or panne velvet. It is trimmed with sable, and the fact that the fur is placed only around the bottom of the coat and in a loop at the back of the collar is significant.

Evening cloaks are beginning to look springward, and heavy fur collars and cuffs are, therefore, less in evidence. The draped velvet collar of this coat is particularly flattering, being a shawl collar in front and draping around as shown in back. The coat body is princesse fitted, and the circular sides, which begin at the hips, flare only below the actual hipline so that the beautiful curves of the figure are set in relief.

Sleeves of evening wraps follow the lines of daytime coat sleeves, and are usually flared, like the sleeves of this Paquin coat, but some of the more extravagant evening wraps in velvet and satin have really enormous sleeves, which indicate that sleeve fashions are going in this direction.

Why Not Turn Your Old Personality in for Brand New One?

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We've been hearing considerable lately about success following on the heels of a complete change of personality. There are several screen stars whose successful "comeback" is ascribed to a clever making over of themselves. Bessie Love is one who is heralded as an example of what can be done to create something new out of a five foot one or two little self. Mary Pickford, after years of being long curled Mary, took to the bob in an attempt to destroy an old illusion by supplying a new one. Gloria Swanson's always interesting personality is due in no small measure to her ability to offer a new and different Gloria every so often.

Well, there are those of us in private life whose virtuous looking coiffures may stale, too; whose painfully correct little manners may cloy after a bit; whose sturdy little souls aren't getting the appreciation thought due them and whose dress is just a bit too monotonous to interest.

How about borrowing a circus hoop and training the nice little seal to a few new tricks? Apropos, a woman of not tender years became suffused with the idea of changing her personality. She confided the secret to her hairdresser a bit fearfully, suggesting that perhaps a riot of curls in place of the severe middle part in her coiff might be a first contribution. The hairdresser, not being of the stuff of which flatterers are made, sighed: "Not at your age, madam!"

"What, then, for my age, for the luv o' Mike?" said the lady.

"Not enough," said the lady, under her breath, "I shall go elsewhere next time."

Of course, the matter of age has to be reckoned with in making oneself over. One had better not attempt the too-skittish all at once.

Mother's Letter Offers Several Helpful Ideas

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: My two older children belong, one to the Boy and one to the Girl Scouts, and the younger boy—11 years—belongs to a drum and bugle corps. I think these organizations are wonderful. The children learn how to act with others, and I think it helps them in choosing their pals.

"On Friday nights they each can invite some friend over, play games, sing or whatever else they want to [in reason, of course] and sometimes we have fudge and apples, or cocoa with cookies and crackers—just simple things, but they surely enjoy it.

"And, you know, more than one playmate, they thought was so wonderful has been dropped because when he or she came to the house he or she was rude and unmannerly, or something. Really, these Friday nights have done more in the choosing of steady playmates than anything I could ever have said or done about it.

"I allow them to go to the movies once a week, as a general rule, unless something extra good comes along. As they usually get programs from the neighborhood theater they can plan ahead which show they want to see. Scout meeting takes up one night and then their Fridays, so that means three fun nights a week, at least. Other nights they are in bed by 8:30. All like to read and are interested in their school work, so I think things are running pretty smoothly. Can you give me any further suggestions?"

Naturally, I have no further suggestions, other than those contained in the booklets that were asked for.

To me the most interesting single point in this letter was the result of the children's informal parties—how materially, and entirely indirectly, they helped the children choose their companions. Home atmosphere is a fine crucible in which to test young human nature.

PURCHASE A USED STUDEBAKER

It's a better buy than a cheap new car at the same price.

We have many Studebakers in our stock that are slightly used, selling at ridiculously low prices. Many of them have been thoroughly reconditioned by expert mechanics and carry a 30 day free service guarantee. All of the cars have been carefully inspected and are backed by the famous Studebaker Used Car Pledge that allows 5 days' free driving trial. YOU MUST BE SATISFIED WHEN YOU BUY FROM THIS CONCERN OR WE DO NOT CONSIDER IT A SUCCESSFUL SALE.

STUDEBAKER COUPE. Spec. Six, 4 pass., Attractive original finish. Mohair upholstery and many extras. $195.

STUDEBAKER BIG 6, 5 pass. Club coupe with practically new tires. Extras are snubbers, driving light, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Will not remain long at $295.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. Spec. 6 that was only used to drive the children of a wealthy family to and from school each morning and afternoon. Now the motor is as smooth, finish sparkles like a new dollar, and the tires appear absolutely unused. Equipped with snubbers, bumpers, extra spare tire, and other extras. Will be sold at once for $350.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER. One of the very latest Pres. 8 models. We defy any body to tell this from a brand new car. It has an unusually smart brown paint job, wire wheels, driving light, shock absorbers, and other extras. Roomy rumble seat. The motor carries a 30 day free service guarantee. This roadster is a beauty and it's a real bargain at $985.

STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT. 1929 Str. 8 President Sedan. The head of a prom. chain of stores owned this car, and his chauffeur kept it in wonderful condition at all times. The finish is a beautiful color with expensive upholstery to match. Motor is backed by a 30 day free service guarantee. $1,085.

STUDEBAKER DICTATOR 1927, 4 pass. Victoria. It was stored away for the last 9 mos. while the owner was in Europe. The most exacting inspection you could make of this car would reveal nothing that the handsome finish and the distinctive upholstery both appear new. The tires do not appear worn and the equipment includes a whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $475.

STUDEBAKER COMMANDER. Late 5 pass. Sedan that's noted for its wonderful Big Six performance. This car is in exceptionally good condition throughout. The finish, upholstery and tires are practically 100%, and the equipment includes 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $650.
